BULLETIN.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—While New York was feeling today the spent strength of the high winds and bursts of rain of the hurricane that has lashed its destructive path northward from the West Indies, reports of a mounting toll of dead and homeless in Florida and the islands to the southeast came out of the stricken areas. The total casualty list makes the hurricane one of the major disasters of recent years, for conservative estimates place the dead at upwards of 1,300.

In Florida the known dead stood at 400, 15,000 were homeless and 8,000 were in dire need of food and cloth-

Guadeloupe islands, a French dependency, reported the total dead to date at 660.

In Porto Rico, latest report places the dead at above 300. Relief workers have made frantic efforts to send out as quickly as possible the much needed medical supplies and food to the various stricken towns on the island.

Rockefeller Gives $25,000.

All the American Red Cross machinery was working at top speed to rush the necessary supplies of food, clothing and other comforts to the stricken districts in Florida.

The New York chapter announced contributions amounting to $127,000, one of $25,000 by John D. Rockefeller Jr., topping the list.

The hurricane gave New York, New Jersey, and the eastern seaboard a sample of its violence today.

Many seaside communities were forced from their homes by the advancing water during the day. Others faced the probability of a forced flight before morning.

Light Ship Blown away.

The Brooklyn navy yard tonight reported that the light vessel stationed at Winter Quarter was drifting four miles from its proper location. The fleet of small boats at Coney Island was scattered and many of them lost in the gale. Among these The Tilly, owned by William F. Hagedorn, a craft worth $10,000, and the Flamingo, equally valuable, were on the rocks. On the Long Island side, 50 craft were missing or in distress, it was estimated.

A man was blown through a store window in downtown Manhattan, a horse and wagon were carried by the wind off the end of a pier in Brooklyn, and firemen staged a dramatic struggle thirty-seven stories above Broadway to keep a heavy wooden scaffolding from being torn from the Transportation building at Barclay street and hurled upon the heads of passersby.

Hundreds of telephones in downtown Manhattan were thrown out of commission when the rain flooded telephone company manholes.

Florida Victims Emerge.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Disorganized evacuation of the inundated Lake Okeechobee area got under way tonight. Hundreds of refugees reached Miami, many of them hysterical over the drowning of members of their families and all of them suffering from exposure and hunger. Two refugee camps have been established. Eyewitness stories told by the first to reach this city bore out the estimate of Howard Selby, chairman of the Beach county Red Cross organization, that 200 bodies already had been recovered in the Lake Okeechobee region and that the death list probably will reach 400. Many of those who arrived here tonight had to be forcibly loaded aboard trains from the side of ditches being dug for graves of their dead relatives. Water feet deep at some points flooded the lake area after the lake dikes gave

Riot Is No Fair in Love or Oak Park, It Seems

All is not fair in love as in war, Police Magistrate James Feron of Oak Park ruled yesterday in the dénouement of a melodrama of real life. It was the day that Pearl A. Campbell, 19 years old, was to have been married to Roy J. Fox, 25. Instead—but let's start the story at the beginning and lead up to the "knockout drops," attempted kidnaping, rescue, riot, and arrests in the proper sequence.

The first act is laid in Minneapolis, Minn. The time—spring of 1928. Miss Campbell, daughter of Charles Campbell, a wholesale grocer, is being courted by a neighbor's son, Roy J. Fox, an employé in the office of the Minneapolis mayor. The wedding is set for Sept. 19.

Here the Plot Thickens.

The scene shifts to Chicago. The time—July of 1928. Miss Campbell arrives in Chicago to visit friends and purchase her trousseau. She meets William D. McLean, 4121 Sheridan road, a young bond salesman. They become infatuated, and she writes to Fox that their engagement is broken.

And now comes the climactic third act. Scene—the Oak Park Manor hotel. Time—last Friday night. Fox has arrived in Chicago. With him is Miss Lucy Wright of Minneapolis, a friend of Miss Campbell and of himself. Miss Wright engages a room at the hotel, where Miss Campbell is stopping.

Fox and his ally try to persuade Miss Campbell to return to Minneapolis with them. She refuses. Fox serves a drink and, according to evidence presented in court later, Miss Campbell is given a heavy dose of a sleeping powder.

Rival Suitors Do Battle.

Miss Wright and Fox assist her down an elevator, explaining that she is ill. An automobile, its fuel tank filled for a long trip, is parked at the curb.

Enter William D. McLean, calling to pursue his courtship, unaware that his rival is in the city. A battle ensues. A crowd gathers on the peaceful corner marked by the First Methodist and Christian Science churches and the Oak Park club.

Miss Campbell, already in a daze, is dropped to the sidewalk with a jolt. McLean and Fox batter each other and rend each other's clothes. Miss Wright screams. Some witnesses join the mêlée while others summon the police.

Miss Wright, Fox and McLean are arrested and Miss Campbell is carried to West Suburban hospital.

And then in court three defendants appear on charges of disorderly conduct:

McLEAN—Not guilty, your honor. I was saving her from a kidnaping. Miss Campbell is my fiancée.

FOX—It's true that I tried to carry her away, judge, but I did it because I love her. I would have bound her to my car and gagged her if necessary to save her from this fellow, who is a married man.

Girl's on Her Way Home.

ATTORNEY FRANK E. CANTWELL [representing Miss Campbell]—My client just got out of the hospital this morning, but her mother is here. I'm authorized to say that Miss Campbell is going back to Minneapolis peacefully and it will be up to Mr. Fox and her whether they see any more of each other. As for Mr. McLean, he has informed me that he will not call on her until he obtains a divorce. He was married in 1924 to Anita Davis, a moving picture actress, but lived with her only two days.

JUDGE FERON—I am sorry for you young men if you are so desperately in love. But love is no excuse for disturbing the peace. The three defendants are fined $100 each.

P. S.—The Minneapolis visitors were on their way home last night.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Sept. 19.—For attempting to smuggle 500 kegs of Canadian rye whisky, concealed in herring barrels, into New York last July the shipper, Eric Chafe, was sentenced here today by Judge Morris to pay a fine of $6,400 or, in default, one year's imprisonment.

Patron Slain. 2 Policemen Shot at Cafe

Two policemen were seriously wounded and a patron was shot and instantly killed at 4:30 o'clock this morning in a revolver battle in the Turkish Village, a cabaret at 606 North Clark street. The dead man was John Pecora, and the wounded policemen, both of whom are in the Henrotin hospital with three bullet wounds each, are John Fogarty and Allen Carroll, members of the detective bureau squad of Sergt. Albert Ruff.

According to first accounts of the battle, Pecora and his wife, with Miss Rose Londo, 2140 West Jackson boulevard, and another man had become boisterous during a party and the proprietor of the cabaret, George Mason, summoned the police.

Two Men Are Arrested.

When Policemen Fogarty and Carroll arrived they followed Pecora and the other man, who escaped during the shooting, into a wash room and disarmed them. As they were taking them to the front door, Pecora whipped out a gun from a secret hiding place and opened fire, which the policemen returned. Pecora fell fatally wounded and the two policemen crumpled to the floor.

Lieut. Richard Barry of the detective bureau and his squad arrived a few minutes later and arrested fifteen men and women cowering under tables and behind doors. No witnesses could be found to give an accurate account of the shooting, as it took place in a hallway off the main room of the cabaret.

Both Policemen May Die.

At the hospital it was said that Policemen Fogarty and Carroll had only a fighting chance for recovery.

The girl with Pecora at first said the name of the dead man was John Wilton, but later at the Chicago avenue police station refused to tell her own name and denied she was the wife of Pecora.

FORMER ZIONISTS ASK $30,000 FOR ACCIDENT HURTS

Theodore R. Becker, former Zion police chief, and Miss Virginia Umberger, who was banished from Zion two years ago by Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva, started civil and criminal action in Waukegan yesterday, against Louis Moeller and Herman Tatge of Des Plaines, as the result of injuries incurred by the couple in an automobile accident on July 17. The defendants are accused of reckless driving and are sued for $30,000 damages.

Miss Umberger formerly served as Becker's secretary. She was ousted from the church and ordered to leave Zion along with Clarence Shreffler, another employé of the Voliva establishments, because of an alleged affair between the two. Becker defended Miss Umber and shortly after her dismissal he resigned.

RULING IS BLOW TO N. WEST SIDE TRANSIT HOPES

Plans Are Made for Appeal to Court.

The Illinois commerce commission, meeting at Springfield yesterday, decided that the Chicago Surface Lines cannot legally operate feeder lines. A formal order denying all pending feeder bus petitions will be entered within a short time, it was indicated.

By a "practically unanimous" agreement, Chairman Patrick H. Moynihan announced, members of the commission held that the law does not permit use of the street car companies' equipment fund for bus purposes. Further, he said, "the commission feels that to permit the operation of busses at this time would be a wanton waste of money, since the council now is engaged in trying to work out a solution of the entire transit problem."

Blow to Northwest Side.

The decision comes as a blow to the hopes of citizens and improvement clubs, especially on the northwest side, who for five years have waged a fight for the feeder busses with a 7 cent fare and transfers to the street cars, rather than Chicago Motor Coach lines with a 10 cent fare.

Chairman Moynihan, in announcing the decision, said that if the street car service is to be improved it must be done by the extension of tracks and installation of more cars. This was interpreted as an indication that the commission will soon issue permits to the Motor Coach company to furnish the service. The latter company has pending petitions asking for routes in the territory involved.

"For six weeks," said Mr. Moynihand, "the members of the commission have been considering this matter. They have gone into it from every angle and are agreed that there should be no order permitting the proposed bus service."

Bills Vetoed by Mayor.

The commission's action follows closely that of Mayor Thompson, who last Wednesday vetoed ordinances authorizing the feeder busses. By a single vote the council failed to override the veto and at a special meeting since its transportation committee voted to send them back to the council in another effort to go over the mayor's head. Immediate action was delayed by the illness of Ald. Thomas J. Bowler [41st], sponsor of the move, but indications were that the ordinances would be passed at the next council meeting on Sept. 27.

Attorneys on both sides last night were agreed that the commerce commission decree will supersede that of the city and can be overruled only in the courts. The public utilities act clearly bestows authority in the matter upon the commission, they said.

No Surprise to Ettelson.

"The decision is not a surprise to me," commented Corporation Counsel Ettelson, who advised the mayor's veto. "Apparently, the commission has upheld in every respect the view of Mayor Thompson and myself that the feeder busses are illegal. This also was the view of former Corporation Counsel Busch, whose opinion I have repeatedly cited."

On the other side, proponents of the bus lines challenged the whole procedure and announced their intention of continuing the battle. Ald. Bowler, by telephone from his room at the University hospital, said he "has only begun to fight."

"We'll carry this thing into the courts at once and have it out there," he asserted. "Judge Hebel held that feeder busses could be run in an emergency. This is an emergency. Twenty-five thousand people on the northwest side are stranded without transportation. And they don't intend to pay 10 cents to ride, all the official bodies in Illinois notwithstanding. We will put the ordinances through the council and lick the mayor and then we'll lick the commerce commission in the courts."

Verifies Plan for Appeal.

O. W. Holmes, president of the Northwest Federation of Improvement Clubs, petitioner in the case, verified Ald. Bowler's statement that an appeal will be made to the courts.

"We fully expected the commission to act as it has," Mr. Holmes said. "The fact is that the sooner it enters its formal order the better. Hereto-

Lake Airport Bill O.K.'d by South Parks

With four minor qualifications designed to protect the interests of the south park system, the revised lake front airport ordinance was approved by the park commissioners at their regular meeting yesterday. It will now go to the city council for final passage.

The Illinois Central railroad and the war department, the other two parties to the ordinance, have given their assent, so it appeared yesterday that, save for matters of routine consideration, the proposition of a centrally located airport for Chicago was ready for submission to the voters in the form of a $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 bond issue at the November election.

Roy N. Lesch, assistant corporation counsel in charge of the airport matter for the city, stated last night that the ordinance would be prepared for presentation to the council next Wednesday. It will then go to a committee for recommendation and probably will be returned to the council for final action on the following Wednesday.

Board Makes Amendments.

By the amendments to the ordinance, which were recommended by Supt. George T. Donoghue and introduced by Commissioner Michael Igoe, the park board retains the right to route all traffic to and from the airport and to regulate the construction of all buildings to be erected, in order that the structures will harmonize with the general architecture and landscaping features of the park system. The commissioners also reserved the right to supervise all plans for bridges and approaches to the island.

The last amendment asked that the island airport be built farther east into the lake, for the purpose of widening the island, to be used by the world's fair in 1933. The expense of the widening, according to this clause, is to be borne by the city. An additional strip of land 600 feet wide is suggested by the commissioners.

The ordinance as submitted by the city calls for construction of an island of 1,000 acres of made land between 16th and 31st streets.

Bond Issue Suit Halts Work.

Aside from the widening of Loomis street all matters of park improvement were suspended indefinitely by the commissioners pending the outcome of court litigation over the fifteen million dollar bond issue passed on June 6.

"Our hands are tied," President Edward J. Kelly declared at the close of the meeting.. "All lake front and park development vital to the city's progress is blocked and most of our men are laid off because of this action brought to satisfy a few individuals who have an ax to grind."

The petitioners who have asked for a recount of the ballots of the bond issue election have not disclosed their identity. The matter is now in the state Supreme court and a final decision may not be reached until late next spring. Until then, Mr. Kelly stated, practically all park work is at a standstill.

Lists Projects Tied Up.

The following projects are held up by the action, he said: All filling between 23d and 57th streets necessary for the construction of islands to be used as the site for the world's fair; all sewer, water and electrical improvements within these limits; completion of the outer drive from Oakwood boulevard to 51st street; development of small playgrounds and parks including especially Avalon, Madden, Foster, Hamilton, Russell Square, Grand Crossing, Hardin Square, Ogden and Palmer parks; development of 140,000 square feet of space to be used for convention halls at Soldiers' field.

VAN LOON LIVING IN HOLLAND WITH SECOND WIFE, LETTER STATES

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—In a small house, dated 1572 on the front door, twenty feet from the harbor at Veere, Holland, Hendrik Willem Van Loon, historian and exponent of the "independent" marriage, is living with his second wife, Miss Helen Criswell, it was learned today from a letter recently received by a friend.

The author of "The Story of Mankind," "Tolerance," and other books, sailed for Genoa, Feb. 4, on the President Harding. Miss Frances Goodrich, actress, his third wife, who appeared last season in "Excess Baggage," explained at the time he had left to visit his younger son, William Jr., attending school in Switzerland, and to write three books. She had denied his departure meant a dissolution of the marriage relationship agreed upon following their wedding in Elizabeth, N. J., Oct. 10, 1927.

The ancient Dutch dwelling was bought by Mr. Van Loon and Miss Criswell, who formerly conducted "The Mad Hatter," a Greenwich Village tea room, where she was known as Jimmie, and who obtained a divorce from her husband in Paris in 1927.

RAIDERS MAKE MIDNIGHT HUNT FOR MAFIA FARM

Death to Be Asked for Abductors.

BULLETIN.

After hours of search the police squad, scouring the Fox river valley, near Dundee, for the "kidnap farm" on which Billy Ranieri was held prisoner, at 5 o'clock this morning abandoned the hunt until daylight. The Ranieri boy and his father returned to Chicago in a police car, but Chief of Police Passarelli of Melrose Park and two detectives remained in Algonquin to continue canvassing the neighborhood this morning.

Lieut. Paul Riccio and a squad of police, accompanied by 10 year old Billy Ranieri and his father, A. Frank Ranieri, were searching the Fox river valley near Dundee and Carpentersville in Kane county early this morning for the "kidnap farm" where Mafia extortionists held the child thirteen days for ransom.

Returned to his parents yesterday, the boy identified two prisoners as men connected with the kidnaping plot. In subsequent court proceedings assistant state's attorneys indicated they would demand the death penalty for the abductors, as provided by the state law.

Lieut. Riccio received a message late last night which sent him and the squad to Dundee, on the Fox river, forty miles from Chicago. They found the district of a character resembling the description Billy gave of his abductors' lair. Accompanying Riccio were Sergts. William Balzano, Joseph Lloyd, and Michael Carrissi of the Chicago police and Chief of Police Rocco Passarelli and Sergt. Boni of Melrose Park.

Boy Describes Captors' Lair.

The Ranieri boy had described the place minutely but had been unable to find it during the afternoon when he was driven over many country roads. He said the people at the house claimed to be French but they spoke Italian. He gave the name of the family as Spaler, saying the man was stout, about 230 pounds in weight. Billy guessed the woman's age to be 45 and he said there were four children.

"The farmhouse is right back of a three story building that has big cement blocks and looks like a hotel and is on a cement road," the boy told the policemen. "It is close to a railroad because I could hear the trains go by and when they whistled it was very loud. There is a telephone in the house and it rang often.

He'd Remember It, He Says.

"The family has a white donkey, a cow, a pony, and two dogs. Sure, I would remember it if I saw it again."

With that data the help of all county police was requested within a radius of 100 miles of Lockport, where the boy was released by his captors.

All day the police had expressed confidence that at any minute some one who read of the kidnaping would recall the farmhouse, either through the name of its occupants or the boy's description.

Riccio Starts for Dundee.

Then, while Lieut. Riccio was at Melrose Park, he received the call that started him on his midnight drive to Dundee on what he considered a "sure tip."

In the afternoon Lieut. Riccio had some pictures for the kidnaping victim to view. Billy picked out that of Giulio Salusstro, known as Julio the Roman, who has been sought for two months for a stabbing. He resided with the family of M. Sandy at 1107 South Ashland avenue, over the home of Judge George A. Curran.

Picks Out Auto's Driver.

Then he selected another picture, that of Guido Salusstro, nephew of Giulio, who, the boy said, had been the driver of the car in which he was whisked away from St. Genevieve's school, Lamon avenue and Montana street. This car had lights on the fenders.

A search was under way for a physician and a lawyer, named as participants in the crime. They had made overtures to the father for the surrender of the boy, asking $30,000 instead of the $60,000 first demanded in telephone conversations.

The court action in the afternoon brought the statement from prosecutors that the death penalty would be asked for all the men brought to trial, including Salvatore Mastroianni and Renaldo Scaldeo, who admitted being negotiators and who are awaiting a hearing in the municipal court.

The scene in Judge Frank Comerford's court was dramatic as the habeas corpus action in behalf of An-

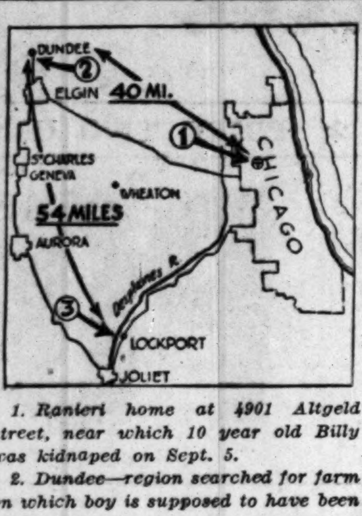
Trace Kidnapers



1. Ranieri home at 4901 Altgeld street, near which 10 year old Billy was kidnaped on Sept. 5.

2. Dundee—region searched for farm on which boy is supposed to have been held.

3. Lockport, 54 miles from Dundee, where young Ranieri was set free by his captors on Tuesday night.

gelo Petitti, alleged leader of the kidnaping gang, was called for hearing at 2 o'clock and the announcement was made by Assistant State's Attorney Q. J. Chott that the kidnaped child was home safe and sound "because of the courageous act of this court in holding this man Petitti as a hostage."

Billy was not in the courtroom. Nor was his father.

The child had found loving arms waiting when he was taken to his home early yesterday after he had been released by the kidnapers. Billy was examined by a physician and then was put to bed. In the afternoon he awoke ready to do his part in aiding justice. So was the father, who is of Italian birth, but is now ready to have his American citizenship tested.

Judge Comerford said he wanted not only the boy but the mother and father in his court this afternoon. He explained he intends to give them a talk on their duty in prosecuting the kidnapers. For this reason Judge Comerford retained jurisdiction of the inquiry, announcing that he will sit as an examining magistrate.

"The mother and father owe us something," the judge said. "They owe something to the law. If they will help us we will make this kidnaping too dangerous a business and prevent some other mother's child from a like fate."

When the case was called Petitti, a prisoner since last Friday night and unshaved for several days, stood up and all eyes were turned on him. But in a second Assistant State's Attorney Chott was talking.

Prosecutor Praises Court.

"It was by a sane and courageous application of the law in this extraordinary case that a beast was made to release its prey," he began. "The law could never have been vindicated while such a monster was at large, and it would haunt us till brought to bay and destroyed.

"I am happy to announce to your honor that since we were here yesterday the missing boy has been found." There were tears in many eyes as he paused.

"But the mere release of the prey should not cause us to cease to hunt the beast," the prosecutor went on. "Here in America we are proud to say we have millions for defense but not one cent for tribute. The matter before the bar was well begun and partly finished but is not concluded."

Prosecutor Praises Judge.

Assistant State's Attorney Samuel A. Hoffman spoke of the sleepless nights of the parents, the police and the assistant state's attorneys assigned to the hunt for the kidnaped boy. Then he turned to the judge.

"Your brave action," he said, "in keeping the relator (Petitti) as a hostage was a message to those who had the boy, and this man (pointing at Petitti) came to the conclusion his own liberty was at stake and he became panic stricken.

"Here we have a judge who has courage and is willing to assist the state's attorney and the police. As a result the kidnaped boy was freed at 10 o'clock last night. The credit is to your account, your honor."

Assistant State's Attorney Charles J. Mueller then added his thanks to the court, and the attorneys for Petitti, Philip Sonnenschein and Bernard McDonnell, informed the court they were happy at the boy's return, and sorry for Petitti who, they said, had been put in a poor light by Judge Comerford. "But I congratulate the court for having the courage to go beyond your jurisdiction," said Sonnenschein.

Judge Makes Announcement.

Judge Comerford spoke for the first time: "I will issue a bench warrant for the relator and I'll keep to myself jurisdiction as to whether the offense is bailable (this because of the death penalty possibility), and tomorrow I will sit as an examining magistrate."

He turned to Capt. James E. Doherty of the Cragin station.

"I want to take this opportunity to commend Capt. Doherty for his intelligence and his efficiency and his finesse in handling this matter," he said, "and I commend Prosecutor Chott and the others.

"When this court said it would hold the relator as a hostage this court meant it. This court would have continued to hold him as long as was necessary. If the court erred the court erred wilfully and willingly on the side of humanity and in the interest of returning the boy to his fireside.

"If Capt. Doherty had made any mistakes the boy might have been killed. But he didn't and it is an odd coincidence that when Petitti was so held that the boy returned."

Defense counsel interjected a plea that Petitti be presumed innocent until proved guilty, which moved Judge Comerford to say:

"The facts here furnish the presumption. Lawyers have peddled the idle phrase that a man is presumed to be innocent until proved guilty. That applies only when the case is before a jury and not here.

"Captain, I want you to do everything possible to apprehend all those responsible for this crime and the court will insist that the police bring the father and mother here. The law has restored them not only their boy but a normal state of mind to the mother and peace and quietness to the father. We will give them all the protection that is necessary. There will be no economy of efforts.

"There is no danger now, as there was, that any missteps would meet with reprisals and the murder of the boy. The police and state's attorneys have performed a splendid job and it must be carried to the proper conclusion. This group of extortionists must be uprooted and evidence gathered against them if it takes any great number of policemen, and if this court can use its power, there will be enough assigned to it.

"The family fireside must be freed for all time from the blackmailer and the kidnaper."

LOMBARDO LEFT $10,000 ESTATE, COURT IS TOLD

Antonio Lombardo, Sicilian gang leader who was shot and killed in the loop on Sept. 7, left an estate of $10,000, according to an official estimate on a petition for letters of administration filed in the Probate court yesterday. This $10,000 does not include property held in his wife's name.

Lombardo, an associate of Al Capone, did not leave a will. His heirs are his widow, Mrs. Camille Lombardo, 2111 South Austin boulevard, and their two children, Salvatore, 7 years old, and Rose, 4.

With the filing of the petition, Mrs. Lombardo took the witness stand before Edward S. Scheffler, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. She was dressed in heavy mourning and sobbed as she replied to the formal questions.

PROMISE FIFTY MORE ARRESTS IN KENOSHA STRIKE

Kenosha, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Another fifty striking knitters may be named in United States warrants charging them with contempt of the federal injunction against picketing, following a demonstration at the Allen A knitting mills gates here today. Company attorneys were considering such action, they said. Nine persons, including two women, were arrested by police on charges of disorderly conduct.

There are now twenty-seven defendants awaiting a hearing before Federal Judge F. A. Geiger in Milwaukee Saturday morning to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt of court.

Charles Vareck and Tom Sikora, both strikers, were arrested today on charges of attacking a taxicab carrying Allen A employés.

CRIMES OF MAFIA LONG A TERROR AT NEW ORLEANS

Police Chief Slain Trying to End Lawlessness.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The Mafia reign of terror and Black Hand death in New Orleans a generation ago, the assassination of a police chief and the historic lynching of eleven Mafiosi at the Parish prison, resurges back into public eye by virtue of the Mafia developments in Chicago, the Ranieri kidnaping and the murder of Antonio Lombardo.

Soon after the civil war the Mafia, one of the secret societies which had long been a curse of Italy and Sicily, took root here and in the course of a few years developed a terrible power. Extortion was its food and murder was its weapon.

Originally, the Mafia is supposed to have started in Sicily as a patriotic society, but it degenerated into a band of cut-throats, who killed people to settle private grudges and became an association of the lowest kind whose leaders lived in luxury by levying tribute on workingmen, and through whom it was possible for a man to get a personal enemy removed.

Fled from Italy.

Some of the members fled to America when the Italian police sometimes broke up a gang of banditti. They banded together in cities like New Orleans, New York, and Chicago. And in New Orleans they especially flourished. Here the sawed-off shotgun first came into vogue as a means of assassination. Nearly forty years ago a chief of police, D. F. Gaster, listed ninety-four murders and affrays committed by Sicilians and Italians between the years 1866 and 1891, in New Orleans.

The fruit trade and immigrant labor was its great field of exploitation. Laborers coming from Italy and Sicily were held in peonage by padrones. The Mafia's hand grew larger. Its intimidation ramified into the courts and jury boxes; the sawed-off shotgun roared out death, and the murderers escaped, even as now, when bootleg and alky money has put crime on an organized and financial basis undreamed of a few years ago.

Kidnaping was a favorite method of extortion in New Orleans, and the city was the seat of a fraternity of assassins recruited from the Garzoni di Mala Vitan, or the "Lads of Bad Life," and officered by experienced bandits, mainly from Palermo.

Police Chief Assassinated.

Chief of Police David C. Hennessey was assassinated by the Mafia Oct. 15, 1890, as he was approaching his home late at night. As he drew near his threshold, a boy ran by and whistled. At once from an old shack near Girod and Basin streets a fusillade roared out. Hennessey was hit six times and as he crawled towards the corner, one of the assassins ran down the lighted thoroughfare, pouring in slugs as he ran.

The chief died next day. The site of the killing was a thickly populated street, but almost deserted at that time of night, but several persons who ran up attracted by the firing, were able to identify the assailants.

Hennessey's death had been decreed by the Mafia. Some nine years before, in 1881, Hennessey had arrested, near the statue of Andy Jackson, a notorious Italian bandit by the name of Giuseppe Esposito, a peasant from Palermo, with a bloodthirsty nature. He had been a mountain brigand chief. The Italian police having broken up his gang of banditti, Esposito had fled to America, where he set up as an oyster man in New Orleans. He took the name of Raddozo, and he owned a lugger which he named Leone, that being the name of one of his bandit friends in Palermo.

Had Deported Bandit Leader.

Esposito, alias Raddozo, had set up a branch of the Mafia in New Orleans of which he was supreme boss. When he was arrested, the society offered bribes of $30,000 and of $50,000 to Chief Hennessey, who rejected them and after some difficulties and attempts in jail deliveries, took Esposito to New York, where he was extradited and sent to Italy, where he was punished.

A few years later, Hennessey, a man of iron courage, became chief of police and in 1889 started a campaign to rid the town of its Black Handers, which had given the city notoriety all over the land. There was much warfare between rival Italian organizations, especially among some of the fruit dealing houses, and rival gangs were shooting each other up and making Canal street a field of carnage.

After one especially bad shooting affray, known as the Caruso-Provenzano case, the chief sent for the leaders and told them to stop. He said he was going out to smash the Mafia and bring its depredations to an end. The warfare continued, and during trial of one case, Chief Hennessey said he intended to expose the operations of the societies.

Killed Fighting Blackmail.

For that his life was declared forfeited by the Mafia, and after his assassination it was brought out that Chief Hennessey was killed because of two things—first, his capture of Esposito, and, second, because he opposed the blackmailing schemes of the Marrangos, a gang of Camorrists and Mafiosi who were terrorizing the Italian fruit dealers.

The day Hennessey died a special meeting of the city council was called. Mayor Shakespeare disclosed he had received threats of death. The police soon rounded up the assassins. Four sawed-off shotguns had been left in the gutter after the police chief fell, and these helped trace the murderers.

On March 1, 1891, the trial began. Eleven were charged with murder others were in custody as accomplices and accessories. Scaffidi, Marchesi, Politez and Monasterio were pointed out as the men who actually perpetrated the murder.

Seek to Intimidate Court.

The court room was crowded with notorious characters, gangland put the pressure of menacing looks and threatening gestures upon the jurors behind the bailiff's back. A grand jury later reported that grounds existed for suspicion that the "most subtle, dangerous and powerful influence" known in the practice of criminal law here was being exercised in behalf of the defense.

After two weeks' trial the jury disagreed in the cases of Scaffidi, Politez and Monasterio and acquitted the other six defendants. The case against two had been abandoned.

Public sentiment at once flamed out in New Orleans, a wave of protest swept over the city that it was a miscarriage of justice. It was said the jury had been tampered with.

The cry spread that it was impossible to bring notorious assassins to justice by regular process of law. A group of prominent citizens immediately held a meeting at the law offices of W. J. Parkerson, and a call was issued for a mass meeting of citizens at the Clay statue in Canal street. This call was signed by sixty of the best known names in the town. It was published with great headlines in the newspapers.

Hold Mass Meeting.

At the time appointed a great crowd of armed men with shot guns and rifles appeared. Mr. Parkerson addresed them: "When the law is powerless, the rights delegated by the people are relegated back to them and they are jutified in doing what the courts have failed to do." Others spoke in similar vein, saying the machinery of justice was broken down and a premium put on murder.

A few minutes later the gathering marched over to the parish prison at Orleans and Tremaine streets. Capt. Lem Davis in charge of the jail refused to give over the keys, the door was battered in, and the crowd entered the prison. The culprits had been let out of their cells and were seeking places of hiding in the building. It had been the announced intention of the mob leaders to bring the malefactors out one by one, give them a trial on the street and execute them with an appearance of formality, but this was found impossible.

The prisoners were killed as they were found. Two were taken to the street and hanged, three were shot in a cubbyhole at the top of the building where they were hiding. Seven were shot in the yard of the women's jail.

In all eleven were killed—among them five who had not been tried—Politez, Scaffadi, M. Nastero, Bagnetto, Macheca, Marchese, Comitz, Romero, Caruso, Traima and Geroci.

The boy Marchese, who was said to have given the signal, was not harmed.

The state had abandoned the case against him for lack of evidence.

After the executions, the citizens dispersed quietly. There had been no concealment of features, no masking. All in the open. The leaders had been prominent citizens.

Italy Protests Lynching.

The country rang with the news. The Italian government, through Marquis Rudini, the foreign minister, took it before the department of state at Washington and the Italian minister, Baron Fava, demanded that the leaders of the mob be brought to justice. Secretary of State Blaine wrote Gov. Nicolls and asked his coöperation in protecting other Italians, and the governor replied that the trouble was over; that it had not been by any means a racial war, and that the executions had been done by the mob not against the prisoners as Italians but simply as murderers. He added that the grand jury was investigating.

Insistence upon reparations came from the Italian government, and, failing to get any such pledge, the Italian minister was withdrawn from Washington and later the American ambassador was withdrawn from Rome. There was a long interchange of notes and letters between the two countries. The grand jury in New Orleans reported May 5, 1891, that the Mafia existed in the city and that Chief Hennessey was killed by its agents. No indictments were returned against the leaders of the mob which did the lynching.

There was more note writing, reprinted in a volume by the government, and in April, 1892, the United States paid an indemnity of 125,000 francs to Italy and this terminated the incident.

KILLER, A FUGITIVE FOR 13 YEARS, WINS LENIENCY, DUE TO AGE

John Coleman, for thirteen years a fugitive charged with the murder of Thomas Morrison, special agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, at Rondout, Ill., May 30, 1915, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Claire C. Edwards at Waukegan, and pleaded guilty when the charge was reduced to manslaughter. On account of Coleman's age, Judge Edwards and State's Attorney A. V. Smith promised to recommend him for parole after one year in prison.

JURY QUIZ BARES ALLEGED FORGERY ON CITY PAY ROLL

Ettelson Jobholder Backed by Downstate Solon.

An exposé of pay roll padding which may explain why certain members of the legislature voted favorably on bills backed by the state and city administrations was a development yesterday in the special grand jury investigation under the leadership of Frank J. Loesch.

The pay roll investigation disclosed that an out of town member of the legislature, whose name is being withheld for the present, placed a certain citizen of Chicago, but formerly a resident of the legislator's district, on the special investigators' pay roll—1041—in the office of Corporation Counsel Samuel Ettelson. The supposed recipient of the pay checks said he never received them, although what purports to be his signature shows on the indorsements, as does that, in some cases, of the legislator. A handwriting expert branded some of the signatures as forgeries.

Tells of Bribes Offered.

Another development of the day was the announcement by Mr. Loesch that six carloads of gangsters were touring the south side offering bribes as high as $1,000 for the addresses of the places where the state is sheltering its witnesses.

Every conceivable method of hampering the witnesses against the 17 henchmen of Morris Eller, city collector, and his son, Judge Emanuel Eller, who are to go on trial this morning before Judge John M. O'Connor, has been resorted to, it is charged. Bribes, sluggings, and efforts to get witnesses to take a pleasure trip for the period of the trial are a few of the tactics, it is charged.

Emmet Boyd, one witness, was so severely injured by sluggers that 15 stitches were taken in his wounds, according to Sheridan A. Brusseaux, chief investigator. The attack occurred several days ago on the west side.

Denies Being on Pay Roll.

The pay roll discovery came about when Assistant Prosecutors Ferre Watkins and Thomas Slusser questioned a man whose name appeared on the pay roll as an investigator at $1,980 per year. The prosecutors showed him 15 pay checks he was supposed to have received for his labors.

"I was not on the pay roll and never received those checks," said the witness. "I never dreamed I was supposed to be on a pay roll until I saw my name some weeks ago in a list published by THE TRIBUNE."

Prosecutors Watkins and Slusser were at first skeptical of the man's story, but a handwriting expert comparing samples of the witness' handwriting with that appearing on the indorsements, soon convinced them that the man was telling the truth. The handwriting expert said that the signatures were clever forgeries of handwriting of the witness.

Backed by Legislator.

An employé of the corporation counsel's office revealed that a certain member of the legislature had recommended the man for appointment. A second look at the checks developed the fact that in some cases the lawmaker's indorsements also appeared on the checks and that they had been cashed in a bank in his home city. The checks in all total approximately $1,200.

"Why should a member of the legislator, not from Chicago, be privileged to put any one on the pay roll?" Capt. Watkins was asked.

"Well, the city and the state administration needed certain bills passed. The city needed votes to pass the bill increasing the bonding power for instance," he said.

Can Guess at Reason.

"I have not concluded my investigation as yet, but any one is entitled to guess why an out of town member of the legislature would have pay roll privileges in Chicago. One guess is as good as another."

Emissaries from the legislator, who now knows he is being investigated, have attempted to negotiate with the special prosecutors, it is said. Word has been sent to him, it is reported, that he must tell all, if he desires to talk, or to take the consequences of possible grand jury action.

Mrs. Margaret Mae Mulholland, 5400 South Peoria street, a resident of the ward of James W. Breen, first assistant corporation counsel, was taken before the grand jury last evening on a forthwith subpoena. She herself is a pay roller at $1,680 a year as an investigator.

Seek to Silence Jobholders.

Mrs. Mulholland was questioned, it is said, regarding reports that efforts have been made to silence other pay rollers in the ward.

Other pay rollers before the jury were the Rev. E. T. Martin, pastor of the Bethseda Baptist church, 53d street and Michigan avenue, and the Rev. E. C. Clark, of the Ebenezer Baptist church, 45th street and Vincennes avenue.

Roscoe Conkling Simmons, colored orator for the America First ticket, who is listed as a $5,000 a year man, is reported to have joined the grand jury hideout club. Simmons, for whom a subpoena has been issued, is reported in Washington, D. C.

The special venire for the trial of the Eller henchmen was drawn yesterday. Among the names on the list are those of Harry C. Ray, piano man, living at 941 Williams street, River Forest, and Robert L. Grant of the Grant Art Galleries, 450 Belmont avenue. Oak Park, Evanston and other north shore suburbs have a good representation on the venire, which reports for duty this morning.

$500,000 FOR EXPERTS

Eighteen special lawyers and experts on pay rolls of Corporation Counsel Ettelson and President Faherty of the board of local improvements collected more than $7,000 each for "personal services" during the first seven months of 1928, voucher lists compiled yesterday disclosed.

Approximately a half million dollars has been paid out of the city treasury from the personal services account during the seven months period. The pay rolls for June and July, made public yesterday, show little change in the voucher lists, despite Mayor Thompson's economy order.

$18,425 to H. E. Wood.

Leading the list of high priced experts is the name of Harvey E. Wood, attorney with offices at 232 South Clark street, who from January to July received checks totaling $18,425. Samuel L. Golan, one of the attorneys defending Morris Eller, is a close second, having been paid $17,325. Fred A. Krehbiel, engineer employed by Mr. Faherty, ranked third with $14,955, and Attorney William W. Smith, one of Mr. Ettelson's men, fourth with $14,850.

Another above the $7,000 mark was Robert M. Probohner, whose service last summer consisted of carrying confidential messages between Mr. Ettelson and Mayor Thompson's retreat in Wisconsin. Probohner drew $9,250 as an "expert." Thomas J. Sheean, candidate for Municipal court judge, collected $11,975; Joseph P. Savage, former assistant state's attorney, $10,900; Simon Herr, law partner of Ald. Jacob Arvey [24th], $6,235, and Harry Biossat, the mayor's water meter and Calumet harbor agent, $12,968.

Others Paid Above $5,000.

Others whose checks totaled $5,000 or more were as follows:

David A. Wallace	$12,600
Bernard P. Barasa	6,235
Benton F. Kleeman	6,825
Albert J. Kelley	6,550
Hiram T. Gilbert	5,490
W. R. Matheny	7,450
Harry Goldstine	12,700
E. B. Woolf	9,900
Glen C. Crawford	7,100
Joseph T. Sullivan	6,175
Walter E. Maas	5,200
Hyde W. Perce	9,750
John J. Ready	8,400
Michael Flicht	9,200
Daniel King	5,450
A. H. Veeder	8,500
Ralph C. Harris	13,700
Eugene H. Dupee	6,112

Eighty-five experts drawing $20 to $100 for each day they worked received an average of $2,000 each during the seven months period. These included one member of the legislature and a dozen lesser politicians associated with the Thompson régime. The legislator was State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg, who drew $3,412.

Other Names on List.

Other interesting names on the voucher list included Frank S. Righeimer, former school board attorney, $1,025; former County Commissioner Charles N. Goodnow, $3,748; former City Attorney Samuel Pincus, $4,275; David W. Clark, former member of the board of local improvements, $3,025; George Gary Noonan, ex-member of the legislature, $750; Oscar S. De Priest, colored Thompson leader and candidate for congress, $520; former Ald. George W. Kuntzman, $4,200; and Louis Neumann, a relative of Mr. Ettelson, $4,150.

Emil Wentslaff, outside office secretary for Mayor Thompson at the Hotel Sherman, was on the voucher list as an "expert" for $575 and Roger Faherty, son of the board of local improvements head, for $1,750.

Kelker, De Leuw & Co., transit engineers, received the largest amount paid to any firm for "personal services." Their checks totalled $14,822. The law firm of Chapman and Cutler also ranked high with collections totalling $9,650.

None of the voucher "experts" are on the regular city hall pay rolls, but are paid according to the amount of work they do as determined by Mr. Ettelson and Mr. Faherty.

Playwright Sues for Divorce

Lloyd A. Laflin, Lake Forest writer and social leader, and his wife, Mrs. Claire Laflin, who, he charges, deserted him in 1926.

Sets Society Buzzing

Chicago society yesterday was discussing the domestic affairs of Lloyd A. Laflin, playwright and social leader, and his wife, Mrs. Claire Childs Laflin, following the filing of a bill for divorce by Laflin in the Circuit court at Waukegan on Tuesday. Mrs. Laflin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Frederick Childs, and her marriage in December, 1925, was one of the season's social events of Lake Forest. The couple separated in August, 1926, and Mr. Laflin charges desertion.

GANNA WALSKA'S TRUNKS HELD FOR CUSTOMS HEARING

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Because Mme. Ganna Walska, opera singer wife of Harold F. McCormick, Chicago millionaire, refused to pay import duties on certain jewelry and merchandise upon her arrival here aboard the French liner Paris last night, her baggage is being held by the customs authorities pending a hearing, it was learned today.

The singer contends that, as a nonresident of the United States, she was entitled to bring in, duty free, goods which were purchased abroad. The customs authorities insist that, as the wife of an American citizen, she is not entitled to classification as a nonresident. The disputed point will be threshed out at a special hearing tomorrow.

Mme. Walska made a full declaration of her foreign purchases, it was said, and the question of residence is the only point at issue. No estimate of the value of the detained baggage could be obtained.

Killed by Train on His Way to Political Meeting

Patrick Muldowney, 52 years old, 7541 Manistee avenue, an employé of the Chicago sanitary district, was killed last night when he was struck by an Illinois Central train at 75th street. Muldowney, a nephew of Deputy County clerk James W. Ryan, was on his way to a Democratic meeting at 75th street and Coles avenue.

JUDGE TO COUNT ORIGINAL MARKS IN VOTE CONTEST

Jarecki Will Not Discard Altered Ballots.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki entered an unprecedented ruling yesterday in the election contest that is threatening the nominations of Morris Eller and his faction colleagues, Coroner Oscar Wolff and Eugene L. Nusser.

Contrary to the usual practice of throwing out altered ballots, the judge told attorneys he was going to count the votes in accordance with the evident original markings by the voters.

Deneen Hopes Revived.

This decision revived hopes in the Deneen camp that the apparent majorities held by Eller, Wolff, and Nusser for sanitary district trustee, coroner, and assessor, respectively, would be wiped out, and John H. Glenn, Hugo C. Fisher, and Arthur W. Sullivan would be named in their places as the Republican nominees.

"To disregard the altered ballots as spoiled ballots is to place a premium on fraud," Judge Jarecki declared in explaining his action. "I want to prevent the ballot box thieves from disfranchising the electorate. I'm going to count each ballot in accordance with the way it was marked by the voter as shown by the evidence."

Previous Decision Sustained.

The judge felt supported in this move by a recent Supreme court decision which sustained one of his previous reforms. At a previous recount the judge refused to hrow out a precinct rotten with fraud.

"The Supreme court held I was right in trying to ascertain the true vote in a precinct whenever possible," he said. "Now I am going one step further and try to ascertain the true vote on every ballot where it is possible."

Recounting 8,500 Ballots.

There are approximately 8,500 challenged ballots being examined at the recount. The work must be finished this month.

At yesterday's session handwriting experts examined and testified regarding ballots from the 18th precinct of the 1st ward, the 19th of the 2d, the 32d of the 24th, and the 2d precinct of the 20th ward. They pointed out numerous erasures and substituted crosses.

Dr. S. S. Epstein, an Eller precinct captain and formerly a physician under Coroner Wolff, attended the hearing, working to protect the interests of his faction, which was represented officially by Attorney Cornelius Harrington.

U. S. MOVES TO SPEED UP SUITS FOR P. O. GROUND

An early ending to the condemnation proceedings instituted to acquire the remainder of the site for the new postoffice was foreseen yesterday with the visit of District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson to the department of justice in Washington. The visit included a discussion of the expert witnesses who will be called on to testify in the condemnation proceedings next month, it was said.

Most of the block bounded by Polk, Canal, Clinton, and Harrison streets, where the new postoffice will be located, already has been acquired, and the sum of $14,250,000 is available for use. Everything is ready for the work to start as soon as the litigation is concluded, and there is said to be a possibility that work will begin before then. The government has been advised that it may go ahead on the ground already in its possession.

Arrest "Murder Farm" Youth and His Mother

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Police here tonight were advised of the arrests of Gordon Stewart Northcott, accused in the murder farm disclosures near Riverside, Cal., at Okanagan Landing, a few miles from Vernon, B. C., and his mother, Mrs. Louise Northcott, at Calgary, Alberta.

Dispatches said that the youth admitted his identity to Inspector Forbes Cruckshank of the provincial police force. A few hours later the Calgary police wired authorities here that the woman arrested there had been identified as the mother of the Northcott youth.

Trail Pair Northwest.

It was disclosed here tonight that the authorities had followed the trail of the pair into the far northwest. According to dispatches, police believe they left Vancouver, B. C., together and drove by automobile to Spences Bridge, 175 miles east of Vancouver, where they boarded a Canadian Pacific train.

They proceeded as far as Sioamous, the police deducted, where young Northcott left over the branch line for Okanagan Landing. His mother, they believed, continued on the Vancouver-Toronto express. She arrived in Calgary at 2 p. m.

According to dispatches, Northcott told the officers he knew his mother was en route to Calgary.

Clew to Five Deaths.

Investigation of the "murder farm" today brought authorities to the conclusion that at least five persons may have died on it, and that young Northcott, directly accused by his nephew, Sanford Clark, 15 years old, of having committed murders on the ranch, may have committed other crimes.

The youth will be asked to face questioning in connection with the disappearance of these persons:

Nelson Winslow, 12, and Louis Winslow, 10, his brother, last May.

A 9 year old boy, known to Northcott's kin, Clark, as Walter Collins, two months ago.

A Filipino or Mexican youth whose headless body was found in June.

Chemist Makes Tests.

Simultaneously with the activity of the Los Angeles police, City Chemist Rex Welsh announced a test he had made disclosed that portions of bone and blood taken from the shallow graves on the Northcott farm are from a human body. Other pieces of bone analyzed by J. W. Lytle of the Southwest museum are portions of a youth's temple bone, he said. "This finding coincides with tests made by anatomists engaged by Sheriff Clem Sweeters of Riverside county.

Clark Sellers, a criminal expert, announced that a half burned aviation magazine taken from the Northcott ranch incinerator was the periodical from which little Nelson Winslow had written a note to his father last May, shortly after he disappeared. The note advised the father, N. K. Winslow of Pomona, Cal., that he and his brother, Louis, were running away.

Sellers also asserted that a pair of charred shoes he had found in a cabin at Mint canyon were identified by Winslow as shoes corresponding to a pair one of the boys wore.

Riverside authorities tonight forwarded extradition papers to Gov. C. C. Young for the return of young Northcott to California.

A confession that he is not Walter Collins was made tonight by a youth who came here from De Kalb, Ill., recently. He had insisted he was the missing Collins. He disclosed he is a De Kalb boy.

Engine Falls Out of Plane, Slotted Wings Ease Crash

BRISBANE, Australia, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Miss Ivy Neasdale and Pilot Ronald Adair escaped with a few scratches today when their plane crashed from a height of 100 feet. A slotted wing device which broke the fall was believed to have prevented a serious accident. The couple was flying to Bowen, Queensland, when the engine fell out, causing the plane to crash

SOUTH CAROLINA SMITH'S DESPITE CREED ATTACKS

Foes Sear His Religion, but Scorn G. O. P.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Although the Democratic party in this state is overwhelmingly opposed to him as a wet and a Roman Catholic, Smith will carry South Carolina. Possibly by a record breaking plurality.

He will win the nine electoral votes of South Carolina because in this state political and racial prejudices outweigh religious and other prejudices. Much as they hate to vote for a Roman Catholic, whose election they believe, or profess to believe, would invite papal domination of the United States, far more do South Carolina Democrats shrink from voting for a "black Republican," whose winning of the state in November they believe, or profess to believe, would be the opening wedge for the return of Negro domination.

Hence we have the spectacle in South Carolina of the Democratic machine, headed by Gov. Richards and Senator Blease, reluctantly and with evident lack of enthusiasm organizing, raising campaign funds, sending out speakers, and otherwise beating the tom-toms for Smith and Robinson. The leaders have passed the word down the line that as an object lesson in the interest of the preservation of white supremacy it is imperative to overwhelm the Hoover Democrats with the largest plurality ever given a Democratic candidate for President in the Palmetto state.

Governor States Situation.

"We are for Smith because he is the candidate of the Democratic party," said Gov. Richards when I asked him whether I might quote him. "We are not for him because we approve his stand on prohibition. We do not; we are against it most emphatically. There is not a member of our legislature or other public official in this state who could indorse it and hope to be renominated. But we feel that the best interest of our state would be threatened if the Republicans should carry South Carolina."

Former Senator Blease calls prohibition a farce, as any visitor to the state can easily determine for himself. Moonshining, which, before prohibition, was confined to remote hill regions, is now a leading industry in almost every county. Prohibition officers admit that their numbers are insufficient to make a dent in the illicit traffic.

In August they seized twelve stills, 504 gallons of spirits and 46,578 gallons of mash. The price of corn liquor is $8 a gallon, according to one of the Democratic leaders I interviewed.

Repair Bootlegger's Goods.

"It's supposed to be aged by the bootleggers," he explained. "But as a matter of fact, they can't make it fast enough to supply the demand, and most of it is green. Our custom is to put it away for six months in a charred cask and then it beats any Scotch you ever tasted."

Gov. Richards admits that liquor is being distilled and is obtainable to some extent, but he insists that conditions are so much improved over the days when women did not dare to walk the streets even in the daytime for fear of meeting drunken Negroes that fully 85 per cent of the people are opposed to any change in the prohibition régime.

The anti-Smith Democrats organized first as "Hoover Democrats," but when they sensed the extent of the repugnance to affiliation with "black Republicanism" they met last week and changed the name to the "Anti-Smith Democratic Legion." The organization is headed by Hampton Smith of Greenville, but is being directed by Ben Adams, a Ku Klux Klan organizer, and E. J. Hisey, state secretary of the junior order of United American Mechanics, an anti-Catholic organization.

Fan Religious Prejudices.

The organizers frankly admit that they are opposing Smith not only because he is a wet but because he is a Catholic. They assail Smith also on the ground that he favors changing the immigration restriction laws to admit large numbers of Italians and southeastern Europeans, most of whom are Catholics.

The anti-Smith Democrats are fanning religious prejudice into flame in the rural districts where ignorance is densest. As in Virginia and North Carolina they are circulating the fake Knights of Columbus oath.

"Ah, my friends," says the anti-Smith spellbinder at the backwoods political meeting, "they tell us this oath is a fake. But I am going to read it to you from the pages of the proceedings of the United States congress."

He then produces a facsimile page of the congressional record and reads the blood curdling oath which figured in the Bonniwell congressional election contest. What he omits reading is the report of a committee of Masonic members of congress who investigated and pronounced the oath a fabrication.

All the standbys in the whispering campaign farther north are encountered here together with a new one to the effect that if Smith is elected the school teachers in the public schools will be replaced with nuns.

Try Pictorial Animosity.

The anti-Smith organization is circulating 46,000 copies of the Fellowship Forum, a leading organ of the klan and other anti-Catholic bodies for which Adams is correspondent. This paper proclaims in each issue that "A vote for Al Smith is a vote for the pope." The issue being circulated carries on the first page a photograph of a Negro dictating to a white stenographer. The picture is captioned: "White supremacy as practiced by Tammany; $7,500 a year Tammany Negro boss and his white secretary," and the accompanying article explains that it is a picture of Ferdinand Q. Morton, New York City civil service commissioner, "one of three, a Roman Catholic, Jew and Negro, who pass upon the moral, mental and physical qualifications of each and every person seeking employment in the Tammanyized government."

The article, which asserts that the Harlem Negroes are Smith supporters, is an attempt to counteract the regular Democrats' propaganda that "a vote for Hoover is a vote for the nigger."

Home G. O. P. Largely a Myth.

Raising the ghost of Negro domination is particularly effective in South Carolina because the Republican party in this state is a party in name only, consisting chiefly of Negroes with a sprinkling of whites, few of whom are men of standing in their communities. The Republican national committeeman, Joe Tolbert, a white man, is facing charges of selling postoffice and other federal jobs to appointees. In 1924 only 1,123 Republican votes were cast in the presidential election.

United States Attorney Joseph A. Tolbert, nephew of the Republican national committeeman, opened a speech before the Greenville Hoover club with this:

"From the city of Rome a sinister crusade has been inaugurated under the leadership of Alfred E. Smith, high priest of Tammany Hall," and closed it with this:

"Here's to Al Smith, that limberger cheese; may the swell in his head go down to his knees; may he break his rough neck on the prohibition line, and go back to Rome with his liquor and wine."

Experiment in Tickets.

To attract Democratic support in this election, Tolbert induced five anti-Smith Democrats to go on the Republican slate of nine candidates for electors. But the anti-Smith voters shied at the bait, such is the disgrace of being tagged a Republican. Now Adams is arranging for an independent ticket of anti-Smith electors, all Democrats, which will not even bear the name of Hoover. The anti-Smith Democratic electors, however, will be pledged to vote for Hoover. Eventually Tolbert may adopt the slate of independent anti-Smith electors or withdraw the Republican slate.

In any event, the anti-Smith Democrats do not hope to beat Smith in South Carolina. The machinery is rigged against them by devices to control the electorate that would arouse the envy of Tammany's own experts in this line.

South Carolina has a population of 1,683,724, which is more than fifty per cent black. The electorate consists of 377,000 whites, 400,000 Negroes of voting age having been disfranchised by the constitution of 1895, which requires a voter to be able to read and write any section of the United States Constitution or to pay taxes on $300 worth of property. Only 7,000 Negroes have qualified as voters.

Despite the fact that in the ensuing primary last month the oath was not generally administered a large stay at home vote in November is expected.

For the November election a completely new registration is required. The county seat is the only place of registration. As a result not more than 100,000 are expected to register and the machine is getting the Smith voters on the books in large numbers.

There is no Australian ballot. Each party ticket is a separate ballot. In not more than 200 of the 1,700 precincts in the state is the Republican ballot ordinarily obtainable at all. Those who call for Republican ballots are subjected to derision and frequently are ostracised socially and boycotted in business. Smith leaders calculate that not more than 5,000 Democrats will actually go to the polls and call for a Hoover ballot.

CURTIS DEFENDS G. O. P. RECORD ON FARM RELIEF

Spencer, Ia., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Questioned by a heckler during his address at the Clay county fair thi safternoon, Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, warmly defended his record on the McNary-Haugen bill and the record of the Republican administration on farm relief and tax reduction.

"What about the vetoes of the McNary-Haugen bill?" asked the heckler in the midst of the address.

"If the Republicans are elected," Curtis replied, "we will have a bill passed—a good bill—and it will be signed by Herbert Hoover."

"It has taken you a long time to find it out," the heckler continued.

"Yes, you are one of those Democrats," Curtis shouted back, "who have been sitting around here for seven years saying we have done nothing. Read the record; you don't know what's in the McNary-Haugen bill."

When the heckler asked Curtis a question on taxes, the nominee replied· "I jhst told you about that, but you are too damned dumb to understand it."

At this the crowd cheered Curtis.

TEST AIRPLANE WITH OIL BURNER DIESEL ENGINE

Expected to Revolutionize Motive Power.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The Packard Motor company today announced successful completion of test flights with an airplane powered by an oil burning motor, the first Diesel type aircraft engine ever built.

The demonstration, which, Packard officials believe, marks a revolutionary step in development of aircraft power, was made in a regulation Stinson-Detroiter monoplane piloted by Walter Lees and Capt. L. M. Woolson, both of Detroit.

The motor is of a radial air cooled type and develops 200 horse power. With the use of the Diesel principle of oil for fuel the engine does away with gasoline, ignition systems, spark plugs, and other trouble "bugs."

Elimination of those parts, officials said, results from the firing from compression in the cylinders, the Diesel action that has been applied up to this time in only extremely heavy engines for power plants and in boats.

Three Great Improvements.

The new engine has fewer parts than even the lightest gasoline engines, and its designers claim for it three outstanding improvements over the present type of aircraft motor. They are:

That the danger from fire from gasoline is entirely removed.

Both fuel consumption and fuel cost are considerably reduced, it being claimed that the motor will carry a plane 25 per cent farther with the same weight in oil fuel as compared with gasoline.

Radio communication to aircraft on a broad scale will be made possible by cutting out the interference due to the present electrical ignition systems on gasoline engines.

Diesel Weight Reduced.

A particularly brilliant engineering feat is claimed in reducing the weight of such a Diesel engine. Until now the lightest oil burning power plant ever built weighed 100 pounds per horse power. The new plant weighs less than three pounds per horse power.

"Bomb" for King Alfonso Turns Out to Be Linseed Oil

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 19.—A mysterious parcel addressed to King Alfonso at the central post office, Stockholm, was examined today and found to contain anarchist literature and three cans of linseed oil. On back of one of the pamphlets were the words: "The wages of a murderer is death." A bomb had ben expected.

Bodies Found Under Wrecked Auto

Albert La Huis, wealthy Zeeland, Mich., retired banker, and his wife, who were killed near Sandberg, Cal., in car of F. J. Walter, oil promoter, who is missing.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The bodies of the aged couple found yesterday at the foot of a 1,000 foot cliff on the Los Angeles-Bakersfield mountain highway, late today were identified as those of Mr. and Mrs. Albert La Huis of Zeeland, Mich.

La Huis, a capitalist and banker, and his wife had been missing since Aug. 18 when they were supposed to have accompanied Fred Walter, oil promoter of La Jolla, Cal., to visit oil wells and mining sites in Kern county, Cal., where the Zeeland banker had invested $75,000. Walter has not been seen since that time.

According to authorities the body of Walter may be under tons of dirt which were in an earth slide presumably caused by the automobile hurtling down the side of the cliff. The automobile belonged to Walter.

The identification of the bodies was made by C. J. La Huis of Miami, Fla., son, who came here to investigate the disappearance of his parents.

MISHAP TURNS BACK BIG PLANE ON HOP FOR ROME

Old Orchard, Me., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A broken air intake on the carburetor, caused by backfire, halted the projected trans-Atlantic flight of the Roma today before the big Bellanca plane had covered five miles of the 4,450 to Rome. The plane returned to the beach here 21 minutes after it had taken off. Joseph Bellanca of Wilmington, Del., designer of the plane, said the intake could be fixed without difficulty.

POLICE DOUBT STORY OF CHILD SELLING FINERY

Tugging a heavy suit case, a 9 year old girl knocked timidly at a dwelling in the New City police district yesterday. When the housewife answered, the child opened the suit case and displayed an array of linens and hand worked laces.

"I'm selling these to make my living; won't you buy?" the child asked. "My father died a long time ago in Cleveland, but my mother took care of me until two weeks ago. Then she died, too, and all I have left in this suit case and these pretty things. I've been selling them to have enough to eat, but I sleep in the alleys and sheds."

The child repeated her story to the New City police when they were called by the housewife. The police were skeptical. Her neat coat of red plush, her clean white dress and trimly bobbed hair were not the attire of a waif, they said.

Later the child confided her name—Adeline Johnson—to a matron at the juvenile detention home, but would not alter her story. She will be cared for there until the police establish her identity.

Coroner's Jury Exonerates Son of Beating Mother

A coroner's jury yesterday investigating the recent death of Mrs. Wilhelmina Hanke, 84 years old, 10101 Avenue M, in the South Chicago hospital, returned a verdict that death was due to heart disease. The verdict exonerated her son, Emil, 50 years old, who had been accused of causing his mother's death by beating her.

3 GOVERNMENTS SEEK AUTOGYRO FOR USE IN WAR

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Shortly after receiving news that the English, Italian, and Spanish governments had ordered autogyros for experimental use in military aviation, Juan de la Cierva, the inventor of the weird flying machine, demonstrated the apparatus again this afternoon at Le Bourget flying field before twoscore French aviators, engineers, and experts. He made a quarter of an hour flight over Paris, landing like a parachute with a run of only a few feet.

Among those witnessing the demonstration was M. Bleriot, who created a sensation nineteen years ago by flying over the English channel for the first time in an airplane. The newly appointed French air minister, Laurent Eynac, also was present. He expressed great interest, and hinted that the French government might also purchase one of the machines in the near future.

"My machine is a real airplane, not a helicopter," the inventor explained to the crowd of curious experts. "In principle it differs from the ordinary plane in only two respects—it rises into the air by means of a windmill horizontal propeller and sustains itself in the air by means of this propeller's fan shaped blades instead of the usual wings.

"The wings on my plane are almost negligible. They are used only to keep the machine horizontal.

"The advantage of the autogyro is the fact not only that it is able to rise almost vertically but it eliminates the danger of loss of speed, which is responsible for seventy-five per cent of the crashes. As a matter of fact, it is practically foolproof, holding itself in the air, and in case anything happens it comes down like a parachute."

The motor in the plane is of 200 horse power, has seven cylinders, and is air cooled.

AUTO WITH CITY STAR HITS TWO; DRIVER IS HELD

Arnold Moremont, 24 years old, 5499 Eastview avenue, was charged with assault with an automobile at the South Clark street station last night after an automobile which he was driving along South Park way at 39th street struck and injured two colored persons.

Attached to the car of young Moremont, who is the son of a south side manufacturer, was a star inscribed "City Law Department" and riding with Moremont was Leonard Ettelson, younger brother of Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Ettelson.

One of the victims of the accident, George Murphy, 3744 Giles avenue, sustained a fractured knee and the other, Mazoro Bogan, 3909 South Parkway, was bruised. They were taken to St. Luke's hospital. According to witnesses, the Moremont car slowed down when the Negroes attempted to cross in front of it, but Moremont, who was driving, was not police. He was later released on $1,000 bond signed by Ettelson.

IS AL SMITH FOR EQUALIZING FEE? WEST WONDERS

Omaha Speech Leaves Farmers Debating.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD AL SMITH'S CAMPAIGN SPECIAL EN ROUTE TO OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Mounting enthusiasm on the plains, BUT enthusiasm coupled with vehement argument.

That is a fair epitome of Alfred Emanuel Smith's glowing progress tonight. Since the Democratic nominee's spectacular appearance and vivid language before 10,000 attentive men and women in Omaha auditorium last night, the west, in city, in town, in village, and in field, from the Missouri river to the Arkansas river, seems to have but two sentences on its lips.

The first is to the man.

It is "Hello, Al."

Is He for the Fee?

The other is uttered among the neighbors congregated in the mellow autumn sunshine, and it is:

"Is he for the equalization fee?"

Then come the arguments—endless, earnest, anxious arguments that go around and around the candidate's words and that weigh and measure and twist them to the bolstering of either of two opposite—diametrically opposite—decisions.

In short, another "I do not choose" enigma has landed in the lap of the nation for it to toy with and mull over.

But Gov. Smith does not think he has tossed an enigma to the electorate. He believes that on the problem of farm relief he has been as lucid as the air out on these plains.

Enthusiasm and Argument.

Lincoln, Neb., was boiling with enthusiasm and argument when Gov. Smith swept into that city this afternoon. It was in the throes of the argument from the neighborhood of the little old restaurant where Charley Dawes and John Pershing used to eat their twenty-five cent luncheons to the stately terraces of the new capitol.

New York's governor drove as directly from his train to the executive offices of Nebraska's governor as the crowds swarming and cheering along beside his automobile would permit. The beautiful capitol was humming with argument and everybody had only one topic—"Is Al for the equalization fee?"

Gov. Adam McMullen, insurgent Republican and lukewarm toward Herbert Hoover because of what McMullen considers Hoover's uncertain attitude on farm relief, had been arguing, too, on the significance of Smith's Omaha speech.

McMullen Gives His Views.

"From what I gathered listening to Gov. Smith's speech, he gave an unequivocal indorsement of the McNary-Haugen bill," McMullen said. "It is quite evident that the governor has been giving further study to the agricultural question since he delivered his speech of acceptance. He seems to have a better understanding of the problem and is more in accord with the legislation the farmers have been seeking than he was some time ago.

"However, he still refers to the agricultural plank of the Democratic platform as a theory to be followed, the device putting the theory into practice to be decided upon later. The fact is, the device itself is set out in that plank and plainly embodies the equalization fee. Whether it is called a fee, or a charge, or a rebate, or an excise tax does not matter. They all involve the same principle.

Thinks Al May Elucidate.

"It is possible that before Gov. Smith finishes his western tour he will make mention of the equalization fee system and explain his attitude toward it with the same frankness with which he treated the McNary-Haugen bill as a whole."

McMullen was asked by newspaper correspondents: "Are you going to declare for Gov. Smith as your candidate for President?"

But blunt though Adam is, he also is canny, and he replied, "I'm host today. I'm just entertaining the governor—showing him through the capitol."

And that is all that could be extracted from Nebraska's governor this day as to the destination of his November ballot.

Crowds Grow Larger.

There is no denying or discounting the enthusiasm which the mere sight of Smith arouses. The further into the west he moves, the larger are the crowds. You probably never heard of Clay Center, Kas., but the huge crowd that turned out at Clay Center to cheer Smith this afternoon would have made you take notice of the fact that there is a Clay Center and that its lungs are sound. At Manhattan, Kas.—population 11,000—there were five or six thousand to meet the train.

At Fairbury, Neb., there were insistent demands for a speech, but a spokesman for the governor explained that it was impossible. Al is saving all his energy for tearing into former United States Senator Robert Owen in Oklahoma City tomorrow night. Owen is the man who, having asked Smith to do his best with Tammany at Madison Square in 1924 for the nomination of Owen as a compromise candidate for the presidency, has now bolted Smith and accuses him of being a slave of Tammany.

There was a tremendous reception for Al at Topeka, Kas., home town of Senator Charley Curtis, Republican vice presidential nominee. Bands blared and there were demands of "just a word, Al," but no speech was made. The station area for blocks around was aglow with red fire.

34 STATIONS HOOK UP TO SEND SMITH'S OKLAHOMA SPEECH

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Thirty-four radio stations will broadcast Gov. Smith's address from Oklahoma City tomorrow night in a nation-wide hookup. The stations follow:

SCORES ARRESTED IN MEXICO FOR URGING REVOLT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—More than a score of persons have been arrested in the last two days, accused of spreading revolutionary propaganda. Posters have been placed on buildings and circulars broadcast and sent through the mail making bitter attacks on public officials and foreigners. The propaganda plot, the police assert, was part of Catholic plans to prevent Portes Gil from becoming provisional president to succeed President Calles on Nov. 1. The plot extended to all principal cities.

W. C. T. U. LEADERS EXHORT MEMBERS TO DEFEAT AL SMITH

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The first duty of the Michigan W. C. T. U. at this time is to help in the defeat of Gov. Al Smith, members convening here were told today by their president, Mrs. Stella B. Roben, and their former president, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Perkins.

Gov. Smith was called an avowed nullificationist and an enemy of the constitution by Mrs. Roben. She declared the prohibition issue to be the only one of importance at stake and praised the Republican party for its plank, which she said will mark the beginning of the end of nullification and liquor anarchism.

Mrs. Perkins lauded Hoover for his stand in behalf of the eighteenth amendment and urged the delegates to vote for him in November.

Gov. Fred W. Green declared that prohibition will be enforced when men and women think more of their boys and girls than they do of their appetites.

Clinic for Stammerers Will Be Opened at N. U.

A clinic for diagnosis and treatment of stammerers will be opened next week at Northwestern university and maintained throughout the year, Dean Ralph B. The causes of stammering, lisping, grating voice, and faulty pronunciation will be investigated and cures effected whenever possible, Dean Dennis said.

Denies Woman Slayer's Plea to Go to Her Injured Mate

Mrs. Catherine Cassler, the only woman under death sentence in the county jail, was refused permission yesterday by Warden Edward J. Fogarty to go the bedside of her husband, Truman Cassler, who was severely injured recently in an accident. Attorney W. W. Witty, attorney for Mrs. Cassler, made the appeal, but the warden said he was helpless in the matter unless he had a court order giving him authority. Mrs. Cassler is waiting the result of an appeal to the Supreme court of her conviction for her part in the murder of a carpenter to collect his insurance.

Health is in danger when gums break down

Too many men and women ignore the fact that sooner or later they may pay the price of neglect. They brush their teeth faithfully and feel secure. Yet, health, youth and beauty slip away. And here's the reason:

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and underexercised as they are must be brushed daily, morning and night, if they are to resist such dread diseases as Pyorrhea, Gingivitis, Trench Mouth.

As a measure of protection, brush your gums vigorously with the dentifrice designed to keep them firm, sound and healthy . . . Forhan's for the Gums.

When you have used Forhan's for a few days, you'll notice a distinct improvement in the way your gums look and feel. In addition, the way this dentifrice cleans teeth white and protects them from acids which cause decay will delight you. Start using Forhan's today. And see your dentist every six months.

CAPITAL G. O. P. MADE UNEASY BY SMITH'S SPEECH

But Leaders Say Al Has Dodged Farm Issue.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Al Smith's Omaha speech, in which he attempts to wean away the western farmers from their Republican anchorage, brought uneasiness in national Republican circles here today. While making brave statements and finding many flaws in the governor's speech, men in touch with the western progressive thought are particularly dubious. They made tracks through the rain to Herbert Hoover's doorstep, urging him to come out more specifically on farm relief, or do something to stop what they conceive as a rising tide for the Democratic candidate.

Mr. Hoover has had his say against all manner of farm relief by the tax or equalization method, direct or indirect, and can hardly give his western supporters any further comfort along that line. He was chiefly concerned today in consolidating and directing the new life injected into the eastern situation by his Newark address and New Jersey reception.

Work Picks Flaws.

Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, found fault with Gov. Smith because of alleged misquotations of Coolidge, Hoover and the Republican platform, and also because his press release differs in text with the radio delivery.

"Gov. Smith displays remarkable ignorance of some fundamental facts," he said. "He states that the farmer is buying in a protected market and selling in highly unprotected markets. 'Everything that enters into the operation of his farm except that which he himself produces is hid behind a tariff wall. It is supposed to function for him but does not,' are the words he used.

"Later on he gives as illustrations the rise in prices of harvesters and binders. He is apparently oblivious to the fact that all harvesting machinery is on the free list. He uses shoe manufacturing as an illustration in the face of the fact that shoes are also on the free list.

Says Al Dodges One.

"Candidate Smith carefully avoids stating that he is for the equalization fee, although he says that he has a four square plain program. He enunciates the principle which he says he finds in the McNary-Haugan bill, but which is not the principle over which the battle has been fought for the last four years. That principle is whether the government shall impose a tax on the farmer, and shall in order to carry out the machinery engage itself in the buying and selling and price fixing of agricultural products. All of this Gov. Smith avoids. He says:

"'As I read the McNary-Haugen bill, its fundamental purpose is to establish an effective control of the sale of the exportable surplus, with the cost imposed upon the commodities benefited. For that principle the Democratic platform squarely stands, and for that principle I squarely stand!'

"What the country would like to know is whether or not Gov. Smith meets the real issue here, and whether the federal government is to impose this tax upon the farmer, and whether he stands for the government fixing the price in buying and selling farm produce that is necessarily a consequence of any such attempt by the federal government."

Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, who has just returned from a western trip, picked out the tariff as the basis of an attack on Smith.

Nye Has Word to Say.

Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, who discussed the Smith speech with Mr. Hoover, said:

"Hailed as the event which was to clinch the farm vote for Smith, the speech at Omaha satisfies me that the candidate continues to positively decline to indorse the very heart of the McNary-Haugen bill, namely the equalization fee. The fact is that both candidates are opposed to the equalization fee plan. I am still partial to the plan as the best foundation thus far formulated upon which to build a broad and lasting agricultural program, but since the two parties and their candidates have declined to give their unqualified approval to that plan, in the interests of immediate aid to the agricultural industry we are forced to choose the more definite and available plan Mr. Hoover has outlined."

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, candidate for congresswoman from Illinois, called on Mr. Hoover today to tell of her campaign trip through southern Illinois. She will talk at Aurora next Saturday at a meeting of farmers, replying to the Smith attack on the Republican agricultural policy. She said that the farmers of southern Illinois would support Hoover and that the women were strongly organized for him.

Deneen Reports on Illinois.

Chicago and Illinois will give the usual Republican majority this year, Senator Charles S. Deneen told Mr. Hoover today.

"Illinois, as a whole is prosperous," declared Senator Deneen "Of course, our farmers share the unrest of other sections, but they feel that Herbert Hoover is more capable of giving them the answer to their problems than is his opponent, that he is better equipped through experience, training, contacts, intimate knowledge of conditions the world over, and particularly international information bearing on the question of the surplus and its distribution. He also possesses a greater fund of information on such factors as credit, warehousing and co-operative operations, all bearing on farm relief.

"Hoover's uniform success in the giant projects he has already attempted, is the best promise of solution of the agricultural question," concluded the Illinois senator.

NOTE TO JOLIET SOLON FOUND IN BANDITS' AUTO

Pair Shot Down by Wisconsin Deputy.

Mauston, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Concern was expressed here tonight for the safety of State Representative John M. Jenco of Joliet, Ill., following the shooting and capture of two bandits by Sheriff Lyall Wright and Deputy Dayton Woodward.

Bits of a letter addressed to Jenco were found in the bandits' automobile, which bore a stolen license tag. The bandits are both in serious condition at a Mauston hospital.

Capture of the bandits was the climax of a three day hunt for the pair, accused of having shot and beaten John Berkeley, proprietor of a gas station at Baraboo, Wis., last Sunday night.

One Shot Wounds Both.

Hard pressed, the robbers abandoned their car last night and took to the heavy timber fifteen miles north of Mauston. Today the sheriff and his men, creeping through dense undergrowth suddenly came upon Drien and Hartman crouching in a ravine.

The robbers snatched up their automatics and wheeled upon the posse. Deputy Woodward, carrying a shotgun, fired once. Both bandits fell, Drien shot through the stomach and Hartman through the back. Neither of the bandits was in condition to make a statement last night, Sheriff Wright said. Drien may die.

Joliet Police Investigate.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Police tonight were investigating discovery of a letter addressed to State Representative John M. Jenco of Joliet found torn in scraps in the abandoned car of two bandit suspects near Mauston, Wis.

Mr. Jenco, who had been reported as missing, was located tonight in Joliet, and he said that he did not know that the letter had been missing. He declared that he had been away from Joliet some time ago, but that he had been there for the last 18 days.

Chief of Police James E. Corcoran said that the letter had been stolen from Mr. Jenco's store Saturday night.

It is thought that the wounded men may have been those who murdered John Kakara, brother-in-law of Jenco, in a holdup at Kakara's saloon in Joliet Saturday.

Police tonight arrested a man who gave the name of Jimmie Howard on suspicion that he was the third member of the gang that shot Kakara and burglarized Jenco's haberdashery store.

Reports of G. O. P. Strength Downstate Encourage Chiefs

BY PARKE BROWN.

Perry B. McCullough, chairman of the Republican state central committee, asserted new confidence in the outcome of the election as the result of a stack of answers to a questionnaire he sent out last week to all the precinct committeemen in Illinois outside Cook county.

A total of 3,300 questionnaires had brought more than 2,200 replies up to last night and it was roughly estimated that less than 150 of the precinct committeemen who reported indicated anything unfavorable in the situation. If this ratio is maintained in responses to further inquiries contemplated, the Republican managers say the Democrats will not carry more than twelve or fifteen downstate counties.

Predictions Not Asked.

No official predictions concerning the margin by which Hoover or Emmerson will carry the state outside of Cook county were offered, as the questionnaire did not ask for estimates of the outlook at such an early date. But those figures may be asked from the 101 counties later in the campaign.

The three questions put to the precinct committeemen were these:

"Is Hoover gaining ground in your community?"

"Is there any disaffection among Republicans on the state ticket?"

"At this stage of the contest do you believe the normal Republican vote will be polled in your community?"

Among the unfavorable replies there were fewer negatives to the second question than to either of the other two. A few answers were that the charges made by Floyd E. Thompson, Democratic nominee for governor, have had some effect but there were only a few of this character.

The bulk of the unpleasant news was that Hoover was not gaining ground in some 100 or more precincts and that in those places the normal Republican vote was not to be expected.

Democrats Also Cheerful.

The Democratic state and county headquarters, however, were just as cheerful as the Republican offices, the good nature there being due to the way that the speech of Gov. Smith at Omaha had been received locally.

"We really have been swamped by calls and telephone messages from men and women who listened to the speech over the radio and were delighted with it," said County Chairman Martin J. O'Brien. "The broadcasting reached and influenced thousands of voters in Chicago. It was a clear demonstration of the part that radio is to play in this campaign, for much of the comment concerned the difference in personality disclosed to listeners who heard Smith's speech last night and Hoover's speech the night before."

BORAH OPENS HOOVER DRIVE FOR MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Describing Herbert Hoover as "One of the great administrators of all time" whose achievements "are among the miracles of the war," United States Senator William E. Borah of Idaho opened the Republican national campaign in Michigan here tonight.

Virtually all of Michigan's Republican leaders were among Senator Borah's hearers, having remained after their state convention today.

Of the campaign he said:

"The issues are the immediate, imminent, every day homely problems, such as farm relief, cheaper transportation, development of our waterways, control of our rivers, simplification of government, a public utilities policy, conservation of electric power, clean government, and the maintenance of our constitution as the people have written it, the enforcement of law, the protection of American industry and American labor, and kindred living vital issues."

NATIONAL G. O. P. WINS ALL NIGHT WISCONSIN FIGHT

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Hoover, Curtis, and the national Republican platform were indorsed by the state Republican convention, which wound up a stormy 17 hour session at 5:30 this morning. While in most states this would appear a commonplace statement, in Wisconsin it amounts to a political sensation, for the national Republican ticket has won not more than three indorsements in twenty years.

The convention proceedings were a paradox. La Follette followers controlled the formal organization, electing their set of officers. But the conservative faction won on the platform.

Before the conservatives could settle down to a feeling of satisfaction over this event, balloting disclosed that Herman L. Ekern, an outstanding La Follette faction leader, won the chairmanship of the state central committee over W. S. Goodland, Racine, the Kohler candidate.

How About a "Clean-up Cellar Week"?

NOT a bad idea. Let's set aside one week to putting the old cellar in shape for its busy season.

Let's have cleaner and better cellars.

He will look over your furnace and advise you of any repairs or adjustments needed to put it in good order.

A few minutes' attention to your furnace now will pay you big dividends in comfort and Anthracite savings through the winter.

Your Anthracite dealer offers you these two things:

1. Dependable fuel.
2. Dependable service.

Make use of both of them.

U. S. FROWNS ON SECRET PARLEY TO LIMIT NAVIES

Dooms League's Hope of 5 Power Accord in Paris

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19—[Special.]—Washington officials turned a cold shoulder today to the suggestion that representatives of the United States, Japan, France, Britain and Italy meet immediately in secret session at Paris to iron out disagreements on the proper method for limiting world navies.

The proposal was made yesterday at Geneva by Dr. J. M. Loudon of Holland, president of the league of nations' preparatory disarmament commission.

Dr. Loudon recommended that the representatives of the leading naval powers meet privately with him and go over the naval situation in the hope they could work out a plan for limitation which could be taken before the next session of the preparatory commission with some hope it would prove acceptable to all the powers. The Anglo-French naval agreement was suggested as a basis for discussion.

Rules Out Secret Displomacy.

Secretary of State Kellogg, while declining to comment directly on the proposition, stated flatly that the United States still is opposed to attempts to work out disarmament by secret diplomacy.

Aside from the circumstance that the proposed meeting should be secret, Mr. Kellogg is opposed to attempting any parley where the mysterious Anglo-French naval understanding is to be the basis for discussion. As a result of study devoted to the Anglo-French plan, state department officials feel it is so unacceptable to this country that time spent discussing it would be wasted. This agreement proposes the limitation of 8 inch gun cruisers and big submarines. No limit would be placed on the 6 inch gun cruiser or submarines under 600 ton displacement.

Secretary Kellogg followed up his conference with the President yesterday on the British agreement with another one late today. While official announcement is still lacking, it can now be stated flatly that the administration regards the naval limitation plan advanced in the French-British agreement as unacceptable. State department officials assert this government can never consent to any plan which permits Britain to build an unlimited supply of small cruisers while the United States would be limited in building the type she needs for sea defense.

Plan Limits Only U. S.

The more administration officials study the naval aspects of the British-French proposal for limiting big cruisers and submarines, the more they are inclined to feel that its adoption by the naval powers would not really limit any navy except that of the United States. As far as can be ascertained from the summary of the agreement sent to Washington, the British could build under such a treaty the same number of big ships as the United States. In addition she would build or maintain in commission all the small cruisers her needs required.

Under a treaty Britain probably would not cut her navy by a single ship. The United States, of course, would have the right to build the smaller ships, but as they are useless to her because of the American lack of outlying naval bases, they would not be built.

CELEBRATION TO START UNKINKING OF RIVER TODAY

Digging of the new channel of the Chicago river, between Polk and 18th streets, will be started officially today by the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company, which secured the contract for the river straightening job. A celebration will precede the event.

At 2:30 p. m. a parade of boats, headed by the steamer City of Grand Rapids, will leave the Michigan avenue bridge and proceed to Taylor street, where Commissioner of Public Works Richard W. Wolfe, at 3:15 p. m., will operate a dredge scooping out the first dirt from the channel. Mayor Thompson had been slated for this honor, but for an unannounced reason his name was stricken from the program.

Aerial bombs, band music, and speechmaking are on the afternoon's program. The public also will have an opportunity to inspect the Great Lakes company equipment, moored along the river west of the Michigan boulevard bridge, between 1 and 4 p. m.

Three Die When Chicago Train Crushes Automobile

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Three persons were killed last night when a Burlington train from Chicago crashed into their automobile in a suburb here. Those killed were John Stall, 76, Valley Ford, Wash.; Kate Stall, his wife; and Lloyd Stall, 32, their son.

PEORIA MINERS REJECT CUT; 500 MEN WALK OUT

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Five hundred men employed at the Crescent Coal company mines Nos. 5 and 6 in the La Marsh creek district walked out today, declaring they would not honor the new wage scale pact ratified by Illinois union miners last Wednesday.

Superintendents at the mines branded their action a "wildcat strike" and not in accordance with the will of the majority.

"Internal politics" and minority agitation are to blame for the trouble, they declared.

Mine Officials Hopeful.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Heartened by favorable reports from the state's mining districts, officials of the Illinois Mine Workers today expressed confidence that the coal labor situation would "adjust itself" within a short time.

Harry Fishwick, president of the Illinois miners, estimated that within another week all "wildcatters" would be back in the mines and most pits working on a normal basis.

SHOOTS SELF TO DEATH.

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 19.—(AP)—A man believed to be William Wilson of Philo, Ill., shot and killed himself today in a corn field.

SCIENTISTS PROVE VALUE OF FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Qualified experts, after careful scientific analysis, have declared that Father John's Medicine is one of the most valuable nutritious body builders known and is made of ingredients of the highest quality.

Confident of their ability to prove every claim made for Father John's Medicine, the makers engaged Seil, Putt & Rusby, eminent research chemists of New York City, to make independent tests of Father John's Medicine purchased in the open market.

Dr. Harvey A. Seil, who was a former government analyst in the Food and Drug Division, also visited the laboratory at Lowell, Mass., where Father John's Medicine is made, took samples of every ingredient and at the same time made a thorough examination of our special process of compounding.

Doctor Seil in his certificate of analysis, says in part:

"Father John's Medicine is made of the purest cod liver oil scientifically blended with other ingredients, pleasantly flavored and permanent in form. It is absolutely free of alcohol or drugs of any kind."

"The ingredients are all of the first quality as determined by the standards of the United States Pharmacopoeia." (Official government standard for this country.)

"In Father John's Medicine the nourishing elements are so prepared that they are easily taken up by the system.

In the light of present knowledge, it seems to be unquestioned that cod liver oil, when given in palatable form, such as Father John's Medicine, is one of the most valuable reconstructive nutrients known."

THE LAW SCORES IN STRONG HANDS.

The recovery of Billy Ranieri is a relief to the community and a credit to the police at work upon the case and to our present police administration. Superintendent Russell, Inspector Stege and Lieut. Riccio are especially to be congratulated. The public has also to thank Judge Comerford for his sensible and vigorous action in the situation. Without his prompt help, it is doubtful if the necessary pressure could have been made effective.

Another factor in the recovery of the child has been an aroused public opinion which has given strong moral support to Judge Comerford and the police, and which now demands that the guilty be run down, if possible, and brought to prompt account. More than this, the community now realizes that the Ranieri case is not an exceptional crime but only a flagrant symptom of a serious disease. It is intolerable that Chicago should suffer from persistent criminality within a well defined class which, if it does not condone crime, surrounds it with protection and stubbornly refuses to aid the agencies of the law in every effort to clear it up. There is no class in our community, save the Sicilians, which makes itself an accomplice of crime in this way, and there should now be a determined effort by the federal and local authorities, acting coöperatively, to root out the evil. If any legislative assistance is necessary or desirable, the press and civic associations will gladly do what they can do to induce it.

LESSONS IN RAILROADING.

A delegation of American railroad representatives were impressed with the efficiency and comfort of English passenger transportation, which was demonstrated to the group particularly in the performance of the Southern Belle, one of England's crack trains. Attaining a speed of eighty-five miles an hour, the Southern Belle completed a fifty and one-half mile trip in fifty-five minutes over a roadbed which, the delegates admitted, surpassed anything in the United States. The luxury and mechanical efficiency of the train were admired by the delegation.

We are hopeful that the receptiveness of the delegation to higher standards of rail travel is an indication that American railroad management is not hopelessly committed to routine and unimaginative operation. There has developed the conception that railroad executives are charged merely with the preservation of the corporation's property and its rehabilitation according to established standards. If this delegation, engaged in a survey of European passenger methods, brings back with it not only recommendations for specific improvements but an enthusiastic conception of the future development of the railroads that will keep pace with the flexibility of companion industries, it will have accomplished something not ordinarily accomplished by junkets. The members of the group will find it difficult to impress their new spirit upon stodgy and bureaucratic organizations, of which they may be a part, but they should make a determined effort to register their influence.

In addition to the resistance of executives to the introduction of improvements and to the adoption of improvement programs, initiative is further discouraged by ill considered official intervention to which the railroads are subject and by the injudicious demands of railroad employés. The regulatory and corrective functions of the public commissions frequently create obstacles to railroad progress and have the moral effect of making railroad administration purely a conservation rather than a constructive enterprise. These restrictions are not only discouraging to experienced and active-minded railroad executives but they repel younger men of progressive genius. The unproductive energy expended in negotiating with employés, whose demands are frequently extravagant and fantastic, also diverts interest from the business of constructive development. There remains, however, a substantial latitude for endeavor, and it should be the intention of the European delegation to utilize that margin for initiative in making its voice heard.

It is significant that the delegates were interested in the operating speed of English trains. If the railroads in this country can be induced to maintain trains at a speed of from sixty to seventy-five miles an hour over roadbeds so constructed that the travel will be comfortable and secure, the growing appeal of the airplane will be largely offset. We are informed that one western railroad system, which could easily reduce the running time from Chicago to the Pacific coast from six to eight hours, is prevented from establishing this service because of an agreement with a competitive system, whereby the faster line is slowed down in return for other advantages. A business outlook which permits such an understanding does not possess the constructive enterprise to compete with the keener methods of aviation engineers, executives and capitalists. Instead of reluctantly entering into combination air-rail agreements for purposes of preservation, there should be a demonstration of aggressive vitality on the part of the railroads, which would develop a competitive service. This vitality, if it existed, would be expressed, for instance, in establishing an eighteen hour Chicago-New York schedule, even though that would necessitate expensive roadbed and mechanical improvements.

The interest of the delegates in the sumptuousness of the English trains is also encouraging. Although there is comparatively little night travel in England and on the continent, the representatives should consider the desirability of the European system of sleeping compartments over the American berths. The lower berth and the tortuous upper are far from meeting the standards of comfort demanded in other phases of American existence. In complacently maintaining the antiquated institution of the upper and lower berths, railroad operation illustrates its lack of responsiveness to the justifiable requirements of this day.

The public is impatient with the reactionary tendency of the railroads, not only because it results in the stagnation of the railroad service but retards development of dependent industry and affects the community life of the country. The realization of the Chicago plan, for instance, has been substantially delayed through the failure of the railroads to start construction of the Union terminal and through their unwillingness to electrify. It is to be hoped that the counsel of the European trip of the railroad delegation will not be neglected.

A PROHIBITION POSER.

We share the impatience discernible in Gov. Smith's reply to the second question discharged at him in Omaha by a somewhat inept local Republicanism. The question was, "Do you believe the country will be more prosperous with liquor or without, and why?"

Gov. Smith's response was straight and conclusive. "Nobody, no living person, no matter how far-seeing, could make any answer to that question, because there has never been liquor out of this country."

The question was typical of the fraudulent issue prohibitionists try to foist upon the discussion of their experiment. It is an academic poser, having no relation whatever to our conditions or to the practical problems created by the 18th amendment, the Volstead act, and the various state enforcement acts. It assumes that the issue between prohibitionists and opponents is between having liquor in the United States or not having it, and no such issue is presented by the facts. We are confronted, to use Grover Cleveland's celebrated sententious phrase, by a condition and not a theory, and the question whether the country would be better with or without liquor can interest only cranks. The country under prohibition is flooded with liquor and there is no evidence offering to a reasonable mind an expectation or hope or prospect of having a country without liquor. The only practical question is how to control liquor, and how to abate the deplorable conditions which abuse of the liquor traffic creates and which the effort to impose teetotalism on a nation of a hundred and eighteen million people, a large proportion of whom resent and resist the effort, has extended and intensified.

The question posed by the Omaha interrogators seeks to ignore the notorious evils which are afflicting the nation at this moment throughout the land. It avoids the fact that lies at the heart of the whole experiment in law enforced teetotalism, which is the fact that teetotalism is notoriously and inherently unenforceable by law. As we have pointed out, the means of resisting prohibition are and always will be available to anybody and everybody. That any one can make or have a still and the means and material of making intoxicating beverages. To prevent the private manufacture, possession, and use of intoxicants would necessitate a perpetual civil war in this country with half the population devoting most of its time to disciplining the other half, or at best it would require a standing army of law enforcers so large and so active that no civilized people would submit to its cost or tolerate its surveillance.

Teetotalism has never been enforced in any American state or in any known country. The only question prohibition presents is one of regulation. Prohibition is founded upon a practical impossibility, and ignoring it paralyzes progress upon the only practicable path to temperance, which is by way of practicable regulation and education.

MOSCOW AND THE TREATY.

The soviet's approval of the treaty renouncing war as an instrument of policy may be as sincere as that of some other signatories. But it has a more obvious irony. A régime which built its power upon the wholesale murder of dissentients and suspected dissentients, which by deliberate policy destroyed about as thoroughly as was practicable a whole social class, and which ruthlessly prohibits or punishes free thought and free discussion, can adhere to the Kellogg treaty only through expediency. That treaty is an effort, sincere at least on the part of its American advocates, to substitute the arbitrament of reason for that of force; but communism stands for force and in Russia has willfully removed the only substitute for force, free discussion. Perhaps no more sanguinary and remorseless tyranny has been set up in the history of civilization, and its adherence to a treaty renouncing war is a brazen fraud. Moscow plots violence wherever it can. Violence, class war, class destruction are its approved methods for bringing about the millennium. It signed the Kellogg treaty for reasons of prestige and expediency. If there are sincere friends of the treaty, they should not have permitted Moscow to sign, for if the treaty is to mean what it declares, it is incompatible with the ethics and policy of the Russian government and to accept Moscow's pretense of adhesion is to cast the shadow of hypocrisy upon the whole proceeding.

Editorial of the Day

GNAW BONE.

[Des Moines Tribune-Capital.]

There is something refreshingly original about the decision of the honest folks of Westport, Ind., to restore to the town its original name, Gnaw Bone.

There was nothing distinctive, nothing interesting about the name Westport. There are fifteen other postoffices of that name in the United States. But Gnaw Bone—that is an American name; nobody could imagine a Gnaw Bone in France or England. It has the piquancy of the pioneers; it is as characteristic as Kokomo, or Kalamazoo, or the Skunk river.

Maps of the United States teem with prosaic names—cities and towns named after places in Europe which they do not resemble in the least.

Americans are too prone anyway to feel an inferiority complex. We ape Europe in art, clothes, literature, and many other things. So it is a relief to hear of a town that is willing to be itself under a name like Moose Jaw or Greybull or Gnaw Bone.

How to Keep Well By Dr W. A. Evans

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

HAY FEVER SELF-DEFENSE.

ONE method of avoiding hay fever is to run away from the pollens which cause it. This is an old method and one which some make use of with advantage. Some have run away to the Lake Superior region, especially to the islands. Some take to the sea, going on long cruises. Some go to the snowline in the mountains and some bury themselves in the centers of the large cities.

Dr. William Scheppegrell suggests that South and Central America be added to the list of choices. Even though ragweed were found to abound in South America, a person might escape hay fever by going there for July to October, the cold weather season on the other side of the equator.

Dr. Scheppegrell's investigation leads him to think there is almost no hay fever among the people of South America. He was told there was some of the disorder in the Argentine. Such as there is is probably due to ragweed and much the same grasses as offend here. He could get no report from Chile, but even if the people of the lowlands have the disease there are many mountain towns that should escape it. In Peru it was reported that there was some ragweed and some hay fever. In Bolivia there was some hay fever, but not much. He had no report from Paraguay, none from Brazil, and none from Colombia. In Uruguay the hay fever situation was about as it is in the southern states of the United States. There was said to be no hay fever in Venezuela and Ecuador did not report. The three Guianas reported their people did not suffer from hay fever. In Panama there is some mango hay fever and some of the allied disorders due to other plants, but no ragweed hay fever. The disease was reported as unknown in Nicaragua, Guatemala, and Costa Rica. There was said to be very little of it in British Honduras and perhaps also in Mexico. However, conditions vary greatly in different regions in Mexico. San Salvador is the only Central American country reporting hay fever as prevailing to any extent worth considering.

It is quite likely that careful study of conditions in any of these countries would show that while they have no ragweed hay fever or hay fever due to timothy or to oak pollen they have mango fever or some variant of our hay fever. However, it would not follow that a man sensitized to ragweed pollen and running away, say to Panama, would find himself harmed by mango.

MILK AND CONSTIPATION.

A. C. writes: Will you kindly advise what to put in milk to prevent its causing constipation?

REPLY.

Drinking milk does not cause constipation. An exclusive milk diet sometimes results in constipation because it leaves so little residue. The remedy is to eat some bulky foods, such as bran and vegetables, along with the milk. If you have in mind constipation in a baby, add something to the milk diet.

Add some sugar, corn sirup, or molasses to the milk; or, feed soups and vegetables if the baby is old enough for them.

HEART CLASS.

Mrs. G. L. writes: What do you mean by a "heart class"? I have heart trouble and my ankles swell.

REPLY.

A heart class is a loosely organized group of people with heart disease. They meet once a week, once a month, or less often, but periodically, to receive instruction from a doctor and nurse on how to live. As a rule, the class meets in the evening at some convenient place.

The nurse usually follows up with home visits to see that the rules are being lived up to. Each member of the class has careful examinations of the chest at proper intervals.

DILATATION OF HEART.

J. W. D. writes: 1. What is meant by dilatation of the heart?

2. Can it cause sudden death?

3. What is murmur of the heart?

REPLY.

1. Increase in size of cavities of the heart.
2. Yes.
3. The sound made by the blood as it flows by crippled heart valves.

MR. BYRNE OBLIGES.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—[Friend of the People.]—In answer to a writer in this morning's TRIBUNE Mr. Byrne replies in part that where there is a rank growth of weeds in the parkway the city will cut them "as a matter of public policy."

Speaking as a director of a home owners' club, I can say that Mr. Bryne can gain the gratitude of our neighborhood if he will cut the weeds on the parkways on Seventy-third street from California avenue to Western avenue.

M. H.

Report is made that weeds have been cut in the parkways and along edge of sidewalks on both sides of West 73d street, between Western and California avenues, as per request.

THOMAS H. BYRNE,
Superintendent of Streets.

ROVERS AND ROVER.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a man lawfully shoot a dog?

2. Can he take action through the courts against the owner of the dog for merely chasing his chickens, whose roamings about the beach have no limits?

3. Were the dog to kill a chicken which is not penned could he demand the dog be done away with?

V. M.

1. No. 2. If no damage is proved then nothing could be recovered. 3. Not for the first offense.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MAY LOSE HIS PROPERTY.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—On Oct. 1, 1927, I bought a home on contract, paying $500 down. I have kept up the regular payments until now. My salary has been reduced so that I am unable to make the payments of $65 a month. How long can I hold this place and have I any claim on the $500 which I paid down?

R. R.

The law provides that if the buyer has merely a contract then the seller could forfeit it for default without allowing the fifteen month redemption period which is allowed in case of foreclosure of a mortgage.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

MADAME TUSSAUD'S.

Speak, breathe, you things,
Live again.

Speak, breathe, you kings,
Let those mighty arms do tremendous things,
Let those chests heave
Because of valorous deeds done,
Speak, you inanimate things . . . breathe.

Speak, breathe, you things,
Live again.

You ancient queens . . .
Let passion hold sway
In this a modern day,
Hold again in your arms your loved ones,
Sing to them, caress them, love them.
Speak, breathe, you queens,
Before your mirrors, preen
And be lovely again.
Speak, breathe, you things,
Live again.

You wise men, you popular men,
You beautiful women,
Tell us your tale,
Tell us your experience in this vale
Of tears.
Would you come back again?

JIMOFTHETAB.

THE TEN WISE MEN of Omaha who asked the famous eight questions of Al Smith Tuesday night are said to be now out of danger and the doctors hope they will soon be sitting up and taking nourishment. We'll bet they are wondering whether it was a tornado or a boiler explosion that happened to 'em Tuesday night.

We Thought They Had Him.

JAZBO OF OLD DUBUQUE.

RUTH ELDER'S HUSBAND is a volunteer fireman on Byrd's antarctic trip, and he is to receive just one cent a year. He may be afraid Ruth will attach his pay for alimony.

Boola Bulla, Boola Bulla.

R. H. L.: Don't you think it's about time for these prohibition padlockers to get collegiate and adopt "Hold 'em, Yale," for their battle cry?

RUSTY JOE.

THEY'RE FASTENING nicknames on the candidates these days, and we suggest that after what happened in Omaha we call him Al Ask-Me-Another Smith.

Once More Unto the Breach, Dear Friends!

RHL: I have discovered and herewith lay bare the strategy of the determined female. When leap year is new on the calendar and all men are wary, then she is coy and retiring. But when the fanfare fades away and men forget that it's still leap year, then she emerges with the huntress' gleam in her eye and takes them unawares. I look about me, and everywhere they're falling. Milton Shaxpur Dickens, most stalwart of celibate brothers, was caught napping and imprisoned in the holy bonds. Smitty smiled when he should have been stern, and now he's married. Forsyth, for whom I had great hopes, crinkled a crisp new license under my nose, and I haven't seen him since. And Sullivan and Prexy Jr. and Frank Dahm are slipping, slipping. I alone remain invincible. Like Gibraltar I stand, and feminine wiles surge against me in vain. Up, drawbridge! Fall, portcullis! To the walls, men! Repulse the attack for three months longer. As for any blondes grabbing me—huh! I'd like to see 'em try it! (And when I say blondes I mean brunettes, too. I'm just impossible, that's all.)

OSWALD THE GREAT.

AMONG OTHER THINGS that the Philadelphia grand jury has discovered is that Miss Alice Coony owned a huge alcohol distillery and didn't know it. Bet from now on Alice looks under the bed at night to see if there isn't a rhinoceros, or a freight engine, or something like that there.

There Was a Back Yard Fight—

RHL: There was a back yard fight yesterday out Ashland avenue way, and when the policeman got there he met a brick. "Who threw that brick?" yelled the policeman. "I don't know," said a sharp voice from behind a high board fence, "—but I'll have you understand that it wasn't the Republican national committee."

ORACLE.

WELL, ALL RIGHT, if it's the thing now to ask questions, we'll ask the Ten Wise Men of Omaha eight questions, which we guarantee are just as good questions as the ones they asked Al. Here they are, come on, boys, speak up quick!

1. How old is Ann?
2. Why does a chicken cross the road?
3. Who hit Billy Patterson?
4. Who stole Charley Ross?
5. Can a duck swim?
6. Does a house burn up or down?
7. What was George Washington's first name?
8. Where were you the night of May 4?

SHRDLU.

R. H. L.: The two great political parties are currently represented by the elephant and the donkey. Now that Colonel Etaoin Shrdlu is the candidate of another great party, I submit that the bobtailed cat would be a suitable emblem for our great and glorious party. And on the cat the mystic numerals, "10:15." Yes? No?

JAY KEIGH.

"WELL, DIDYA hear Cal last night when he came out flatfooted for the McCally-Hogan bill?" "Sure, I heard him. He's all wet on that MacGally Bogan bill." "Surest thing you know. What does the Macauley-Mogan bill have to do with it?" "I ask you? McFallon and Logan are just plain nuts." "'Swhat I think, too. What's this bird Pat Nally ever done any how? And the other guy, Hoggen? T'ell with both of 'em." "Them's my sentiments. McBally-Pokem— They're a pair of bums."

And Let the Gels Run Around Barelegged.

RHL: Doesn't it strike you, Dick, as just faintly ironic that a government which forbids a full-grown man a glass of beer will permit a dance marathon?

J. O'D.

IT'S a radio campaign. Now is the time for every good man to listen in.

Oh, Mr. Hoover, How Could You!

Dick: Tell 'em not to be cross at Al for saying "ain't." Mr. Hoover just said "his'ry" and "pardner." My radio told me. THE HAPPY HOOSIER.

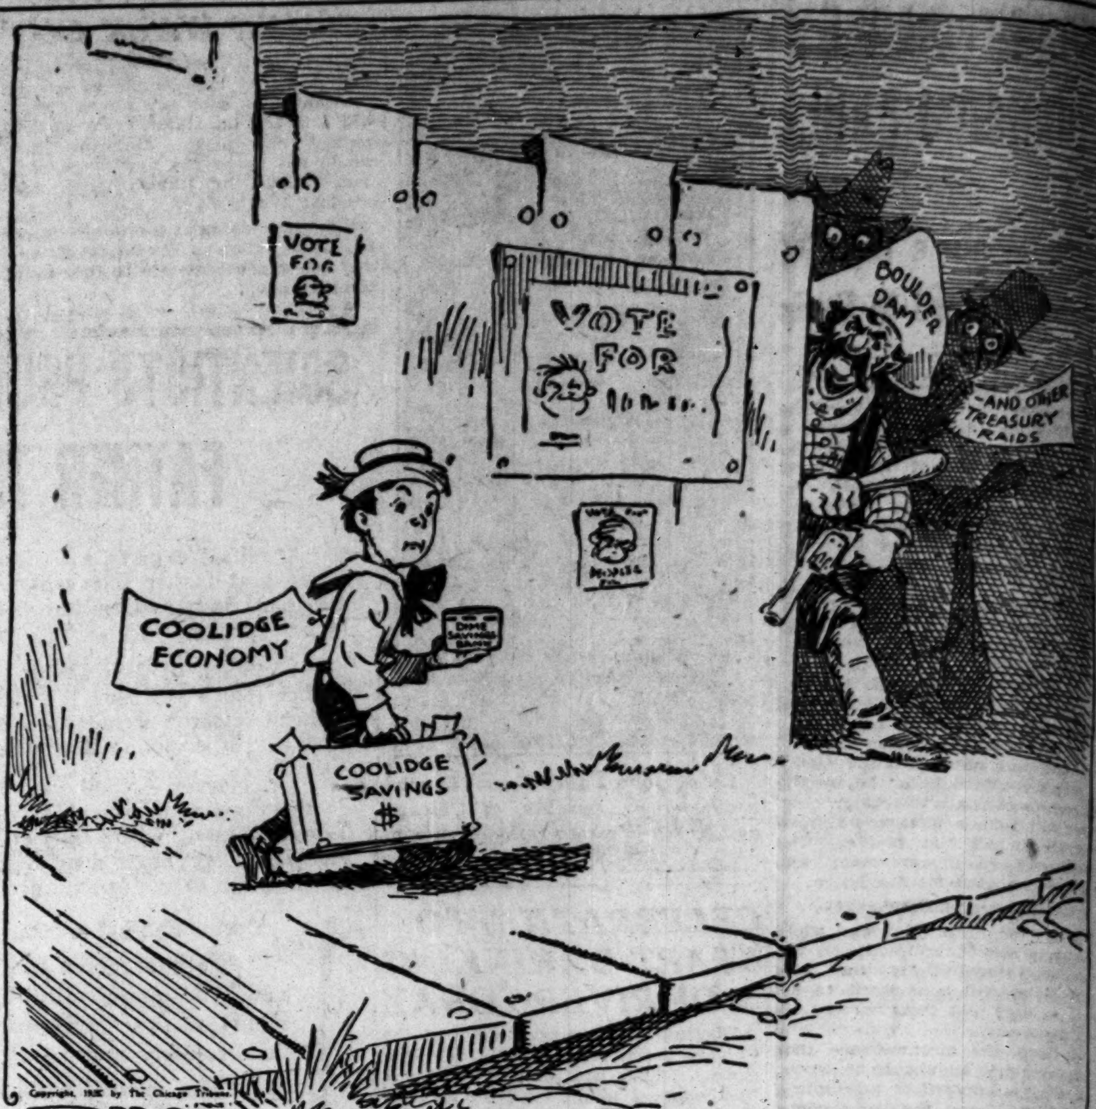
IT'S FORGET ME NOT DAY for our soldiers next Saturday, and you'd better hunt up a tagger that morning as quick as you get through with the sinkers and Java. There's four thousand soldier boys of Illinois in the hospital and seven thousand out of work, so when you buy your little flower do it nice; kick in with something from two-bits up to a buck. And make it snappy.

Well, of Course—They're Both Married!

R. H. L.: It is being generally agreed that married couples caught spooning (lovely word!) in the park should not be arrested. Shouldn't there also be some leniency shown if one of us—them—if one of them is married? GEORGE THE RED MAN.

GEOLOGICAL EXPERTS say that the coast of Maine is sinking at the rate of one foot in every hundred years. If this item gives any satisfaction to the Democrats they're welcome to it. R. H. L.

O, WHAT WILL BECOME OF THE LITTLE ORPHAN BOY?



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY.

SEPTEMBER 20, 1863.

WASHINGTON.—All the Richmond papers of the 16th and 17th received here state that Gen. Lee's army has been in line of battle for several days, between the Rapidan and Orange Court House.

NEW YORK.—A Newbern, N. C., letter of the 15th to the Herald says that intelligence from the front is that a large rebel force, consisting of cavalry, infantry, and artillery, arrived at Kingston. The main body is said to be Imboden's cavalry from Virginia and to number 40,000, but this probably is exaggerated. Between 20,000 and 30,000 rebel troops passed through Raleigh a few days ago.

NEW YORK.—The steamer McClellan, from Morris island the 16th, arrived with the news that Gen. Gilmore at that time was mounting guns on Cummings Point to shell the city of Charleston. The rebel fire from James island continues, but is not very effective.

CHICAGO.—James H. Roberts of Chicago and Miss Harriet Eliza Smith, daughter of S. S. Smith, late of Warren, Mass., but now of Chicago, were married at South Hadley Falls, Mass., on Sept. 16 by the Rev. Richard Knight.

SPRINGFIELD.—The state sanitary commission, organized about a year ago by Gov. Yates, has received in cash donations $28,000, of which $20,000 has been expended. In money and supplies the receipts have been more than $100,000. The headquarters will be moved from Springfield to Cairo.

MICHIGAN CITY.—Snow fell here to the average depth of one inch.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 20, 1898.

MANILA.—The Republica Filipina asserts that an attempt was made to poison Aguinaldo. A steward saw a Spanish prisoner tampering with a bowl of soup intended for the insurgent leader. The steward tasted the soup and fell dead. Eleven Franciscan friars are alleged to have been engaged in the conspiracy.

NEW YORK.—A dispatch to the World from Washington says: "Secretary of War R. A. Alger has placed his resignation at the President's disposal. This was his last official act before leaving Washington ten days ago, yet the fact has just come to light. The resignation was not made out in writing, but was tendered to the President orally. The probabilities are that it will be accepted."

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Maj. E. J. Lang of the Fourth Illinois regiment was placed on trial before a court-martial on charges of sending a telegram to Gov. Tanner stating that 90 per cent of the enlisted men wished to be sent to Cuba to offset an appeal that the regiment be mustered out.

WASHINGTON. — Formal instructions were issued ordering 5,000 troops to Manila to reinforce Gen. Otis. Distrust of Aguinaldo is seen in the issuing of the order.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 20, 1918.

LONDON.—More than 10,000 German prisoners and sixty guns have been counted following the British offensive yesterday in the St. Quentin area, Field Marshal Haig reported. Furious counter attacks have been met and crushed at various points of the sixteen mile front, the heaviest fighting being in the region of Epehy and Gouzeaucourt. In these assaults the German losses have been extremely heavy. Three and a half miles southwest of St. Quentin the French fought their way over the St. Quentin canal and captured the villages of Contescourt and Castres. Still further to the south the French took the village of Benay.

AMSTERDAM. — Peace demonstrations organized by Social Democrats were inaugurated at Essen and Cologne and in a large number of towns in Saxony, a Cologne dispatch to Dutch newspapers says.

THE HAGUE.—The Rhenische Gazette reports that all the allied ministers, formerly at Jassy, war capital of Roumania, have been arrested in Petrograd, including the American minister, Charles Vopicka of Chicago.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE LORRAINE.—Lieut. F. Luke of Phoenix, Ariz., added another enemy airplane to his list yesterday. This makes eleven balloons and an airplane he has destroyed since Sept. 12.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

MORE MILLIONS FOR FAHERTY.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The writer takes issue with your policy as expressed in your recent editorial, "More Millions for Faherty." Faherty's character has little or no bearing on the issues as to whether or not the voters ought to approve the forty-five million dollar bond issues recommended by him. The major portion of this amount is wanted for the purpose of paying judgments entered in favor of persons whose properties have been condemned for various widening projects. These projects have already been approved by the people and by THE TRIBUNE, and the judgments for the most part have been entered during the previous administration. Since then many of these property owners have remodeled their buildings, moved them back in anticipation of the street widenings, and they are now impatiently waiting for the city to pay them its just obligations. Other owners who have not yet remodeled are obliged to keep their property in a poor state of repair and largely unoccupied because few merchants will attempt to establish a business in stores from which they may be ousted any day that the city sees fit to demand possession and pay the judgment. No lawyer familiar with the deplorable situation now existing will dispute that the city by its unreasonable delay in the payment of these judgments is subjecting itself to numerous justifiable damage suits.

In the face of growing sentiment for wider streets to relieve traffic congestion you surely cannot commit yourself to a policy which must entail a halting of all public improvements until a new administration comes into office. Are we to stop the wheels of progress now, in the midst of our extensive preparations for the coming World's Fair? Your reasons are hardly sufficient to justify such a course. The people by all means should be urged to vote the necessary funds to pay condemnation judgments for the completion of such improvements as Ashland and Western avenues. Your aid as "treasury watchdog" can well be employed in a constructive way by concentrating on the new state's attorney to guard against misappropriation of these funds.

IRVING H. FLAMM.

BUS LINE TAXATION.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—In a letter published in the Voice of the People Sept. 9, W. R. Fowler Jr. said that in addition to a high license fee bus operators also pay a franchise tax, a weight tax, and a seating tax. The fact is otherwise. Methods of assessing motor vehicle license fees vary greatly in different states. The custom is to charge higher license fees for busses than for private automobiles, either by imposing additional charges or by charging on a special basis, and this excess charge, however arrived at, constitutes the so-called franchise tax. The factors which variously enter into this excess charge include weight, seating capacity, mileage, revenue and others, used singly or in combination. Thus weight and seating taxes, in states which impose them, go to make up the so-called franchise tax, which in turn is part of the license fee, and therefore these taxes are merely elements of the license fee, not additions thereto. The foregoing is based upon a digest of the motor vehicle tax laws of Jan. 1, 1928, compiled by the motor vehicle conference committee.

Mr. Fowler also errs in saying bus operators pay unusually high property taxes. They pay identically the same tax rate as other taxpayers. It is unconstitutional to assess property taxes on any but a uniform basis.

In this connection, it would be interesting to learn more about the cases alluded to by Mr. Fowler in which, he says, busses pay as high as 78 per cent of the total maintenance cost of the highways used.

LOYD J. KIERNAN.

THE SUPREME COURT AND PROCEDURE.

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 13.—I note, with much satisfaction, the approval of your valuable paper of the plan of the state bar association to extend to the Supreme court of Illinois the rule making power in the matter of court procedure in this state.

It is not the fault of the legal profession that this advance step has not heretofore been taken, as is suggested in the editorial. While it is true that lawyers are conservative in the matter of modifying established legal systems, still the members of the legal profession of this state through their bar association have for a considerable time recognized the need of the reform proposed and are on record as indorsing it.

During the session of the Fifty-fifth general assembly the writer, at the request of the bar association, introduced and sponsored a bill in the senate, the purpose of which was to extend to the Supreme court the rule making power in matters of legal procedure. This bill was defeated not because the lawyers of the state, to any considerable extent, opposed it, but for the reason that in the rush of business attending the session enough of the members of the general assembly did not realize its real merits sufficiently to indorse its passage.

JESSE L. DECK.

A DANGEROUS INTERSECTION.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—I consider the intersection of Grace street, Sheridan road (3800 block), and Lake Shore drive a very dangerous crossing. A mistake was made, in my opinion, in placing the over and under plan at Irving Park boulevard and the outer drive. It should have been erected at the point above mentioned.

Please call the attention of auto drivers, bus passengers, and pedestrians to this zone of danger. I would suggest to the Lincoln park commissioners that a policeman be stationed there, at least during the peak hours.

Last night a very serious accident was avoided by a hair's breadth. As it happened, there was a collision between a coach and two autos. I believe only two were slightly injured. One of my neighbors was killed there in May.

HARRY J. POWERS.

MAINE AS A BAROMETER.

St. Joseph, Mich., Sept. 13.—I desire to call your attention to your article of Wednesday, Sept. 12, "Maine Barometer Correct Fifteen Times Out of Twenty-two Since 1840." It should be sixteen times out of twenty-two. In 1916 Maine went Republican in September and gave its electoral vote to Hughes in November.

JAPANESE BACK PLAN FOR BIG 5 DISARM PARLEY

Other Powers in League Shy at Proposal.

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

GENEVA, Sept. 19.—Japan is ready to accept the proposal offered by Dr. J. Loudon of the Netherlands yesterday for a meeting of the representatives of the five great powers to discuss a naval disarmament agreement as a preliminary to the next session of the preparatory disarmament commission.

Viscount Sato, Tokio delegate to the league of nations, today informed the powers that his government has approved the plan for private conversation which the president of the preparatory disarmament commission suggested yesterday.

Japan probably is the only nation to take the offer seriously, because the representatives of the other big powers squelched Dr. Loudon so effectively that the Japanese envoy was the only one to mention the matter at today's discussions of the third assembly commission.

Germany Asks Early Parley.

The entire afternoon was spent in haggling over Count von Bernstorff's resolution, which proposed another general disarmament conference during the year 1929. The resolution also appealed to the five big naval powers, the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan, to reconcile their differences.

The various delegations, except Germany, appeared to be agreed that there is not a chance in the world of holding a general conference on disarmament within the next eighteen months. Nor could the assembled diplomats agree on a date for calling the next preparatory disarmament meeting.

"We must not proceed too hastily," one after another popped up to say until it appeared likely that the British proposal to wait until next spring before fixing a date would be accepted.

Wait on Attitude of U. S.

Every one here is awaiting word from Washington on America's attitude toward the Franco-English naval accord, and there was an insinuation at today's meeting that there is no use of going ahead with disarmament until the position of the United States is defined.

Joseph Paul-Boncour of France made another effort to get the league to approve the Paris-London pact. Count von Bernstorff would have none of it.

"It seems curious to ask us to approve a secret pact whose contents are withheld from us," Germany said.

France Denies Air Pact.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—The French foreign office today denied a report printed in foreign newspapers that Paris and London had reached an agreement on air forces.

DIVORCES MATE FOR THIRD TIME IN SEVEN YEARS

Mrs. Josephine Witt Hiltwein, 3347 Sheffield avenue, yesterday won her third divorce from Edward Hiltwein. She told her attorney, Harold Jackson, that there will be a different bridegroom when she makes her fourth march to the altar as soon as the decree is signed.

Mrs. Hiltwein was first married in 1921, when she was 18 years old. She said her husband was her childhood sweetheart. The next year she obtained a decree, but in 1923 she was wed to him a second time. The second marriage lasted four years.

On April 19 of last year Mrs. Hiltwein obtained her second divorce. The next day Hiltwein married her for the third time. She charged cruelty in each case.

AIMEE IN PARIS TO SEE HOW 'SONS OF SATAN' FROLIC

Seeking Inspiration for English Work.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—"I am going sightseeing to discover how the pleasure loving sons of satan spend their time in Paris," Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, said while seated in her luxurious suite in a Champs Elysees hotel this afternoon.

"It is shocking to see bars wide open on the street, with housewives drinking at the counters, children carrying bottles of wine and men lounging at tables at all hours of the day and night," she continued indignantly. "If that is the surface of Paris, the core must be thoroughly rotten. After I take my children to the Louvre and Eiffel tower I am going to gather data on the manner in which the devil wins converts in France."

The evangelist, who arrived in Paris with a retinue of three secretaries, a press agent, a business manager, and two servants, showed exceptional reluctance in being interviewed and played hide and seek half the way across the capital with reporters before the latter were able to track her down as she was peeking out the door of her hotel suite.

"All right, I am beaten," the gospel preacher gasped, giving an imitation of a poor, helpless woman. "I really am so tired of traveling and working I want to rest two days in Paris, then relax a fortnight in Switzerland to get an inspiration for my campaign to chase Satan out of England. So you will excuse me if I say only a few words.

"Europe as well as America is on the verge of the greatest religious awakening the world has ever known," she said, intimating that she is the one chosen as the divine alarm clock.

"These women smoking and drinking in cafés, these sheiks and shebas dancing in cabarets, these inflammatory novels and rotten plays are all doomed and we are going back to the Bible as the basis of our faith."

She hesitated, and then:

"I am afraid from what I hear, the Parisians feel it less than the folks in Los Angeles. If I only talked French I would put the light of faith in France that would bring a new renaissance."

NO CAUSE FOUND FOR SINKING OF R. H. MORSE YACHT

Hours of searching by coast guard crews of the Kenosha station yesterday failed to reveal the cause of the sinking at dawn yesterday of the $150,000 yacht Rosinco, flagship of the Chicago Yacht club and the property of Col. Robert H. Morse. George L. Weed, Chicago broker, was rescued with a crew of six men after escaping in a leaky rowboat.

No traces of floating dock timbers were found at the scene, twelve miles east of Kenosha, nor was the derelict piledriver, supposed to have caused the accident, to be found. All that remained of the Rosinco, which sank in 400 feet of water, was an oily surface, floating cushions, a captain's hat, some neckties, and a few life preservers. Coast guards called it a closed incident, awaiting only the customary visit of adjusters to the scene.

ALLEGED POLICE KILLER IS HELD.

A coroner's jury yesterday ordered the holding of Maurice Luce, 4241 South Fairfield avenue, for the slaying of Policeman Leonard T. Jagler in a holdup a week ago. Two others, James Nolan and Robert Hendriv, alias Corwun, are being sought.

NORTH CHINESE WAR LORDS HALT BATTLE TO TALK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEKING, Sept. 19.—An armistice has been arranged between the north China war lords. Gen. Chang Chung-chang, leader of the Chihli and Shantung forces, is conferring with representatives of Nanking and Mukden at Luanchow over the terms for his surrender.

The Shantung leader has been offered safe conduct to Dairen, Manchuria, with a cash bonus, provided he surrenders. Gen. Chang, who has twenty-six wives now at Dairen, demands the retention of a bodyguard of 10,000 men, with the privilege of remaining in the Jehol district.

In event the negotiations fail the gigantic ex-governor of Shantung is determined to attack the Fengtien, having assurance of the support of many Manchurian generals, who are dissatisfied with Gen. Chang Hsieu-liang's intention to join the Nationalists.

FEEDER BUSSES RULED ILLEGAL BY STATE BOARD

Blow to Northwest Side; Appeal Planned.

fore we have been delayed but as soon as we have the order we can appeal and have it out before a judge."

Mr. Holmes explained that an appeal on the Diversey avenue feeder bus case already is pending in the Circuit court and that the appeals on the other lines will be made immediately. He added that he expected twenty other civic and business federations on the northwest side to join the federation in financing the court fight.

Feeder bus service on fourteen streets is involved in the petitions which the commission has indicated it will reject. They are Diversey avenue, Belmont avenue, Addison street, Elston avenue, Montrose avenue, Central avenue, Laramie avenue, Narragansett avenue, Montrose avenue, Western avenue, North avenue, Lincoln avenue, Addison street, West 31st street, and 103d street.

ALDERMEN'S TOPIC

Waukesha, Wis., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—While the Illinois commerce commission today at Springfield was holding the operation of feeder busses by the Chicago Surface Lines illegal, a discussion of the feeder bus proposition consumed most of the first session of the Frankhauser city council subcommittee on local transportation. The subcommittee came to Waukesha yesterday to agree upon a new transit program and franchise ordinance for Chicago.

Despite the action of the commerce commission the aldermen were agreed that the people are right in demanding the feeder busses to connect for a seven cent fare with the car lines, and they anticipated court action to override the state body's ruling. Earlier Ald. Jacob Arvey had predicted the ruling by the commission, saying, "Let us talk frankly; you know down deep in your heart that the commerce commission controls the situation and that they will not permit feeder busses."

Discuss Mayor's Veto.

Mayor Thompson last week had vetoed the bus ordinances after the council passed it, and although the commission's ruling appeared to uphold his position the mayor came in for some censure.

"Whoever advised the mayor to veto the ordinances is not his friend and never will be," Ald. J. B. McDonough said. "The people want the busses and are going to get them." He turned to Ald. O. F. Nelson, the Thompson floor leader in the council. "I know that you advised the mayor against the veto," he added, "and so did Arvey and Ald. Toman."

No one questioned McDonough's statement, and he added: "Somebody is putting pressure on the mayor and council in favor of the motor coach company. It's a shame, taking advantage of the mayor that way. He's a sick man, no question about it."

Ald. Ryan declared: "The ordinance we are drafting must be approved by the people. We had better do something which will convince the public we are sincerely trying to provide better transportation."

And Ald. McDonough again: "If we get a fine service for a seven cent fare by a consolidation of the surface and elevated lines, the motor coach company could not exist for more than a year or so on a ten cent fare."

In addition to the committee, James Sawyer and Willard Rhodes of the City club sat in on the discussions.

City Fights "L" Increase on Basis of Valuation

The elevated lines have boosted the valuation of their properties far above what they are actually worth, in an effort to show they are entitled to the 10 cent fare which the public is now paying, it was intimated yesterday by Congressman Frank Reid, representing the city in the rate hearing before Federal Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason.

The congressman indicated the city will base its fight against the straight 10 cent fare, which is a 20 per cent increase over the previous rates, on the ground that the property valuation of approximately $92,000,000 claimed by the elevated lines actually should be only about $68,000,000. The city is contending that the company's estimate of its operating expenses is "excessive and includes many items that should not be included," and that its estimate of its income is "too low and inadequate."

It was while C. E. Thompson, vice president of the Chicago Rapid Transit lines, was on the stand testifying concerning the company's property valuation that Mr. Reid indicated the city's position.

Mr. Thompson had been asked concerning the securities representing the physical properties of the elevated lines, and he had set the value of them at $91,918,200. Then Reid spoke up.

"Isn't it a fact," he said, "that the actual or market value of those securities is much nearer $58,000,000 than $92,000,000?"

Mr. Thompson hesitated, but finally admitted: "There is a difference."

Mr. Reid, in asking the question, referred to a memorandum he held in his hand. He later explained that this was a list of the elevated lines' securities representing a face value of the $92,000,000, but added that the city's experts had set down in an adjacent column the actual market values of each block of those securities and that that column added up to approximately only $58,000,000.

Aside from this figure, it was not explained exactly how the city expects to prove the actual value of "L" properties on which fares should be based is only $68,000,000 as against $92,000,000.

The hearing was adjourned yesterday with Mr. Reid demanding many documents from the company, which he asserted he needs to make a proper cross-examination of the witnesses who have testified for the company. It will be resumed at 10:30 this morning.

Life long hopes of the late Cap'n George Wellington Streeter to gain possession of "made land" along the lake in the Gold Coast region under the title of "The Deestrick of Lake Michigan," were reduced—literally—to an ash heap last night when the old Streeter houseboat, moored near the mouth of the Chicago river, was burned by orders of Harbormaster Charles J. Agnew. The boat, since the recent disappearance of Streeter's widow, had been tenantless, and had been declared by officials to be "a menace to navigation and a public nuisance."

Boy Who Helped Catch Bandit Is School Hero

Frank Linich, 13 years old, 255 West 25th street, was a hero among his schoolmates and a favorite with his teacher, Miss Eleanor Shelton, yesterday. Sent on an errand to a hardware store at 2508 Wentworth avenue, Tuesday, Frank found three bandits at work while the proprietor, David Zweifel, and three customers, lay face down in the rear of the store. Unable to write down the license number of the bandit car because his right arm was recently broken, the boy memorized it and told the police. Three of the robbers were arrested.

Priest Caught Smuggling In Liquor Pays $539 Fine

New York, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Rev. John G. Rongett of East Newark, N. J., pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic church in that city, paid customs fines of $539 today for failure to declare 29 bottles of liquor and various garments and trinkets.

OPEN WIDENED JACKSON BLVD. ON OCTOBER 1

Plan One Way Traffic During Rush Hours.

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

The west side of Chicago and west suburban towns are to be given a taste of high speed automobile travel beginning a week from next Saturday, Oct. 1.

That is the date announced yesterday by Dr. John Dill Robertson, president of the west park commission, for the reopening of the repaved, widened, realigned, and rejuvenated Jackson boulevard from the river to Garfield park.

Dr. Robertson made two announcements in connection with the news of the completion of the rebuilding of the west side boulevard.

Plan One Way Traffic.

The first is that one-way traffic, east bound, will be maintained between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock in the week day mornings, and one-way traffic, west bound, will be maintained between 4 and 7 o'clock in the evenings of week days.

The second is that parking of automobiles is and will be prohibited between the river and the park.

"For temporary purposes parking is prohibited so that damage will not be done to the new pavement surface while it is in the process of curing." Dr. Robertson said. "Whether it will be necessary to make this a permanent order remains to be seen, for there is considerable opposition to the idea.

"My own idea is that the new 48 foot road surface ought to be kept clear for moving traffic. It has cost much—too much to have it used for outdoor dead car storage. The views of the citizens of the west side, however, will be heard at a meeting of the commission to be held shortly."

Building Almost Completed.

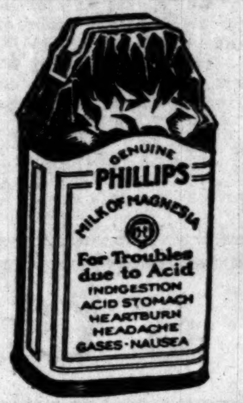
The concrete base for the new paving of Jackson boulevard has been completed and the sheet asphalt has been laid excepting the portion between Hoyne and Kedzie avenues. This surfacing, contractors promise, will be finished next week. Portions of the newly laid surface have been opened to traffic, although the motor bus units are to be excluded for another ten days.

Work began yesterday on the wrecking of the building at the southwest corner of the boulevard and Hoyne avenue to make room for the straightening of the boulevard. The line of the street will be run through the site of the obstructing building this week, which will make a slight curve but no angular line. This will take out the last jog in the thoroughfare, which then will be a straight run for about six miles.

Tell Capacity of Street.

According to traffic engineers this capacity will accommodate 36,000 vehicles in three hours traveling at a speed of 35 miles an hour.

Parking is also to be prohibited on Washington boulevard between Clinton and Rockwell streets, Dr. Robertson announced. Whether this rule will be enforced for the entire day and evening or only at rush hours has not been decided as yet.



Indigestion

Immediate Relief!

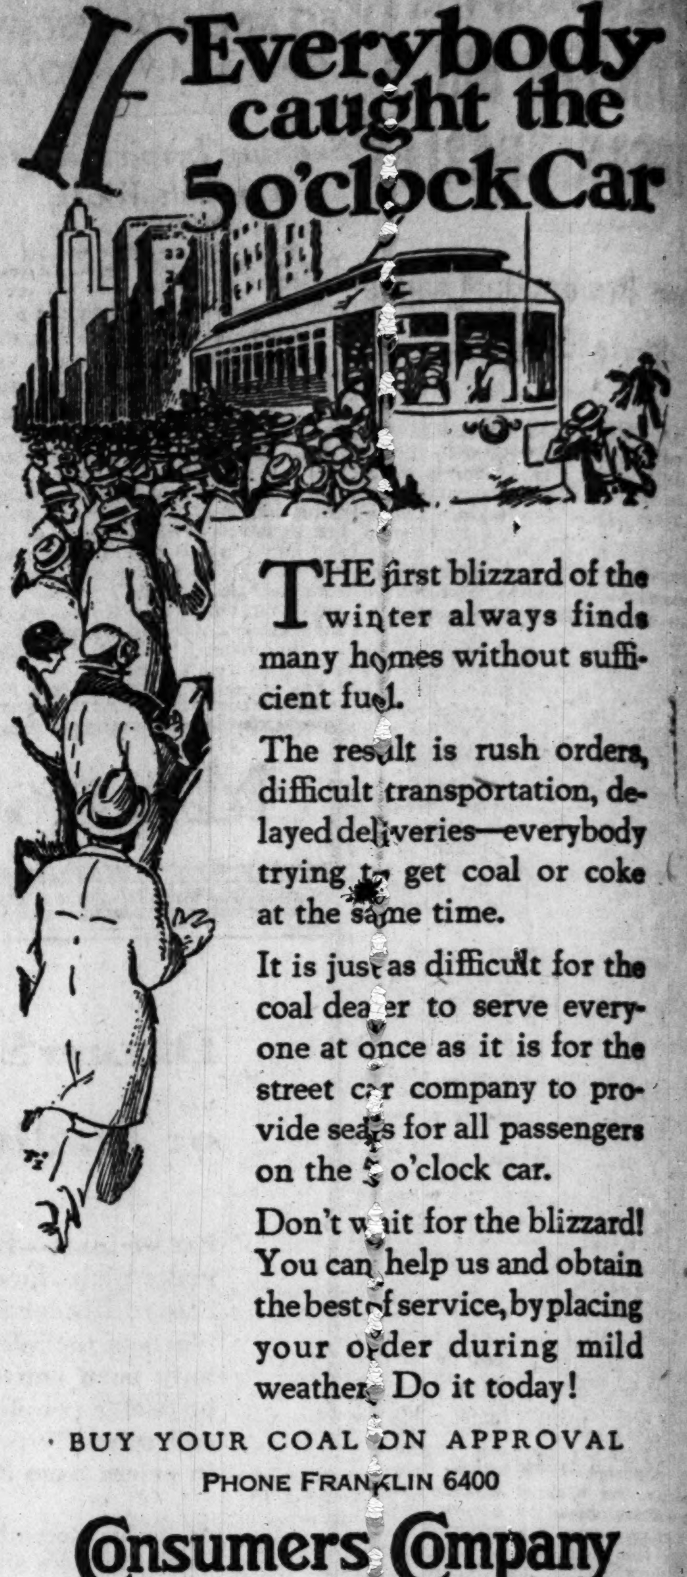
What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle — any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips, since 1875.



If Everybody caught the 5 o'clock Car

It is just as difficult for the coal dealer to serve everyone at once as it is for the street car company to provide seats for all passengers on the 5 o'clock car.

Don't wait for the blizzard! You can help us and obtain the best of service, by placing your order during mild weather. Do it today!

Color? Yes...

exactly the tint you want

Just call in the partners, the skilled professional painter and pure lead paint. For generations they've been beautifying houses inside and out.

FOR sure protection against the weather, and beauty as well, hire a skilled painter to apply pure lead paint to your house.

By using lead paint, made with Dutch Boy white-lead, the painter can produce exactly any desirable color—the precise tint or shade you want. Attractive colors for the exterior . . . any number of distinctive and lovely finishes for interiors—from one-tone finishes to multi-colored, figured and blended effects—all these are possible. Dutch Boy white-lead paint makes the professional painter a versatile colorist and gives finishes of lasting beauty.

Where is this professional painter? You'll find him an established member of your community—a man whose reputation depends on his skill as a first-class workman and on his use of quality materials, such as Dutch Boy white-lead. No fly-by-night painter can duplicate his work. Nor will he use a pure white-lead.

For interior painting, the painter mixes Dutch Boy white-lead with Dutch Boy flatting oil to make a beautiful flat paint . . . thoroughly washable. For exterior work he mixes Dutch Boy white-lead and linseed oil, producing a tough, waterproof gloss paint that has no equal in wearing qualities.

Dutch Boy white-lead, in either heavy paste or soft paste form, is sold by leading paint dealers.

His Eyes Are Gone; Memory Is Good.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Speedy is just a blind old plug—a waterfront ice wagon horse whose pasture is a pavement. But Speedy, now the slowest horse in Brooklyn, has seen better days. Once he pulled a red engine with gold lettering and polished brass. He never has forgotten his high place in the equine world. Today his good ears and his memory saved him after his old darkened eyes and a fifty mile an hour gale had played him a sorry trick.

Speedy is not the slick, well groomed kind of a horse children feed apples up on the streets. He is just a shaggy old bay fellow who lost his job six years ago when the fire department changed from oats to gasoline. Louis De Gianso happened along with a rope and a couple of ten dollar bills about that time and led Speedy from his blue-coated friends.

And He Goes Blind.

The old smoke eater plodded along in front of an ice wagon for his new master and on his 12th birthday, went blind. To the green pastures No. He knew his route too well.

He continued to make his way along the familiar streets, his master on the seat of the ice wagon. Some more years passed and Speedy's old legs grew slower. There was only one thing that could awaken him. A fire engine answering an alarm.

It was heavy weather today for man or beast on the Brooklyn waterfront but Speedy was among the few who braved it. Hitched to the cart, he stood shivering, at the mercy of the rain and gale that was whipping the waves into mountains in Atlantic basin, a few yards away.

So Speedy was uncomfortable. The wind kept pushing him—almost blowing him along—as he twitched his flanks and flung his tail about at the stinging raindrops. His master had deserted him for a dryer place. He started walking ahead.

Suddenly—A Splash.

Suddenly there was the sound of breaking straps and splintering wood—and a splash.

Speedy had plunged from the pier into the Atlantic basin in twenty feet of water.

There was a shout from passerby and De Gianso ran down the pier. His wagon was teetering on the edge of the dock. Speedy was floundering in the water twenty feet from the shore. In ten minutes there were a thousand men, women and children crowding the dock. A police squad came and a block and tackle was set up but they couldn't reach the horse. He continued to swim—but away from his rescuers. Then De Gianso remembered. He got a policeman's ear.

Fire Engine Siren, And—

Presently the wail of a siren was heard. A big red engine drew up at the pier. Speedy heard and ceased his aimless swimming. Wheeling in the basin, his head above the waves and his forelegs pounding the water he charged toward the sound of the siren. As he nosed the pier a belt was dropped about him and old Speedy, sniffing for the smoke was hoisted to the wharf.

Tonight he is munching a bag of oats in his stall.

THOMAS WALSH GIVES UP; WILL SERVE JAIL TERM

Labor Leader Fugitive for Two Years.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Lester Woods, murder, sentenced to 14 years in the penitentiary; John D. Brown, larceny, sentenced 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory; Robert Davis, crime against nature, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

William Balint, forgery, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

Thomas Walsh, former business agent for the Sheet Metal Workers' union, who was once tried for a double murder committed in Adolph George's loop saloon some years ago, surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Edward Walthers yesterday afternoon. For more than two years he had been dodging the authorities, who reported that he could never be found, although reports were frequent that he was in the city and was waiting for a pardon from Gov. Small.

Walsh is to serve a sentence of one year in the county jail for a conviction of conspiracy to extort. He was convicted in 1922 along with four other labor leaders on charges of extorting money from contractors in order to allow buildings to proceed without strikes being called.

Judgment Is Upheld.

The case dragged through the courts until 1926, when the Supreme court finally upheld the judgment. Since then the authorities have not been able to find Walsh, although in the meantime an application for a pardon was filed and is still pending.

Roy [Muckles] Shields and Peter Kane were arrested a few months ago and are serving their sentences. Frank Hayes, the other member of the group, has never been apprehended and is reported to have died in California.

Weary of Dodging Police.

Walsh told the deputy sheriff whom he met by appointment that he was weary of dodging the police and wanted to give himself up. The authorities, however, think differently, they say. A pardon could not be issued unless Walsh was in jail and it is believed that he surrendered hoping he will receive executive clemency soon.

KILLING REMAINS MYSTERY.

Antonio Soverino, 22 years old, 2726 Flourroy street, found shot to death in his taxicab in Melrose Park a month ago, was murdered by unknown persons, a coroner's jury decided yesterday.

MAGNETIC PULL OF U. S. CANADA'S GREAT PROBLEM

Hard to Keep People at Home, MacDonald Says

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 19.—(AP)—One of the most important problems for Canada to solve is how to hold her population within her borders in resistance to the magnetic pull exercised by the United States, Ramsay MacDonald, British labor leader, said today on his arrival in England after a vacation trip to the dominion.

"After more than twenty years absence from Canada," he said, "I hardly recognized places I had visited before. It was an absolute revelation and a good revelation to me.

"If you go to the United States and try to find the soul of the country, you will find it to be largely materialistic. I have been trying to get in touch with whatever is the soul of Canada and it is certainly not materialistic.

Cannot Resist Lure of U. S.

"There is a vitality of expansion, a youthfulness, and a hopefulness in Canada. Her weakness is that she has not got sufficient magnetic power to keep her people—both Canadian-born and British immigrants within her own borders.

"The great magnet that is always pulling them is the United States and it is of the most vital interest to Canada, to devise some means whereby she can accumulate sufficient magnetic power to hold her population within her domains."

"Canada is the best holiday country I ever struck," the former prime minister said in discussing his trip.

Kirkwood Objects to Valet.

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 19.—(AP)—If David Kirkwood, M. P., champion of the Scottish working classes, ever visits Vancouver again they'd better not offer him the services of a valet. Somebody made that mistake when Kirkwood, self-styled opponent of the "rich upper classes," landed in the British Columbia city with the British empire parliamentarians the other day. He was still fuming about it when he reached Calgary this afternoon.

"Why, mon, what on earth should I want with a valet?" he stormed. "The man wha canna put on his ain clothes should go naked.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE DROPPED.

Walter Rogers, 20 years old, 2227 Galt avenue, was freed of a charge of manslaughter in the death of Samuel Doris, 15 years old, 1100 South Marshfield avenue, when arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge John Lupe. Rogers fired into a group of boys trying to steal accessories from his automobile, killing Doris.

RADIO CONTROLS STREET CAR ON SUCCESSFUL TRIP

Operated by radio control, with no hand at its brakes or motor, a street car of the Chicago Surface Lines yesterday made a trip from Harrison street to Grand avenue on Franklin street.

It was one of the ordinary surface lines' passenger cars. A small shelf had been placed on the front, and on this shelf stood a small box. Extending from this box was a brass rod about four feet long, which acted as the aerial.

The experiment of operating the car by radio control was carried out by Maurice J. Francill, a radio expert, who rode in an automobile in front of the car. Under his arm he carried a box similar to the one on the front of the car and with the same kind of a brass rod for an aerial.

Controlled by the instrument held by Mr. Francill, the car made the trip from Harrison street to Grand avenue with no one aboard. As engineers of the Surface Lines and radio experts looked on and a squadron of mounted police, aided by officers on foot, kept back the crowd, the car started and stopped, went slow or fast, at the will of the man in the automobile.

Following the demonstration, radio experts said that it would probably be years before the system could be perfected to a point where it would be practicable, but added that some time in the future the world may see not only street cars but airplanes and battleships controlled by radio.

RAZOR SCRATCH CAUSES DEATH.

Blood poisoning caused by accidentally cutting himself with a razor resulted in the death of William Metz, 21 years old, 8740 South Ada street, it was stated by physicians at Auburn Park hospital yesterday.

HURRICANE DEAD 1,300; FLORIDA DIGS SELF OUT

Horror and Heroism Told by Refugees.

uge on the upper floors until the storm subsided somewhat and then started for the mainland. In a two and one-half mile stretch between Torrey island and Chosen, Lee was forced to swim his wife and children over frequent stretches ranging in length from 30 to 40 feet. He said the Antepo packing house, a one story structure between Torrey island and Chosen, was the tomb of 15 men, women, and children who had sought refuge there.

Farmer Butts 11 to Safety.

Noah Smith, a farmer among those trapped in the packing plant by rising waters, stood on the shoulders of a giant Negro, butted a hole in the ceiling and 11 people escaped amid the cries of the drowning below, who could not reach the exit in time, Lee said.

Clara Schlechter, 19, of Belle Glade told rescuers she was the only survivor of her family of seven. A strong swimmer, she had kept her small brother afloat for hours until he succumbed. Relief workers found her lashed by strips of her dress to floating débris, half conscious. Another story of heroism was related by rescuers who found Mrs. Fons Cherry of Torrey island, in the Lake Okeechobee area, lying exhausted on a levee bank, with her eldest son clasped in her arms. In the arms of the boy was the Cherry baby. After the collapse of their home Mrs. Cherry had lashed herself to floating wreckage.

Epic of Thelma Martin.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 19.—(AP)—One of the outstanding stories of Spartan courage that came from the storm area today was the epic of Thelma Martin, aged 12.

Thelma's mother, a sister and brother already had been killed when she found herself pinned down by an uprooted tree in the canal during the height of the storm at Belle Glade. With her were Aaron, aged 2, and Ernestine, 7.

She managed to keep her head above water and support her two young charges on the roots of the upturned tree. All night Sunday she kept them protected though she was incapable of moving the lower part of her body.

Rescuers Monday found the three huddled together. Thelma's legs were badly hurt by the weight of the tree. Her arm was pierced by something, she does not know what, although doctors think it was a spike driven through the air by the wind. Lack of immediate attention caused infection to set in. Long exposure induced a wracking fever.

Yet at a local hospital today she smiled brightly at visitors and said: "Everything is all right."

Porto Rico Casualties Grow.

SAN JUAN, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Forty-eight new names today were added to the Porto Rican hurricane death list, which already stood well above 300. A courier from San Sebastian advised the Red Cross that forty-six bodies had been found there.

Two bodies were recovered today from the city reservoir of Cayey, bringing the total in that city to sixty-six.

Dr. O. L. Fassig, chief of the local weather bureau, will send to the bureau of standards in Washington tomorrow the anemometer broken by the hurricane. He calculated that the instrument was recording a wind speed of 144 miles an hour when one cup broke.

He said he believed the bureau, by testing the damaged instrument, could determine the exact maximum wind velocity.

BURNS CAUSE CHILD'S DEATH.

Burns suffered Sept. 16, when her clothes were ignited by sparks from a bonfire, yesterday caused the death of Natalie Romets, 5 years old, 553 West 42d street.

HURRICANE'S TAIL WHIPS ATLANTIC; ONE SHIP SUNK; 5 AGROUND

The weather bureau issued gale warnings from the Cape Cod town North to Boston and Eastport, Me.

The forty-five ton yacht Tigress, owned by Samuel P. Curtis of Philadelphia, dragged its anchor off Lewes, Del., and went ashore. A Philadelphia barge, seeking shelter in the harbor at Lewes, was driven hard aground near the lighter craft, and a coast guard cutter was assigned to stand by both.

A fifty-foot yacht that struck off Atlantic Highlands, N. J., and a Standard Oil tanker that grounded on Staten Island were other maritime casualties of the storm.

The wind was accompanied by rain and lower temperatures.

Barge Sinks; Crew Saved.

Lewes, Del., Sept. 19.—(AP)—The barge Lottie of Baltimore, carrying a cargo of coal, sank inside the harbor refuge today. The crew fas saved by Capt. Savage of the tug T. J. Hooper.

CITY IS ASKED TO GIVE $300,000 FOR HURRICANE ZONE

In response to an appeal from President Coolidge and telegraphed messages telling of the destruction wrought by the hurricane in Florida and the West Indies, William R. Dawes yesterday set about organizing the relief drive machinery of the Association of Commerce, of which he is president.

This afternoon at a meeting of all chairmen of the association's trade and professional groups a campaign to raise Chicago's quota of $300,000 for the sufferers will be officially opened. What the national quota for the disaster will be has not been learned, but it will run into millions.

"Latest reports from the West Indies-Florida hurricane area confirm the demand for extraordinary relief measures," stated a message received yesterday by James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross. "Prompt action is necessary, there being urgent need for funds."

Storm Did No Damage to Everglades Club

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The Everglades club was not damaged, except by water, in Sunday's hurricane, General Manager A. W. MacDougall announced today. The golf course is in good condition. The club buildings are undamaged.

Sixty-third Air Corps Pilot Falls to Death in Flames

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The sixty-third Royal Air Force casualty of this year occurred today when Flying Officer A. P. De Woulf De Wytt, 22, fell with his plane in flames. This year's deaths so far are more than all of last year.

ARREST POLICE CAPTAIN, 2 AIDS IN PHILADELPHIA

Charged with Bribery and Extortion.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Capt. William C. Knoell, commander of the Tenth police district, and his two district detectives, Herbert Layre and John Sells, were arrested today on charges of bribery, extortion and conspiracy by order of District Attorney Monaghan. The action was based on evidence uncovered by the grand jury investigation of gang murders and bootlegging.

Five other detectives, a policeman, and a member of a saloonkeepers' protective association have also been arrested this week on similar charges. A warrant was issued for another detective, who is believed to be in Canada.

Monaghan decided to arrest the three today after he had questioned twenty saloonkeepers from the police district. Many of the saloonkeepers, one of them a woman, had been taken before the grand jury for questioning also.

The district attorney made it plain before the warrants were issued that every one of the saloonkeepers he had questioned had told of paying money to police for protection. Monaghan said the woman, Mrs. Justine Solmer, had paid the police more for graft in a month than she paid for the rent of her place.

The police department's effort to clean up the city as the result of Mayor Mackey's orders, and conducted independently of the grand jury investigation, today resulted in the suspension of Capt. William G. West, commander of the so-called tenderloin district.

Young Mother, Once Thin, Weak, Gains 5 Pounds and New Strength

Don't be "Skinny" Washed-Out, Unattractive

New Combination of YEAST with IRON Builds Up Weight Often in 3 Weeks. Your Own Druggist Guarantees Results—or pay nothing

"I gained 5 lbs. while taking IRONIZED YEAST. That means quite a bit, as my folks are both thin. What I prize most is the difference in the way I feel and the pep I have. Before I took IRONIZED YEAST I had to hire a girl to help me with any hard work. But now I do all my housecleaning alone and help my mother with hers too.

"I went through taking care of two cases of whooping-cough in which I lost one of my little girls. I am sure I would have been down sick in bed if I had not been taking IRONIZED YEAST at that time, as I was caring for the baby I lost almost night and day for 3 weeks. IRONIZED YEAST I am sure helped me to be here to write this now." Mrs George Decker

How "Skinny" Lifeless Girls Gain Weight

People who had tried everything else in vain and who did not believe that IRONIZED YEAST could help them either, write how they gained 5 to 15 pounds in a few weeks. Think of skinny limbs quickly rounded into graceful, chubby curves. Sallow, pimply skin becoming pink and satiny smooth. Tired feeling vanishing. Loads of new pep that makes you popular and sought after.

Only when Yeast is Ironized is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building and strengthening values of Yeast. That's why IRONIZED YEAST makes a new person of you so quickly. Get these pleasant-tasting tablets in the handy bottle today. Safe for everybody. Never cause gas or bloating, no harmful drugs.

Go to any druggist today and get a full size treatment of IRONIZED YEAST and use it it all. If after this generous trial you are not delighted with your improvement, your money back instantly.

Read What Eminent Doctors Say*

"In cases of malnutrition, underweight, constipation, nervous disorders and general debility, I place the patients on Yeast and find in all cases a marked improvement."

"I prescribe Yeast in the treatment of many skin conditions. Also find it useful for constipation and conditions associated with loss of weight."

"As a digestant Brewers' Yeast relieves auto-intoxication, increasing appetite, in this way acting as a weight builder."

"Have found Brewers' Yeast of considerable value in treating types of debilitated patients; also in types of skin eruptions."

"Have found Yeast useful in boils and to stimulate appetite. Also in chronic intestinal indigestion."

*The above are extracts from the reports of hundreds of well-known physicians all over the United States. For professional reasons their names cannot be given here. The reports are on file at our office, and may be seen at any time. Note the preference for Brewers' Yeast, the kind used in IRONIZED YEAST.

Druggists Advise Ironized Yeast

Best for Underweight

"IRONIZED YEAST is the best preparation of its kind. We always recommend it highly when a customer complains of underweight, sallow complexion and general run-down condition."—Martin C. Dyer, Schenectady, N. Y.

Sells a Great Deal, Always Does the Work

"We have sold a great many packages of IRONIZED YEAST and have failed to hear of one person who has not been greatly benefited."—Farley's Pharmacy, Oakland, Calif.

Recomends As Weight Builder. Son Used

"We push IRONIZED YEAST as a weight builder. And to clear skin and add vigor. My son who was very "skinny" took it with fine results."—J. E. Lantrip, Birmingham, Ala.

The Secret of Lovely, Clear Skin

Your doctor will tell you that most complexion troubles are due to a poisoned system and run-down blood. IRONIZED YEAST goes straight to this condition and removes it. That is why it acts almost like magic to remove skin blemishes and to make the skin satiny smooth and clear.

Rid of Pimples

"I wouldn't take $1,000 for the benefit derived from IRONIZED YEAST. Have gained 5½ pounds. Large ugly pimples have disappeared. Constipation of years' standing has been corrected. All my friends are complimenting me on my improvement in looks."—Mrs. G. H. Thompson, Villa Grove, Ill.

Clear, Smooth Skin

"Was all run-down and 'skinny' when I began taking IRONIZED YEAST. Gained 10 pounds. My complexion is no longer bumpy and rough, but clear and smooth."—Pearl Bass, Stearns, Ky.

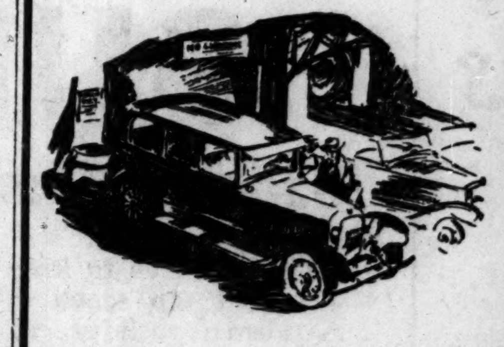
A Tribune Want Ad Will Sell Any Type of Automobile—This Ad Sold an Old One



"I was much concerned about my car. I wanted to sell it but feared it would be a problem because of the condition of the car. I had given it three years of hard use and the market on this type seemed to be very poor. I decided on a Tribune Want Ad and, as it turned out, that was certainly the proper thing to use. The morning my ad appeared I had fifteen calls, and before the day was over the whole affair was settled. My car was sold and I received my price."

C. B. HERRINGTON,
6637 South Robey Street.

MR. C. B. HERRINGTON'S car worried him. It had seen three years of hard service and he feared it would be difficult to sell. A Tribune Want Ad seemed the only solution. It was—the morning the ad appeared Mr. Herrington had 15 calls and was enabled to sell the car at once for a good price.

Just another normal instance of searching in the proper place and finding the buyers you seek. When you advertise in the Want Ad columns of the Tribune your "Automobile for Sale" sign is on the spot where more purchasers of used cars meet than in any other place in the world . . . you put your message before more Want Ad readers than you can reach with any other newspaper on earth . . . your ad goes to 59% more people than can be reached with the second Chicago want ad medium. SLATE JAMIE TO SUCCEED GOLDING AS CHIEF RAIDER

Backed by Deneen, Johnson for Dry Post.

Appointment of Alexander G. Jamie to succeed "Hardboiled" George E. Golding as chief of the special dry raiding squad in the Chicago district is expected to be formally announced by Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran within a day or two, according to dispatches from Washington yesterday. Jamie's selection to head the unit was urged upon Commissioner Doran yesterday by District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, who is in the capital, and the latter's recommendation is to be seconded, it is understood, by Senator Charles S. Deneen.

Ten days ago Jamie was ordered dismissed from the government service by Assistant Commissioner O. D. Jackson. That order was rescinded the same day by Dr. Doran, who had just returned from Europe, after Mr. Johnson had conferred with him over the telephone and had held conference with E. C. Yellowley, local administrator, and Harry M. Dengler, third in command of the dry forces.

Called "Least Productive."

One of Golding's last acts before being removed from Chicago was to recommend the discharge of Jamie on the ground that Jamie was the "least productive" member of the Chicago force and the one who could best be spared if any reduction of the unit was made. Dr. Doran, in rescinding the order, declared that Jamie would be retained pending an investigation into the motives which prompted Golding's report.

Removal of Golding from Chicago was the result of protests made by citizens and officials against the terroristic methods used by Golding's young men in their efforts to put fear into the hearts of bootleggers. The shooting of two Chicagoans, one a deputy bailiff of the Municipal court, has led to the indictment of Myron Caffey and the holding to the grand jury of Arthur Franklin and Edward Gill.

Original Squad Scattered.

The protests which followed the last shooting, that of Merle Adams in the City Hall Square building, caused Golding's squad here to be scattered, leaving only a remnant in Chicago.

Former Bailiff Is Accused as Kidnaper of Girl, 22

Joseph Spinello, discharged as a deputy bailiff of the Criminal court and indicted for forging Judge Joseph B. David's name to get a gunman out of jail, was sought on a kidnaping charge last night by the Sheffield police.

The accuser is Miss Dorothy Howard, 22 years old. She says Spinello, whom she had rejected as a suitor, kidnaped her Monday as she started for work in a State street store, held her prisoner two days in his room at 5233½ Warren avenue, and attacked her.

Tells Story to Parents.

The girl escaped yesterday morning. Hailing a cab as Spinello pursued her to the street, she drove to her parents' home at 2864 Lincoln avenue and told her story to her mother and her fiancé, Frank Smith, who was trying to aid the parents to find her.

"He grabbed me and pulled me into his car a couple of blocks from home Monday as I started for work," Miss Howard said. "I started to scream, but he pulled a gun and told me he'd shut my mouth with a bullet. He said he had a 'drag' and wasn't afraid of the police.

Was Locked in Room.

"We drove to the Warren avenue address, where, it seemed, he had rented a room some time ago. He kept me there two days, all the time with the door locked. Several times I tried to get help on the telephone, but each time he caught me and wrenched my arm. At last, yesterday morning, after he had attacked me, I made a dash for the street and got away while he was in another room."

Miss Howard's mother and her accepted suitor told Sergt. William Higgins that Spinello telephoned the girl frequently in the last two months and threatened to kill her unless she married him. When the mother warned him she would appeal to the police the former bailiff laughed and told of his political influence, Mrs. Howard declared.

The fugitive's father, John Spinello, 456 West Division street, agreed to aid the police, it was said. The elder Spinello signed his son's bond for $75,000 two months ago when he was indicted for manipulating the court records and forging Judge David's name.

MAXIE EISEN AND AID ARE HELD FOR EXTORTION

Fish Dealers' Boss to Face Jury.

Maxie Eisen, self styled dictator of the Fish Dealers' association, and his chief lieutenant, Samuel Soloman, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $50,000 each yesterday by Judge Daniel P. Trude in the Fillmore court on charges of conspiracy to injure business.

In holding the association officials to the grand jury Judge Trude stated that Eisen and Soloman ought to be in Russia. As the judge fixed the bond he remarked that he hoped the fish dealers would get a judge who is not under indictment.

Mrs. Mamie Oberlander, mother of three children, who lives at 3125 Douglas boulevard, testified that Eisen demanded $3,000 from her before she would be permitted to reopen a fish market. She declared that first Eisen wanted a $25 assessment for a new touring car and when she refused the association's business agent informed her not to look for any favors.

Mrs. Oberlander declared that soon afterward she was compelled to close her fish market because of neighborhood condition. It was then she sought Eisen's permission to reopen another market and was informed she would have to pay $3,000 for the privilege.

Warrants for Eisen's and Soloman's arrests were obtained by Attorney Walter G. Walker of the Employers' Association of Chicago after Mrs. Oberlander had appealed to him for aid.

Attorney Walker said that when the hearing opened in the Fillmore street court it was found that three important witnesses had disappeared, among them Mrs. Oberlander's husband.

ROBBERS LOOT SAFE; GET $2,500.

DR. GASTON LYON—one of the outstanding figures of the medical profession in France, on whom his colleagues have lavished professional honors; he has been chief of the Medical Clinic of the Faculty of Paris; he is Laureate of the Academy of Medicine; he is author of the standard "Elementary Treatise on Clinical Therapeutics," "Consultations on Diseases of the Digestive Tract," and many other works.

"Yeast regulates the intestines,"

says DR. GASTON LYON, of Paris

"In France, especially since the work of the scientist, Dr. L. Brocq, yeast has entered the realm of therapeutics, and is today generally prescribed. It is especially used in disorders of the skin. But it is not limited to skin diseases; it is recognized that yeast has a modifying action on nutrition. It reduces intestinal fermentation, and regulates the functioning of the intestine. Yeast should be used all the more, since it can be taken without inconvenience."

Dr. Lyon

DR. GASTON LYON, author and prominent physician of Paris; authority on maladies of the digestive tract, verifies the experience of millions of Americans — that eating yeast relieves constipation.

In an authorized interview he says, "Yeast modifies the intestinal action while not being destroyed itself."

FROM throat to colon is one continuous tube. Poisons from clogged intestines spread and attack the weakest spot. Colds, sore throat, headache, bad breath, bad skin—90% of your ailments—start here, doctors now agree. And here, too, is where yeast works. For bubbling good health, keep this entire tract clean, active and healthy with Fleischmann's Yeast.

He further points to the value of yeast in the treatment of skin diseases and declares, "Its efficacy in this field is already strongly established."

In a recent survey in the United States, half the doctors reporting said they prescribed yeast.

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast three times a day, one cake before each meal or between meals. As Dr. Lyon has pointed out, it will regulate the functioning of the intestine. It will tone up your system; improve skin, increase vitality.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a natural food, fresh as any garden vegetable. To get full benefit from yeast you must eat it regularly and over a sufficient period of time. All grocers have Fleischmann's Yeast and many leading cafeterias, lunch counters and soda fountains. Begin today to eat yeast and know what health can be.

HOOVER'S NAME DRAWN INTO U. S. UTILITIES INQUIRY

William Allen White Paid $500 for Speech.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Herbert Hoover's name was brought into the federal trade commission's probe of public utility propaganda methods today, when it was disclosed that the National Electric Light association purchased 49,500 copies of an address made by the then secretary of commerce in 1925 before the annual convention of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners.

Among other vouchers produced before the commission was one indicating that William Allen White, nationally known editor, recently in controversy with Gov. Smith, the Democratic presidential nominee, over the latter's legislative record, was paid $500 for an address he made before the Electric Light association's convention in 1926.

$646 for Hoover Reprints.

The voucher showing a payment of $646 for reprints of Hoover's speech was identified for the commission by George F. Oxley, director of public relations for the Electric Light association. A note attached to the voucher read:

"Attached N. E. L. A. check 20509, payable to Harold Phelps Stokes, represents cost of 49,500 copies of an address by Herbert Hoover on the subject of 'Why the Public Interest Requires State Rather than Federal Regulation of Public Utilities.'"

Admits Watching Legislation.

William H. Roth of Philadelphia, secretary of the New Jersey Utility association, testified that the association has for years watched the introduction and disposition of utilities legislation in the state legislature and has arranged for the appearance of utilities agents before legislative committees.

He admitted having written to an association member, urging the latter to retain membership in the organization, "which has done so much good for utilities generally, especially in the matter of opposing and preventing adverse legislation from getting through."

The letter added, "This is a matter that we do not advertise for obvious reasons."

Pressed to explain the latter statement, Mr. Roth told the commission it was "an unfortunate selection of language."

THE LITERARY DIGEST, at its own expense, wholly independent of any party, organization, persons, or policies, and with the absolute impartiality which is now universally recognized as its unvarying policy, is mailing individual Secret Ballots to Nineteen Million Six Hundred Thousand men and women voters of all classes and occupations throughout the United States—more than two-thirds the total Presidential vote of 29,091,417, cast in the last national election, in 1924.

Every ballot is mailed in an envelope, personally addressed, and delivered through the United States Post-Office directly to the voter addressed. Return postage on the ballot is prepaid, and the voter has only to place a X before the printed name of whichever one of the Presidential Candidate he wishes to vote for, with no mark to identify the voter, and then drop this Secret Ballot in the nearest letter-box or post-office. Thus every vote cast is the absolutely free, uninfluenced, secret choice of the voter, unknown to anyone but the voter himself or herself.

How Will ILLINOIS Vote?

Secret Ballots are being Sent to 1,924,797 Citizens in Illinois and the Returns will be Tabulated from week to week

The 19,600,000 Ballots are mailed to ALL CLASSES OF VOTERS in all States and all communities in the Nation. They include business men, railroad conductors, engineers, firemen, trainmen, bankers, manufacturers, clerks, carpenters, plasterers, plumbers, contractors, painters, mechanics, builders, coal miners, printers, superintendents, steel-workers, policemen, letter-carriers, workers in every trade and branch of industry, both union and non-union, professional men and women of all classes, including lawyers, doctors, clergymen, authors, actors, newspapermen, dentists, teachers, architects, musicians, housekeepers, etc., in short, all the classes of men and women who make up the voting population of the Nation.

THE LITERARY DIGEST'S great National Polls, because of their "almost frightful accuracy," have come to be one of the most important features of the country's political life, and the results of this greatest of all such Polls will be awaited with intense interest by millions of citizens, including all political leaders, and the candidates themselves.

AT NEWS-STANDS 10 Cents OUT TO-DAY AT NEWS-STANDS 10 Cents

Beginning this week, SEPTEMBER 22d, the returns from this great National Poll will be recorded, summarized, and analyzed, State by State, through successive numbers of THE LITERARY DIGEST up to Election Day. After that, full reports and comparisons of the official vote will be made. Digest readers, of course, will get these reports first and in the most complete detail.

At the same time, and all through the year, THE LITERARY DIGEST will be gathering carefully and reporting all the facts and opinions on all sides bearing upon the great problems and issues which are being discussed and which must be settled by the people in the election and acted upon by Congress in the months to come.

THE LITERARY DIGEST is wonderfully equipped for this service by a system built up at great expense through many years of careful work, and reaching into thousands of newspaper and periodical offices in all parts of the world. The reader can depend upon it with absolute certainty to reveal, from week to week, free from all prejudice and partizanship, the real state of the Nation's mind, the real facts affecting all issues, and the progress of all the great problems of the world toward settlement.

RAIN HALTS CUB, GIANT BATTLE FOR SUPREMACY

Bruins Meet Robins Tomorrow.

Statisticians yesterday shared a day of rest with National league ball players, due to rain, but today promises to be something else again, providing there isn't more rain. The weather report in New York last night was for rain and continued cold today.

The Cubs will be idle, but they'll be stationed in New York and it's dollars to doughnuts all of them will be out to the Polo grounds to see the Cardinals and the Giants engage in a double header. If the Giants take both ends of the bill they will be in a tie for first place. The Cardinals and the Giants in that event will have won 88 and lost 57 for a percentage of .607.

At sundown this evening the Cubs still will have a mark of 85 won and 59 lost. So, if the Giants should lose two, the margin of the Giants over the Cubs will be but one-half game. And the Cards then would lead the Cubs by 3½ games.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 19.—The weather man is no respecter of pennant races. He deluged the large town today with rain and a breeze that appeared to be an offshoot of the Florida hurricane so there was no chance for the Cubs and Giants to stage what was supposed to be an important combat in the National league flag canter.

In a way, Mr. McGraw, who manages the Giants as well as engaging in other ventures, probably regarded the intervention of the elements as a good omen. By not being forced to engage the Cubs he saved the services of a pitcher for the time being, and this is important. His Giants, who seem to go well in their park that measures less than 260 feet along the foul lines, must engage the league leading Cardinals tomorrow in a double header, and there is no telling how many hurlers may be needed.

Engage Phillies Monday.

The Cubs-Giants affair of today will be settled next Thursday afternoon as part of a double header when the Cubs return to the Polo grounds for a three day visit. Meanwhile they will be playing what the true New Yorker regards as the hinterland. They have engagements with the Robins at Brooklyn on Friday and Saturday, and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday they will be at Philadelphia, where the Phillies reside. Then they return here.

Speaking of the Phillies reminds one that they are of no particular consequence to the world in general, but they are a pain in the pocketbook to the Cubs. That is the one team the Chicagoans haven't been able to stop all season, and by whatever margin the McCarthy boys may be out of first place when the final curtain falls can be attributed to the tailenders. Recently the Cubs dropped six in a row, four at Philadelphia and two at Chicago, to the cellar dwellers. Imagine the difference if those six had been victories. Where would the Cards be in the race today if they hadn't won twenty out of twenty-two from Philadelphia?

Have Mathematical Chance.

It is merely a mark of respect for our friends that induces one to speak of the Cubs' chances at this late date. They can still win the pennant mathematically, but it will take more of an upset than the recent peculiar collapse of the Yanks. If the Chicagoans should win their ten remaining games they could not catch the Cardinals even if the latter should annex six out of eleven. And even if the Cubs do pass out, what of it? They have run a good race. They have convinced the world that there is such a thing as team play. There are no fingers of suspicion pointing at any of them.

Another season starts April 16.

Olympic Winner Opposed to Track Meets for Women

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Sept. [illegible].—That women be not allowed to take part in future Olympic games, was the view expressed today by [illegible]man Smith, South African athlete who just has returned from Amsterdam, where he broke the world's [illegible] record.

"During the recent trip of the South African Olympic team almost every [illegible] was caused by the fact that both sexes were in competition," he said. "The English amateur association suspends men competing in the same races with women, whereas the Americans show a leaning to the continental methods of permitting mixed

"It is noticeable that a majority of first class women athletes tend to become more and more masculine, both in appearance and actions."

LINE IS HANLEY'S PROBLEM; BACKS HIT THEIR STRIDE

Purple to Get Scrimmage Potion Saturday.

One hour of intensive scrimmage, during which a flock of ball toting backs lived up to all advance reputations, featured the fourth day of Northwestern university football practice at Dyche stadium yesterday. It was the first scrimmage of the season. Although there was little punting attempted, the other two factors of a polished triple threat back field were much in evidence. There was plenty of ball carrying and forward passing power that showed much of the back field talent on a par.

The one outstanding development of the scrimmage was the ball carrying ability of George Levison. Yesterday Levison was hitting the line with so much force and with such success that official spectators characterized his work as better than that of Tiny Lewis in his prime.

Bruder Only Sophomore.

Coach Dick Hanley's starting lineup had Capt. Walter Holmer at full, Henry Bruder at left half, Bill Calderwood at right and Levison at quarter. All but Bruder, who is a sophomore, are letter men.

Changes came rapidly, however, and Dean Klarr, Roy Leming, and William Griffin, half backs, and Lee Hanley, quarter, also showed to advantage. Holmer and Hanley were doing most of the forward passing.

Four hours of signal drill and massed work on the fundamentals preceded the scrimmage. Fifty-four players participated. The squad is expected to be increased to sixty by the week end. Among those who are expected to report are Will Lewis and Russell Bergheim, back field men of last year's squad.

Sinks Ill at Home.

Robert Sinks, a sophomore guard prospect, is still unable to report, suffering from malaria at his home in Jonesboro, Ill. Loss of Sinks, even temporarily, is hampering the squad, as guard is one of the weakest positions on the team.

The next two days of practice will be devoted to individual instructions. Due to the inroad of registration two hours of scrimmage is carded for Saturday afternoon.

WORK ON PASSES

The outlining of a passing attack for the back field and line play fundamentals kept the Maroon squad busy yesterday. To date the backs have worked almost solely on various types of passes, so that evidently Coach Alonzo A. Stagg is going to depend on this style of attack whenever it is feasible. Most of the back field aspirants are fast and shifty, so that a running style of attack that is wide open should predominate the play, with occasional line jabs by Leyers and Burgess, the two leading full back contenders.

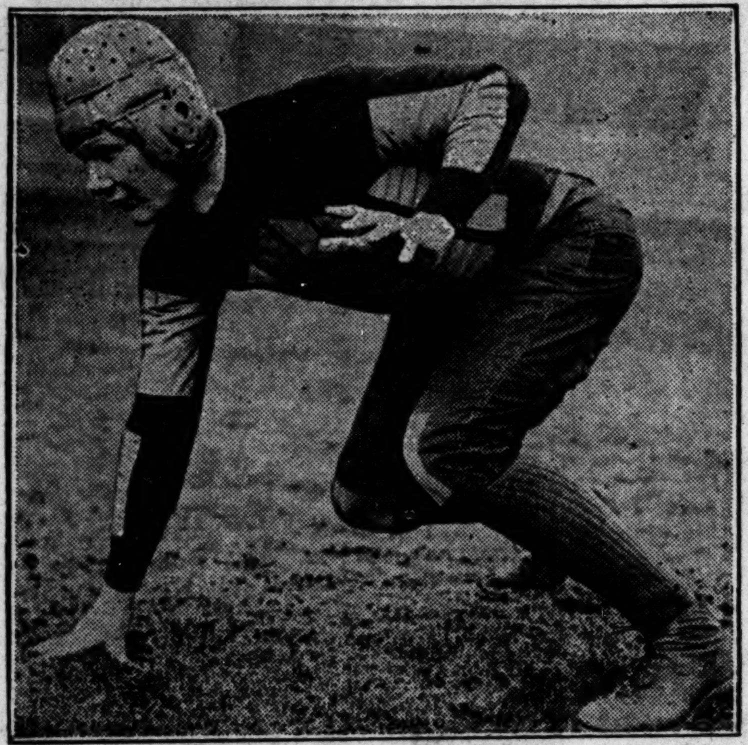
But the back field is not the thing Stagg is worried about. The forward wall is his greatest concern. The most deceptive plays are largely ineffective if the line can't hold until the play is well under way, and the line candidates are none too good nor none too plentiful.

A guess at a starting lineup for the South Carolina game is hazardous, but at present it looks like Bluhm at quarter, Mendenhall, Libby, or Smith at the half back positions, and Burgess and Leyers splitting the full back duties. Spence and Priess should start at ends, with Pat Kelley another possibility, Capt. Weislow and Proudfoot at tackles, Cushman and another of the many sophomore guards at those positions, and probably Ken Small at center.

Rain Causes Postponement of Delaney-Tassi Bout

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The 15 round boxing bout scheduled for tonight at Ebbets field between Jack Delaney and Nando Tassi was postponed until tomorrow night because of rain.

SEEKS AN END MAN'S JOB



Bob Zuppke is busy these days preparing a new set of football stars for Illinois. Take a close look at the lad, for before the season's over his name may be as familiar as the names of Illini heroes of yesterday. He's Jim Lewis, a 200 pound giant from Waukegan, a member of the cage team last winter, and he is seeking an end position.

HOW TO PLAY FOOTBALL

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
Article IV.
THE TACKLES.

ED WEIR.

A football team equipped with a pair of fast charging, smart tackles usually may look forward to a successful season. Aggressive tackles can do more to ruin an opponent's offense than any other two players on the defensive eleven. They are equally valuable on offense.

As a rule, coaches pick the largest, most aggressive and experienced linemen on the squad for these positions. If coaches lack good tackle material they generally take the guards of the previous year and teach them tackle play.

On offense, the tackle must play close to his guard. He should be mindful to protect on their side. On certain formations he will be called upon to help the guard block or root back an opponent. This opponent may be the defensive guard. On some plays the tackle will help his end on the opposing tackle. Coaches have different ways of playing their tackles but the principal rules to remember are: [1] protect on the inside; [2] never permit an opponent to sift through between the tackle and guard.

The tackle often is called upon to carry the ball on tackle around plays. He also is made eligible to receive forward passes. In neither case should he make a movement to give away the play. Some coaches teach their tackles to follow around on end sweeps to protect. Others instruct their tackles to crash through to take off the secondary.

When the tackle's team kicks, he should drive his opponents to the outside. If the kicker is a right footer, the left tackle has to block only momentarily. The right tackle should hold a moment longer. On forward passes the tackles should protect the side of the field to which the pass is made.

On defense, the tackle ought to play about a yard and a half from his guard. He should take all the ground he can. He should assume a crouching position similar to the guard with his head up and back arched. He must get the charge if possible. He should use his hands continually to keep off interferers of the offensive team who will try to put him out of the play. It is usually best for the defensive tackle to watch the backs instead of the ball, although some coaches prefer the latter. As a rule the backs will start as fast as the ball. The tackle should charge straight at the offensive end. The tackle must keep his feet as the offensive end will be flanked by a wing back or some other player to help out the defensive tackle out of the path of the play.

The tackle always should size up the offensive formation. If an unbalanced line with a shifted backfield is used the tackle should shift a position and inform his teammates of his discovery. When plays are sent to the opposite side the tackle always should charge through and follow around in order to be prepared for reverse plays or criss-crosses, as well as fumbles or fake formations.

It is a good thing for all linemen to practice short, rooting steps in their charges. At the same time they should bear in mind to keep their feet and to use their hands at all times on the defense.

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Abe Mitchell Beaten in 1,000 Guineas Golf Meet

STOKE POGES, England, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Abe Mitchell today joined the ranks of some of the best known British golfers who have been eliminated from the News of the World 1,000 guineas tournament, which opened yesterday. He was defeated, 2 and 1, by A. J. Isherwood of Warrington. George Duncan, Harry Vardon and Arthur Havers were eliminated in yesterday's first round.

CHICAGO HAILS LOTT AS TENNIS CHAMPION TODAY

Paired with Hennessey in Team Championships.

Those two young stalwarts of American tennis, George Lott and John Hennessey, the first players ever to bring the national doubles crown into the middle west, will return to Chicago courts today to be welcomed as champions by the fans who have watched their climb from local fame to the pinnacle formerly reserved for such stars as Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter and Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams.

The occasion of their return will be the opening round of the United States intersectional team championships, which get under way this afternoon on the courts of the Chicago Town and Tennis club, Ridge and Thome avenues. The Australian Davis cup team, together with representatives of seven sections of the United States Lawn Tennis association, are entered in the struggle for the Simpson cup. Aside from Tilden, Hunter, and the French Davis cup team, practically every player of note will compete. Each series will be composed of two singles and one doubles match.

Meet Texans Today.

Lott and Hennessey, on the strength of their victories over the French and Australians in the national doubles tournament, are favored to annex the title held last year by the middle states team of Bill Tilden and Wallace Johnson. Their chief opposition seems to lie in the Australian team and in the young eastern stars, John Van Ryn and Gregory Mangin.

In today's opening matches, Lott and Hennessey are bracketed against the Texas team of Wilmer Allison, Lewis Thalheimer, and James Quick. The second match will bring the Australian team of Crawford, Hopman, Moon, and Cummings against Curran and Cram of the Southern association.

Van Ryn, Mangin Represent East.

Friday's program will find the eastern team opposed to the Missouri valley and the middle states battling New England. Van Ryn, sixth ranking player in the country, and Mangin, sensation of the national singles championship, will carry the colors of the east, while the valley will rely on Harris Coggeshall and the dependable Wray Brown. The middle states has rested its hopes of retaining the Simpson cup upon Wallace Johnson, the veteran chop stroke artist, and Fritz Mercur, recent conqueror of Helen Wills. Holbrook Hyde and Frank Luce will represent New England.

The turf courts of the Chicago Town and Tennis club have been put in excellent condition for the matches and stands capable of accommodating 2,500 have been erected. Play will continue through Sunday.

SUZANNE QUITS TENNIS; DENIES WEDDING GOSSIP

NICE, France, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Suzanne Lenglen, the great woman tennis player who turned professional in August, 1926, today renounced the game forever. She also took a fling at mongers of marriage rumors.

"I shall never play tennis again, either as an amateur or as a professional," she said. "I have completely given up the game and I do not care whether I ever see another racket."

Baldwin Baldwin, grandson of E. J. "Lucky" Baldwin of California, and Mlle. Lenglen returned a few days ago from an automobile trip to Germany. Their names have often been coupled in wedding gossip. On this subject she said today:

"Any true statement respecting marriage will be given to the newspapers by my family in the usual fashion, should I ever contemplate such a step."

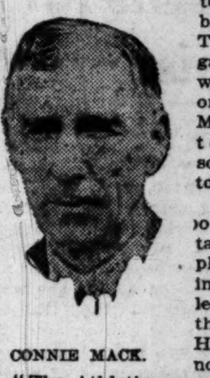
Yet Time to Win Pennant, Mack Tells Athletics

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Connie Mack and his still hopeful Athletics came to town today to do battle with the Tigers in a three game series which will either make or break them. Mack refrains his team but he sounds a warning to them tonight.



CONNIE MACK.

There has been too much Yankee talk among the players, according to the tall leader and unless they forget the Hugmen they will not finish on top.

"The Athletics must conquer themselves before they can hope to confuse the Yankees. That has been our great drawback, if the team would only forget the Yankees and play the game of which they are capable they would be out in front by a big margin," Mack said. "It is not too late, yet, and I feel the team will play out the string to the end. It will be of immense help if we can mop up the series in Detroit for I feel that the Yanks may meet some disappointment in Chicago. There is a chance that the coming series will result in the Athletics tying or getting ahead of the Yanks."

The Athletics are very much disturbed over the condition of Shortstop Joe Boley who is out for at least the rest of the week with a badly bruised finger. This injury, sustained in the series at the Yankee stadium, may have an important bearing in the race.

Can the Yanks Be as Bad as Figures Show?

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

As may have been surmised from certain veiled intimations emanating from St. Louis at the time, the Yankees and the Browns made a generous contribution to American humor during their recent series of, by your leave, ball games. Both groups manifested the true amateur spirit which exalts the game above the winning of it, but, playing as badly as they did and winning three out of four from the Browns, the New York gentlemen probably set some of the customers to wondering just what the Yankees would have to do to lose in St. Louis.

Mention of the dead past is likely to be distressing, but there were times during these spectacles, especially during the last one, when the idea kept on recurring that the White Sox of 1919 played better in doing their worst against the Reds. But as an offset to such sordid reflections there was always the reassuring clatter of the bats as both teams hoisted the ball to inaccessible places and the scurry of fielders and runners as both teams fumbled, stole bases and scored. Sincerity pervaded the proceedings at all times and when in the end the Browns proved to have outawfulled the Yankees, it only could be conceded that the worse team lost on its demerits.

Big Parade of Pitchers.

There were only three pitchers who could slide the onion, or baseball, as Eddie Bennett, the Yankees' caddy, calls it in his curious argot, past the hitters of the other team. These were Sam Crowder of the Browns, who pitched and won the first game without succor, George Pipgras who worked against him, and Waite Hoyt, who shook a workmanlike job out of his arm in the third one. Aside from these performances, the procession to and from the pitching site was reminiscent of Mr. Knute Rockne's substitutes dashing onto a football field in committee formation and his regulars trudging off. Parenthetically, a gentleman has just given me a statistic showing that Hoyt has worked in four of the Yankees' last seven games and George Pipgras in three of the last five.

The substitutions in the field and the appearances of obscure parties with curious names as deputy hitters were so profuse that the young man assigned to prepare the official and irrevocable box score for the archives of the American league, a novice in this post of great honor and grave responsibility, broke down and cursed resoundingly as the list ran off the bottom of his tally sheets, leaving him to write all further entries in the air, which seemed too good for them.

Teams Make 22 Errors.

There were 22 errors, evenly divided, in the commission of which the shortstops led all the rest, making eight. Kress of the Browns had five, Durocher made two and Koenig the other one. Even Babe Ruth and Earl Combs dropped a fly ball apiece. There were five passed balls and a wild pitch, two batsmen were flicked on their knuckles, the bases on balls rose to an average of nine per game and the hits to an average of 21 plus.

This is not what would be considered great baseball, and there is no reason to expect that the Yankees, capricious as they are, will play any better because their worst was good enough to win three out of four against a team that had been troublesome all season.

Lazzeri Has Sore Arm.

The second baseman of this ball team, Tony Lazzeri, is playing with an arm so sore that he can't make an overhand throw. The regular third baseman, Joe Dugan, is out because for the time being he can't hit. Herb Pennock, one of the two best pitchers, has a crippled tendon and hasn't worked for a month. And Mark Koenig, the shortstop, is playing with awkward desperation, fighting his job and losing on points. Ruth and Meusel were shiftless in the St. Louis series, taking needless chances with a clumsy and threatening opponent, but the winning of pennants and work in the world series has become routine to them and they don't react to the hoorah.

While all the other regulars were hitting beyond .300 against the minor league pitching of the Browns, Ruth hit just twice in four games and his average was .118.

The Yanks have eleven games to play. The Athletics have ten. If the Yankees win six and lose five the A's will have to take eight to nose them out.

Liebold to Stay as Pilot of Columbus A. A. Club

Columbus, O., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Harry ["Nemo"] Liebold, manager of the Columbus club of the American Association, today signed a contract to pilot the Senators in 1929.

Announcement of his retention was made by President Joseph F. Carr. Liebold is the first Columbus manager in three years to be given a second chance.

FABER, NEMESIS OF HUGMEN, WILL ESSAY OLD ROLE

Pipgras Is Probable New York Hurler.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Mr. Huggins and his Yanks arrived in Chicago yesterday as per schedule, but a careful survey has revealed that this eventful happening caused not one tiny little tremble in the boots of the White Sox.

LENA BLACKBURNE

"Welcome to our city and may the devil take the hindmost," was the Comiskey slogan as Old Red Faber girded his loins with no intention other than to spank the New Yorkers in the series opener on the south side this afternoon.

Red always has been effective against the league leaders and the spot he'll have today is made to order for the old campaigner. He's best against them when they're trying hardest, and the dope is they'll be bearing down from now on, although two games at this time afford a tough margin from the viewpoint of the runner-up Athletics. It is probable George Pipgras will oppose Faber.

Sox Rookies to Play.

The feeling prevailed at Sox headquarters yesterday that the Yanks will not be joined in as sloppy a series as that just concluded with the St. Louis Browns. In the four games played in St. Louis there were 22 errors. In the final game there were six errors, of which the Yanks furnished four.

Manager Lena Blackburne plans to continue the use of his rookies in the Yank, Senator, and Athletic series. Shires was out of the last game with the Red Sox. He had a molar pulled, but took no gas or drug for fear the after effects would slow him up against the Yanks. He's rarin' to go now.

Redfern, who for some odd reason has done his best hitting against the New Yorkers, will be in the lineup at second. Cissell's hitting since his return after a month's layoff hasn't amounted to a row of pins, but he'll be in the series for his fielding. Kamm, of course, will be at third. Metzler is scheduled to play in left, Mostil in center, and Carl Reynolds now seems a fixture in right for ten years or so.

Pipgras to Start.

While Pipgras is named as the probable starting New York pitcher, there is no assurance that he'll last long. In order to salvage the final in St. Louis Huggins was obliged to use all four of his first string pitchers in nine innings. Johnson, Heimach, and Hoyt shared the work. Pipgras was in the shortest time—that's the reason he's slated to pitch the first game.

In the last series with the Yanks in New York the Sox won two out of three and at the time had no .300 hitters in the regular lineup. They now have four—Reynolds with .325, Kamm with .311, Shires with .304, and Metzler with .301.

17 YEAR OLD BOY DEFEATS FARRELL IN METRO GOLF

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—It isn't often that a youth of 17 seizes his opportunity the way young Tommy Creavy did at the Quaker Ridge Golf club today.

Unawed by the fame of his opponent, who was Johnny Farrell, home club professional, young Tommy went to work and defeated the distinguished conqueror of Bobby Jones in a 19 holes match that was the feature of the third round of the metropolitan P. G. A. championship today.

Then Gene Sarazen, the defending titleholder knocked Tommy off to the tune of 6 and 5 in the semi-final.

Out—Creavy	554	344	544—38
Farrell	655	434	653—41
Creavy 3 up.
In—Creavy	356	466	454—43	—81
Farrell	445	355	554—40	—81

Match all even.
Extra hole—Creavy, 5; Farrell, 6.

"NOT SO GOOD," ROCKNE SAYS AT FIRST SCRIMMAGE

And He Fears Loyola, but What of It?

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—The first actual scrimmage of the year was the outstanding event at Notre Dame this afternoon. Rockne sent a team made up of members of the regular squad against a reserve eleven, with results that were not any too pleasing to him. Those on the regular team were Vezie and Collins, ends; Ransavage and Donohue, tackles; Herwit and Leppig, guards; Nash, center; Morrissey, quarter; Elder and Dew, halves, and Shay, full.

Elder, the outstanding sprinter of the indoor season in the middle west last winter, is being groomed in kicking and passing, so that he will be able to replace Johnny Niemiec at left half when occasion demands.

Jack Cannon, leading candidate for the left guard position, has an injured left foot that will keep him slowed up for about a week. The tentative regular line men engaged in line scrimmage today while the backs prepared a defense doped to upset the vaunted Loyola of New Orleans aerial attack.

AT MICHIGAN.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Again spending almost all of his time with a select group of punters, transferred from the practice grounds to old Ferry field for the purpose of more intensive drilling, Coach Fielding H. Yost felt well repaid for his efforts when he saw four Wolverine backs booting 50 yard spirals regularly into a light cross wind.

Two of this troupe—Homes of Canton, O., and Bator of Detroit, Mich.—are sophomores, the former being a quarter back and the latter a half back. Both starred on the yearling squad last season. The other pair, Capt. Rich of Lakewood, O., and Gembis of Vicksburg, Mich., are both full backs of long varsity experience.

The remainder of the Wolverine grid squad had another light day, and from all indications will not be sent into scrimmage until next week, instead of this week-end.

AT ILLINOIS.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Passes were the order of the day as Illinois' football squad put through the first regulation two hour practice period this afternoon. Eight teams reported and Coach Zuppke doled out scrimmage in abundant lots with passes as only offensive weapons.

Stress laid on this department of the game indicates that Zup wants another powerful aerial attack this year. Chattin, sophomore quarter back candidate, twirled for one squad, which had Frosty Peters, Fritz Humbert, and Walker in the back field. Robinson and Hinton, both regular back field men, worked at ends with this team, and Kes Deimling, letter man end of 1927, continued at tackle, where Zuppke seems to like his work.

Stussy, varsity quarter last year, who featured with passing, tossed the oval for another squad, which had Mills, Bodman, and Timm in the back field.

Linemen put in a hard session on dummies prior to scrimmage. Letter men and a team composed of other squad members may be matched in Saturday's practice game. The annual freshman-varsity game is scheduled for Sept. 29.

ENTERS BIKE RACE.

O. S. Hitchcock, veteran bike rider of Toledo, O., has sent in his entry for the race from Elgin to Chicago to be held on Sept. 30 under the auspices of the Barrett A. C. Twenty-one out of town riders have been entered and John A. Pelka, who is receiving the nominations, expects at least seventy-five riders to face the starter on the morning of the race. Entries can be made with Pelka at 2150 South Robey street.

CURRENT HOME RUNS.

DEAR Harvey: Close observation of professional baseball for a number of years convinces me that 50 per cent of the so-called home runs, if not more, are not in reality simon pure home runs as we used to know them.

These home runs are the result of limited fielding space and close proximity of bleachers and fences. Many of the 50 per cent, in my opinion, would be actual outs, many of them not more than two baggers.

Often you see the fielder back up against the bleacher wall and miss a fly ball not more than two or three feet. He would have caught it had he had enough room to work. Home runs used to be rare birds when fields were vast and the dead ball was used.

Perhaps home runs are good advertising for the game, but if they wish to be technical, 50 per cent ought to be outs or doubles. W. K. Cochrane.

Bird Hunters Lay Plans for Illinois Sport

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Upper Illinois River, Sept. 19.—Live decoys are being established in their neat wire pens, blinds are being constructed and many appetizing "meals" of buckwheat and smartweed have been prepared for the waterfowl down here in the Illinois river lowlands.

Although there are a few teal and pintails here now the number of birds in this country during September is nothing compared to the big flocks which will swing in late in October when the great migration of ducks and geese occurs. But the stage must be set for the big show, so the boys are dressing up the old pond for the expected shooting fests.

After a brief meeting with a flock of teal and pintails this morning we looked over a new blind which nestles among the tall wild sunflowers and reeds at the edge of the lake down here. Any duck hunter who expects to buck the chilly winds and rains in November would be interested in this particular hideout because it is supposed to be rainproof and nearly chillproof.

The sides of the blind [3 feet high] are so constructed of boards that no wind can sift through and arching over the low seat for the hunter in the back of the blind is a regular "awning" of roofing paper so that on a rainy day one can keep dry. The idea is to camouflage this shelter in the natural vegetation and drop it slightly below the level of the sloping bank.

THOMAS WINS IN FLOSSMOOR GOLF DUSK THRILLER

Plays Final Nine After Sun Goes Down.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Flossmoor's annual frolic yesterday proposed a spectacle unusual even in the good fellowship of an invitational golf tournament. More than 200 golfers playing 36 holes for a lot of silverware was the customary background while the unique act in the center of the stage was two men tied for low gross cheering on a youngster to beat out both of them.

Lee Thiltges of Calumet, whose game isn't quite what it used to be because of a leg weakened in an automobile accident, and Russell W. Martin, Flossmoor's one scratch man, had finished early with a total of 159 for the 36 holes. Thiltges had scored 79—[illegible], taking three putts on the last green where he had a chance to beat Martin by a stroke and Martin had [illegible]—83.

Gets Late Start.

Meanwhile twenty year old George W. Thomas Jr. of Flossmoor, who works for the I. C. railroad from 5 p. m. to 1 a. m. each night, had got a late start. Beginning from the tenth tee, he played the back nine in 35 and then the first nine in 39 for 74. Starting on the tenth again late in the afternoon, Thomas played the nine in 38, finishing just as the sun had set. Thomas was going to quit for the day, or night, but Martin and Thiltges urged him to go on and he started to play his last nine holes in the deepening dusk with a scorer and two caddies to help him locate the ball, needing 46 to win low gross. He was 4 over par for six holes, but on the 126 yard seventh it was almost pitch dark and he put a ball into the water and took a 5. But he made up for it on the next hole by sinking a short approach for a par.

Listen for Ball to Drop.

All he needed to win was an eight in the dark on the 397 yard ninth. He drove with an iron, the two caddies stationed, one at each side of the fairway to listen for the ball to drop, and played his succeeding shots with a mashie, so he wouldn't lose a ball and take the consequent penalty. He almost did lose one ball, and played a provisional ball but found the original one and wound up with a 6 and 44, on the nine, which gave him low gross by three shots. His total was 74—82—156.

J. A. Mudd Shoots 78 to Top Field in C. A. A. Golf

J. A. Mudd, who hails from Beverly, topped a field of 200 Chicago Athletic association golfers in their first autumnal golf tournament yesterday at Barrington Hills Country club.

It was the third golfing event of the year for the Cherry circle shooters and the heavy attendance lent some confirmation to rumors that the C. A. A. is shortly to buy or erect a golf course of its own in the countryside of Chicagoland. According to Tom Henage, secretary of the C. A. A., golf brings out more of its members than any other sport on the club list.

Following close to Mudd's 78 came Charles Booth, C. A. A. golf champion, who shot a 79. Booth however, was consoled with first prize for low net at 79—5—74.

Canaan Wins Crete Purse by a Whisker

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old Canaan must have discovered the fountain of youth at Saratoga Springs last month, and he surely took a good bath in it.

Three days ago he stepped out on the Lincoln Fields track, ran a smart band into submission, and walked up and took down all the money, and the odds against him were $73 to $1.

Yesterday he paraded to the barrier in the Outer Drive purse with some of the best handicap performers here. Mike Hall, the famous route runner, was the 2 to 5 favorite. Very few people in the crowd wanted anything to do with Canaan.

But when the field came charging down past the finish line Canaan, which for a month had been drinking of those famous Saratoga waters, had his nose in front. He beat Golden Racket by less than the circumference of a whisker. Mike Hall, the prohibitive favorite, was a head back in third place.

Hugs Rail Too Long.

Canaan was perhaps lucky that the going out of the mile chute until they hit the main course was a bit cuppy and hard to negotiate.

It was over this ground that Mike Hall lost the race. He took such a dislike to it that he was far back and next to last by the time they got out of the chute. Jockey McDermott pulled him together soon after they hit the main course, but at this stage of the combat Prisoner, which was making the pace, closely attended by Golden Racket and Canaan, was a dozen lengths in front of Mike Hall. He went after them despite the handicap and, saving ground on the turns, was within striking distance by the time they were an eighth of a mile from home.

But McDermott hugged the rail with Mike Hall too long. Just when it came time to move into the lead Mike Hall was cut off by both Canaan and Golden Racket. It was impossible to get through and he would have lost all chance had the jockey attempted to pull up and come around on the outside.

Illegitimate Is Victor.

So that was the way they finished with the windup drawn a little too fine to make it comfortable for the placing judges. Many people in the crowd thought Golden Racket had won.

The defeat of Mike Hall apparently did not discourage the players of short priced favorites, for they came right back with enough money in the Englewood purse to make Illegitimate the odds-on choice against a fast band of sprinters.

And they made no mistake. Illegitimate was forced to run the six furlongs in 1:11 3-5, but he had plenty to spare at the end as he led Marshal Ney and Inquisitor home.

Calwick Wins 2 Yr. Old Race at Aqueduct

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Running by far the best race of his brief career, George M. Sidenberg's Calwick captured the Oakdale handicap and the purse of $4,450 at Aqueduct this afternoon. Behind the Westwick-Calistoga 2 year old came such smart ones as Dave Lederer's Chatford, Benjamin Block's Morsun, the Greentree stable's Comstockery, Gifford A. Cochran's Oesel and Marshall Field's Perkins. They finished in the order named, with Calwick two lengths before Chatford and that horse a neck in front of Morsun.

Calwick showed his class by coming around his field to win after being slow to begin. He was away next to last in the field of six. Frank Moon had the mount, but the late start was no fault of his, as Comstockery lunged at the break and while getting the jump on the field himself prevented Calwick from being away with the others.

Laporte, Ind., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—South Bend high school defeated Laporte high school, 14 to 0, at football here today.

RUTH AND SHEA FIGHT TONIGHT IN RETURN BOUT

A double windup boxing show featured by the fight between Eddie Shea of the west side and Babe Ruth of Louisville, Ky., will be staged by Promoter James C. Mullin at the Mills stadium, Lake street and Kilpatrick avenue, tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision at 126 pounds. Ruth and Shea met last winter at White City and Ruth was given a questionable ten round decision.

Shea is determined to even the score tonight. He is in great shape and his admirers are wagering 6 to 5 he wins the fight. They are laying 1 to 3 that Eddie stops the Kentuckian. In his boxing workouts Shea has been perfecting his left hook and has ben throwing most of his punches to the body.

Ruth, however, is a good fighter. In his last two starts he took a ten round decision from Henry Lenard of South Chicago and went ten rounds to a draw with Johnny Datto of Cleveland.

IF THEY DID, it wouldn't make much difference to the man clad in a suit made of this newest imported fabric "Spalding Twist." For "Spalding Twist" —though beautifully soft-draping and finely-textured, is so tightly woven and long wearing that even thorns can't harm it.
English cut, hand-tailored throughout, a "Spalding Twist" suit looks like a hundred dollars, or more. But $50 buys it.
They're all 4-piece suits, too. Styled with Spalding's knowledge of sportswear to be as free and easy on the links as they are smart and dependable for the office.
Besides the "Spalding Twist" we have a wide choice in tweeds, home-spuns and shetlands. All the Fall's finest fabrics—and all imported, of course.

FOREIGN ISSUES LEAD IN LARGE NEW BOND DEALS

Foreign financing, which has been held in abeyance throughout the summer months because of uncertainties of the money situation and an oversupplied bond field, came into the American market last night to the extent of nearly $50,000,000.

In addition, several big domestic bond issues brought the list of new offerings, to be made today by investment houses, to more than $65,000,000. This is a decided contrast to the dull summer weeks in which totals of new financing hovered around $5,000,000. It is taken in financial circles as a sign that the new bonds and certificates will meet with no resistance from leftover issues of last spring. A "feeling out" process started on Sept. 1.

Bolivia Seeks Millions.

The biggest of today's offerings will be $23,000,000 of Bolivian 41 year 7 per cent secured sinking fund bonds priced at 97½ and interest to yield 7.19 per cent. A portion of the issue will be offered in Holland and Switzerland.

Another international piece of financing involves the sale and exchange of 45,000,000 kronor participating debentures of the Kreuger Toll company of Sweden, largest stockholder in the Swedish Match comapny. The American participation will consist of an offering of approximately $14,000,000 of American certificates each representing 20 kronor par value participating debentures and an offer to exchange American certificates representing 17,917,800 kronor of the debentures for the $17,917,800 outstanding preferred stock of the Swedish American Investment corporation.

Italian Bank Offering.

American shares totaling 125,000 and representing a like amount of deposited shares of the Banca Commercale Italiana will be offered by a syndicate at $72.50 a share. A big domestic issue to be offered will be $11,000,000 of Wardman Real Estate Properties, Inc., first and refunding mortgage 6½ per cent serial bonds. An issue of $4,000,000 city and county of San Francisco 4½ Hetch Hetcy water bonds will be offered at prices to yield 4.30 per cent.

The outlook in the steel and iron industry is cheerful, but indicates easing of present prices, according to the midweek reviews of that trade.

Describes Steel Trade.

The volume of business in iron and steel holds at a high level, but prices present a mixed picture, the Iron Age says. In contrast with further advances in pig iron and scrap, finished steel prices are unsettled. The application of a Sept. 10 deadline for specifications in bars, plates, shapes and sheets was not so general as expected.

Some third quarter contracts placed the limit at Sept. 15 and others at Sept. 29, while a number of mills imposed no restricting clause. As a result, many buyers are still able to draw against current quarter contracts, and others, not yet ready to commit themselves for fourth quarters, are either out of the market or are placing spot orders.

Pig iron is experiencing a series of secondary rises, advances being effected this week at Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and in the valleys. Of the other basic materials, coke is steady, but scrap continues to bulge, according to the Iron Trade Review. Semi-finished steel is distinctly stronger, as some makers decline prompt tonnage. Finished steel prices as a whole remain untested, as consumers avoid the issue, but not in many months have producers talked price so firmly to consumers.

Independent steel makers have been expanding their schedules so rapidly they are now operating slightly heavier than steel corporation subsidiaries, which are this week reported to be at 78 per cent. This is believed to be a conservative estimate, as August ingot production averaged 82 per cent and September schedules are broader, if anything. Mahoning valley mills are at practical capacity. Pittsburgh and Buffalo producers average 80 to 85 per cent and Chicago 80. In the latter district the absence of railroad equipment orders is keenly felt.

A stock dividend at the rate of two shares for 100 shares outstanding was declared by Commercial Solvents corporation. This is in addition to cash dividends. Non-dividend bearing scrip certificates will be issued for fractional shares of the scrip, when aggregated, will be exchangeable for full shares. The Union Metal Manufacturing company declared an extra dividend of 25 cents a share and initial quarterly dividends of $1.62½ were declared on the preferred stocks by the Diamond Shoe company and the North Central Texas Oil company.

TOPICS OF FINANCE, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

Fall business will be good, is the forecast of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. A high rate of industrial operation through the summer has resulted in a general feeling of confidence regarding the balance of 1928, and plentiful harvests and the prospect of full employment through the fall promise an active demand for the innumerable articles that make up the necessities of modern living. A normal seasonal increase in business is clearly in prospect, the bank believes.

The conference of Welsh tin plate manufacturers in London has approved the proposed agreement with American manufacturers for division of export trade available to the two countries. The conference of lead producers in London resolved not to increase output as present consumption is keeping pace with recently reduced production. This agreement does not affect the United States.

Public Service corporation of New Jersey reports a total of 76,435 individual stockholders on its books on June 30, largest in the company's history. This compares with 70,337 individual holders on Nov. 1, 1927.

August sales of sheet steel were 254,397 net tons and production 329,396 tons, the National Association of Flat Rolled Steel Manufacturers reports. Shipments were 324,691 tons. Unfilled tonnage on Sept. 1 was 498,023 tons, with 102,825 of finished stock awaiting shipment. Approximate stock unsold was 51,636 tons.

Consolidation of Wilcox Products corporation and the Rich Products corporation through the formation of a new corporation to be known as the Wilcox-Rich corporation was approved at a special meeting held in Detroit. The merger will become effective Oct. 1, 1928. Under the plan the new corporation will have an authorized and outstanding capitalization of 92,000 shares of class A no par value convertible preferred stock and 135,000 shares outstanding of an authorized issue of 227,000 shares of no par value class B common stock.

Sales of copper for export continue in large volume, reaching 15,000,000 yesterday, the most active day in months. Domestic demand is fairly active. The trade looks for another advance in price.

Ross Gear & Tool company yesterday reported shipments for the third quarter of 1928 will exceed the same period of 1927 by 112 per cent. The present quarter exceeds the second quarter by more than 10 per cent, which is said to be significant in view of the fact that the third three months usually runs behind the second. This increase, according to a director of the company, is due largely to an enormous increase in replacement of steering gears. This branch of the business is showing rapid growth. Earnings for the period since Jan. 1 will amount to more than $4 per share or the equivalent on the present basis of $5.33 per share for the year, after all charges including depreciation and federal taxes. The earnings so far will exceed $600,000 for the nine months.

The Texas corporation is notifying the remaining stockholders of California Petroleum that its offer to exchange one share of Texas for two shares of California Petroleum will expire Oct. 15. Virtually all of the shares have been acquired through exchange of stock.

M. C. Lightner has been elected a director of the Singer Manufacturing company to suceed John A. Reid, resigned.

The Atlantic Refining company reduced gasoline 1 cent a gallon to 17 cents tank wagon and 19 cents at service stations in Pennsylvania and Delaware.

700,000,000 lire (approximately $36,800,000) consisting of 1,400,000 shares of par value 500 lire each, fully paid and non-assessable

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The Banca Commerciale Italiana, established in 1894, is the largest commercial bank on the Continent of Europe, and one of the leading financial institutions in the world. It has over 100 branches located in Italy, including all the centers of importance, and has in foreign countries an important system of branches and affiliated institutions. Besides its branches in New York, London and Constantinople, and its representative office in Berlin, it controls banking houses in France and Switzerland, a banking system extending over Eastern Europe and the Near East, and another system which covers practically the whole of South America. It also owns the control of the Banca Commerciale Italiana Trust Company of New York.

The Bank has been instrumental in the inception and development of Italian industry, and is today interested in leading industries in practically all departments of economic activity.

The Bank's deposits and current accounts as of June 30, 1928, were over $395,000,000.

DIVIDENDS: The Banca Commerciale Italiana has paid dividends annually on its shares in every year since 1894. For the past three years, 13% was paid on the par value of the shares, which during the current year amounted to $3.42 per share. These dividends are not subject to any present Italian tax.

MARKET: The shares of the Bank are currently quoted on all Italian and on the Zurich Stock Exchanges. The range during 1928 to date has been low $65—high $80.50, and since June 1, 1928 to date—low $71.50, high $77.50.

All conversions are at the rate of 19 lire per dollar.

"American Shares" are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. All legal matters will be passed upon by Messrs. Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts, New York, for the Bankers. Questions of Italian law will be reported on by Avv. Roberto Pozzi of Milan, Italy. Delivery will be made in the form of Temporary Certificates on or about October 4, 1928.

New Issue September 20, 1928

Republic of Bolivia
7% External Secured Sinking Fund Bonds of 1928

To be dated September 1, 1928 To mature March 1, 1969

Total authorized issue $23,000,000. Interest payable March 1 and September 1. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, registerable as to principal only. Principal and interest payable in United States gold coin of the standard of weight and fineness existing September 1, 1928 at the principal office of Dillon, Read & Co., New York City, without deduction for any Bolivian taxes, present or future. Redeemable as a whole, or in part by lot, on any interest date prior to maturity on thirty days notice, at 102½% and interest. The National Park Bank of New York, Countersigning Agent.

The Republic of Bolivia has agreed to make application in due course to list these bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

An accumulative semi-annual sinking fund will be provided for, calculated to be sufficient to redeem the entire issue by maturity, to be used to purchase bonds up to 102½% and interest or, if not so obtainable, to call bonds by lot at 102½% and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

Approximately $15,000,000 of the proceeds of this issue will be used to retire existing indebtedness (with resulting reduction in present annual service charges) through the redemption of secured external obligations under the Quillacollo-Arani Railroad Loan, the Loan for the Sanitation of La Paz and Cochabamba, and the Potosi-Sucre Railroad Loan; through the liquidation of amounts owing under the Vickers contract; and through the payment of the secured indebtedness to the National Banks of the Republic and of a portion of the unsecured indebtedness to such banks. The balance of the proceeds will be utilized for the further reduction of floating indebtedness, investment in railroads, construction of highways and for other purposes.

SECURITY

The bonds will be the direct obligation of the Republic of Bolivia, and will be issued under authority of the Law of June 21, 1928. The bonds will be specifically secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first charge on a major part of the revenues pledged as security for the obligations to be retired from the proceeds of this issue and on other specific revenues. The government has covenanted that the pledged revenues shall be maintained at not less than one and one-half times the annual amount required for the service of the bonds and that if necessary, it will pledge additional revenues for this purpose.

RESOURCES

The Republic of Bolivia, situated in the central-western portion of South America, has an area of approximately 514,400 square miles, and a population of approximately 2,800,000. The Republic was founded in 1825, the present constitution having been adopted in 1880. Bolivia's wealth is now derived principally from the production of tin, silver, lead, copper, zinc, bismuth, antimony and rubber. Over one-fifth of the world's tin is produced in Bolivia, the country being second only to the Malay Peninsula as a source of supply. Extensive oil fields have been discovered within the country and foreign capital is now being invested in their development. In these activities American oil interests have a predominant position. Bolivia's exports have exceeded imports in value in each of the last ten years, except 1921.

FINANCES

The Bolivian government has met all obligations appertaining to its external debt incurred during the last half century. The total debt of Bolivia on June 30, 1928, adjusted to give effect to the issuance of these bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof, was approximately $70,600,000 of which approximately $63,500,000 was external debt. This debt has been incurred principally for the construction of railroads and other public works. Revenues of the government have exceeded expenditures, other than capital expenditures, in each of the past four years. The notes of the Banco de la Nacion Boliviana, which since 1914 has had a monopoly of the note-issue privilege, have a gold reserve in excess of 45%.

In the early part of 1927, an American Financial Mission headed by Professor E. W. Kemmerer, at the request of the Bolivian government, made a study of financial and economic conditions with a view to the modernization of the government's fiscal policies. As a result, laws have been passed, substantially in accordance with the recommendations of the Mission, establishing real estate and income taxes, instituting a modern budget, treasury and accounting-control system, and providing for the conversion of the Banco de la Nacion Boliviana into a central banking institution to establish the currency upon a gold standard basis and to reorganize the country's banking system.

(Conversions of Bolivian currency into United States currency have been made at 36.5 cents to the boliviano, being approximately the present rate of exchange as well as parity to be established by the new currency law.)

Information herein contained has been received in part by cable.

A substantial amount of these bonds is to be offered for sale in Holland by Mendelssohn & Co. Amsterdam, Nederlandsche Handel-Maatschappij and Pierson & Co. and in Switzerland by Credit Suisse.

We offer these bonds for delivery if, when and as issued and accepted by us, subject to the approval of legal proceedings by Messrs. Root, Clark, Buckner, Howland and Ballantine, and, as to matters of Bolivian law, by Messrs. Schuster & Feuille. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about October 4, 1928, in the form of temporary bonds, or interim receipts of Dillon, Read & Co.

NOW OIL AGE JOSTLES STEAM, ELECTRIC ERA

BY HARPER LEECH.

Financial advertising has afforded ample evidence in recent months of the rapid expansion of natural gas pipe lines, which are covering the southwest with a net which rivals that of rails and electric power lines.

Now that the petroleum industry for the first time in its history is working on a basis of large known reserves held in the ground, with a corresponding pinching in of gas resources, we have every right to believe that this system of pipe lines will be permanent because by the time the natural gas is exhausted there is every reason to believe that the art of treating coal at the mine to make gas and liquid fuel will be far advanced.

We may look upon this great mileage as a permanent addition to the country's traffic system. That has important implications for all other kinds of traffic. The great pipe systems which were built to bring Pennsylvania oil to the seaboard are available to take oil from tankers back into the Appalachians.

Become Traffic Subway.

Like railroads built to get out logs or minerals, a considerable part of pipe line mileage becomes permanent traffic way. There are 51,000 miles of natural gas pipe line in the United States at present and the long distance transmission of artificial gas has become a substantial reality.

There are now 50,000 gas wells in operation and more money has gone into natural gas in the last two and a half years than in the previous 25.

The pipe line delivers to the consumer a much greater share of the thermal units in a pound of coal, than can be delivered over an electric wire. If it were not for the fact that power and fuel bills are such a small part of the costs of manufacturing that would be an important matter in the relative expansion of gas and electricity for industrial heating.

As matters stand the contest is much closer than would appear from the mere figures of available heat units which can be transferred by the rival systems of distributing heat and energy. Industrial use of gas has increased 300 per cent in the last 16 years. A large part of the natural gas output, still several times the volume of artificial gas produced, is of course used locally for manufacturing gasoline, carbon black and as fuel in petroleum refining, etc.

Value of By Products Gas.

That also is true of the ever increasing production of by product coke gas, which is mostly burned for industrial power locally, but about 20 per cent of the artificial gas now distributed in city mains comes from coke plants. Of the gas distributed in urban systems about [illegible] per cent is used by some 7,250 000 gas cooking appliances, 1,700,000 gas water heaters and 1,500,000 room heaters. Gas lighting still accounts for 16 per cent of city use and 26 per cent is used industrially.

The traffic power of the pipe line is well illustrated by the history of the giant tow boat Sprague, which used to bring coal down the Mississippi from Pittsburgh. As the river swung round [illegible] and Chicken Island above Memphis with her acres of coal barges the Sprague was a grand sight—the greatest cargo carrier in the world from a mere tonnage standpoint. The pipe lines from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas killed the Sprague coal trade. A few years ago I saw the old tow boat tied to a clump of cotton woods above Cairo. A coal man had bought it as a regulator of rail freight rates. A tow boat for such purposes is as handy as the old shot gun hanging over the farmer's fireplace. But today the Sprague is pushing oil tank barges up the Mississippi from pipe line terminals—enslaved by the thing that bereft the old boat of former glory.

WOOL.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—(AP)—WOOL—Auction sales were continued today with offerings amounting to 10,300 bales and demand was slow and hesitating and there were further heavy withdrawals. Superior greasy merinos sold at 10 per cent under the last series and scoureds generally depreciated 10 to 15 per cent. Fine greasy crossbreds declined 5 per cent and coarse grades which were in small supply, sold 5 per cent lower. Only 6,000 bales were sold.

C. O. S., La Crosse, Wis.—Loft, Incorporated, is a manufacturer and wholesale and retail distributor of candy, soda sirups, ice cream, lunchroom supplies, etc.

Net sales for 1927 were $7,873,223, compared with $8,397,521 for 1926.

Net income, however, was $312,657 for 1927, against $32,919 for 1926.

This was equal to 48 cents a share earned on its 650,000 shares of no par capital stock in 1927, as compared with 5 cents a share earned in 1926

Profit and loss surplus stood at $2,537,649 at the end of 1927, against $2,351,795 at the end of 1926.

For the first seven months of 1928, total sales amounted to $4,080,192, against $4,389,405 for the first seven months of 1927.

No dividends have been paid since 1922.

Insull South Bend Line Offers Refinance Plans

Reorganization of the financial structure of the Chicago, South Shore and South Bend railroad began yesterday. Petitions asking approval of new securities were filed with the public service commission of Indiana and the Illinois commerce commission.

The railroad, which operates electrically between Chicago and South Bend, asks authority to issue and sell $1,000,000 first mortgage 6 per cent three year bonds, $1,500,000 par value 6½ per cent class A preferred stock, $3,500,000 par value 6½ per cent class B preferred stock, and 265,000 shares of common stock without par value.

Authority is asked to sell these securities at prices which will yield $8,150,000 for the company, which is one of the Insull interests.

BANKERS REPORT SMALLER TOTAL OF ACCEPTANCES

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The total of bankers' acceptances outstanding Aug. 31, was $952,051,109 as compared wtih $977,863,926 July 31, last, the American Acceptance council reported today. Pointing out that the loss for the month was only $25,812,817, against a reduction of nearly $50,000,000 for July, the council said.

"These figures furnish unmistakable evidence that the outward movement of our acceptance credit business has been checked, thus putting American banks in a strong position to secure the large volume of seasonal acceptance financing now being contracted for, especially in the southern cotton states."

Acceptances against goods in domestic warehouses were reported as totaling $92,000,000 against $119,000,000 a year ago. Acceptances based on goods in foreign warehouses or shipped between countries declined from $164,000,000 on July 31 to $151,000,000 on Aug. 31.

Federal reserve holdings of acceptances were $184,300,000, or about 19 per cent of the total volume outstanding, against $185,100,000, or 23 per cent a year ago. Its position leaves the federal reserve system open, the council said, to add nearly $175,000,000 to its holding and it is through this means that he acceptance market is expected to be able to move an estimated $200,000,000 increase in acceptances when the present commodity movement reaches its peak.

Notice to the holders of

Swedish American Investment Corporation

Participating Preferred Stock

regarding exchange for Participating Debentures of

Kreuger & Toll Company

The entire common stock of Swedish American Investment Corporation is owned by Kreuger & Toll Company (Aktiebolaget Kreuger & Toll) of Stockholm, Sweden, and a wholly owned subsidiary. At the request of Kreuger & Toll Company, the undersigned offer to holders of Swedish American Investment Corporation Participating Preferred Stock the right to exchange said stock for American Certificates representing Participating Debentures of Kreuger & Toll Company, in the ratio of 5 American Certificates (representing an aggregate par value of Kronor 100 Participating Debentures) for each share of Participating Preferred Stock. All payments on account of Participating Debentures represented by American Certificates will be paid in dollars at present parity of exchange (1 Kronor = $.268). A complete description of the American Certificates and the Participating Debentures may be obtained from the undersigned.

This right expires on November 19, 1928 and holders of Participating Preferred Stock wishing to accept this offer should forward their Stock Certificates, duly endorsed for transfer and with the necessary transfer tax stamps affixed, to the banker through whom the shares were originally purchased, or to the undersigned.

Two bank lists with but a SINGLE FAULT

"WHY should I buy bonds from you rather than from any one of fifty other salesmen who call on me?" said a bank treasurer.

So we told him about two banks which had only recently submitted their lists of investment holdings for analysis by our Investment Service Department. One had been organized a short time before, and held $216,000 in bonds. The other was a country bank. It had been long established, and was operating successfully. Its list totalled $460,000.

Naturally, each bank had followed fundamental principles in its bond selections. Diversification and sound intrinsic values had been kept in mind.

But each list showed the same fault—there was a decided lack of short term investments, and too small a proportion of medium term issues.

Our suggestion to both banks was that they correct this fault by the creation of a rotating contingent reserve, supplementing cash reserve. These contingent reserve funds would be invested in short term securities, some maturing in one year, some in two, and so on up to five years. By this method cash funds would become available for seasonal requirements each year, at the maturity of these short term bonds.

In addition, a higher degree of marketability would be brought about. Another advantage was the greater protection these short term issues afforded against heavy depreciation in the market value of security reserves. For example, a decline of ¼ of 1 per cent in the interest return on a three-year bond amounts only to 62/100 of 1 per cent decline in the price, whereas the same difference in yield on a twenty-year bond would be a 3-½ per cent price decline.

We further suggested that as more funds became available, the maturity could be extended to ten years, thus taking care of medium-term requirements.

Working on a wide variety of problems every month, and having almost unlimited access to investment information, our Investment Service Department can be of service to banks and large business firms among our customers, as well as to individual investors.

AMERICAN CERTIFICATES: Participating Debentures allotted for sale in the United States and for exchange for Swedish American Investment Corporation Participating Preferred Stock will be represented by American Certificates in registered form issued by Lee, Higginson Trust Company, Boston, as Depositary under a Deposit Agreement dated September 1, 1928, in the proportion of 1 American Certificate for each 20 kronor (Kr. 20) par value of Debentures deposited. In accordance with the terms of the Deposit Agreement, at any time on or after January 2, 1929 additional Debentures may be deposited by any holder thereof in exchange for American Certificates. American Certificates will be exchangeable through the Depositary in Boston and the Fiscal Agent in New York, at any time after November 1, 1928, for the Debentures represented thereby. The proportional part of any interest, principal, redemption price or other payments, applicable to the deposited Debentures, will be paid by the Company in dollars at present parity of exchange (1 Kr. = $.268) and distributed to holders of American Certificates by Lee, Higginson & Co., New York, Boston and Chicago, Fiscal Agent for the American Certificates.

Participating Debentures are redeemable, as above stated, at the option of the Company and in liquidation, at a price equivalent to the average market quotation for the preceding 3 months. In the Deposit Agreement the Company will covenant that Participating Debentures on deposit thereunder will not be called for redemption, unless the average quotation for the 3 months preceding the month in which notice of redemption is given is equivalent to or exceeds 5 times par value of Participating Debentures; nor will the amount payable in voluntary liquidation be less than 5 times par value.

For a more detailed description of the Participating Debentures (including the complete text) and of the American Certificates, reference is made to the letter of Kreuger & Toll Company, signed by Ivar Kreuger, Esq., which he further summarizes as follows:

Capitalization of Kreuger & Toll Company upon completion of present financing

Participating Debentures:	Previously issued,	Kr. 20,000,000
	This issue,	45,000,000	Kr. 65,000,000 par value, equivalent to $17,420,000
Ordinary Shares, par Kr. 100,			Kr. 65,000,000 par value, equivalent to $17,420,000

Swedish American Investment Corporation has outstanding $17,917,800 par value Participating Preferred Stock, for exchange of which Kr. 17,917,800 Participating Debentures of Kreuger & Toll Company (included in the above statement of capitalization) are reserved. The Participating Debentures constitute the only funded debt of either company.

KREUGER & TOLL COMPANY, organized in 1911 under Swedish laws, is an organizing and managing company. It is the largest stockholder in Swedish Match Company (with its subsidiaries the largest match manufacturing organization in the world) and has at various times cooperated financially with that company and its principal subsidiary, International Match Corporation.

The Company at this time proposes to acquire from Swedish Match Company $36,000,000 Hungarian mortgage bank bonds which Swedish Match Company, in connection with its obtaining the match manufacturing and selling concession in Hungary, has contracted to purchase. Kreuger & Toll Company will participate in the profits of this concession. The Company also intends to continue relations with other enterprises in Sweden and abroad, in order to facilitate governmental, municipal and other financing incident to large industrial and commercial transactions.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Of the present issue of Kr. 45,000,000 Participating Debentures, Kr. 17,917,800 Debentures, represented by American Certificates, are reserved for exchange for the $17,917,800 par value outstanding Participating Preferred Stock of Swedish American Investment Corporation, entire common stock of which is owned by Kreuger & Toll Company and a wholly-owned subsidiary. Proceeds of the balance of the issue will be applied toward acquisition of the above mentioned Hungarian mortgage bank bonds.

ASSETS: In addition to stock of Swedish Match Company, holdings of Kreuger & Toll Company, Swedish American Investment Corporation and their subsidiary holding companies include substantial stock interests in Grangesberg Company, the largest producer of iron ore in Europe; in real estate companies in Germany and Sweden; and in banks in various European countries.

Consolidated net assets of Kreuger & Toll Company, Swedish American Investment Corporation and their subsidiary holding companies at December 31, 1927, after deducting current liabilities of $5,954,012, and including proceeds of Kr. 20,000,000 Participating Debentures previously issued and after giving effect to present financing, amount to over $128,000,000. Including in above figures, at present quotations, holdings quoted on various European stock exchanges, total net assets amount to over $163,000,000.

EARNINGS: In no year since its organization has Kreuger & Toll Company failed to earn a profit substantially in excess of dividends paid. Dividends have been paid in every year, at an average annual rate of 20% on Ordinary Shares from time to time outstanding and participating in dividends, and for the past 9 years at the present rate of 25%.

Consolidated net earnings for the year 1927 of Kreuger & Toll Company, Swedish American Investment Corporation and their subsidiary holding companies, after eliminating inter-company items and including income from interest on the Hungarian mortgage bank bonds proposed to be acquired and from the Company's minimum participation in profits of the Hungarian match concession, amount to $15,289,606.

Assuming exchange of all Swedish American Investment Corporation Participating Preferred Stock, such net earnings are equal to 43.88% on total Kr. 65,000,000 ($17,420,000) par value Participating Debentures and Kr. 65,000,000 ($17,420,000) par value Ordinary Shares to be then outstanding. Such net earnings, calculated on basis that all or any portion of the Preferred Stock were not exchanged, are equivalent to substantially the same percentage on resulting total par value of Kreuger & Toll Company Participating Debentures and Ordinary Shares to be then outstanding in the hands of the public.

Application will be made to list the American Certificates on the New York Stock Exchange.

PRICE, $28.14 per American Certificate (representing Kr. 20 par value Participating Debentures),

YIELDING OVER 4¾%, on basis of present dividend rate on Ordinary Shares

WEATHER HELPS WHEAT MARKET TO ADVANCE 1⅞C

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The wheat market displayed a much stronger undertone. With the forecast for somewhat unsettled weather in the spring wheat area, and talk of drought in Australia, sufficient buying developed to advance prices 1½@1⅝c over the early low. The close was at net gains of 1⅛@1¼c. Corn was somewhat unsettled, with September ⅛c lower and deferred deliveries ⅝c higher, strength in wheat being a factor. Oats gained ¼@½c, and rye 1⅛@1½c.

There was moderate commission house buying of wheat early, with some futures taken for foreign account, and when local shorts tried to cover they found offerings small, and the upturn was easily attained. Strength in Winnipeg in the face of record marketings at interior points—9,236,000 bu on Tuesday, against 664,000 bu last year—had some effect on sentiment, which was less bearish than of late. Winnipeg gained 1@1¼c for the day. Liverpool finished ¾@⅞d higher.

Hedging Sales on Bulge.

Houses with northwestern connections sold December and May wheat on the bulge and there was also pressure from holders of offers. Official reports said that August rainfall in Australia was below normal and farmers are becoming anxious over the dry weather. The greater part of the strength in Winnipeg came from short covering, as export demand was only fair and sales of 500,000 to 600,000 bu were reported in all positions. An increase of 8,250,000 bu was shown in world's available supplies for the week, with the total 187,717,000 bu, against 157,150,000 bu last year.

September Corn Erratic.

Commission house selling appeared in September corn, and while there was a sharp upturn at one time the finish was well toward the bottom. An advance of ½@1c in the spot basis had some effect, and country offerings to arrive were not large, while shipping sales aggregated 120,000 bu. New crop deliveries were affected by the action of wheat and averaged higher, with trade mainly of a local character. Selling against offers checked the bulge.

Weather conditions remain favorable for the new crop and official returns said that a good part of it was out of the way of frost danger, with 57 per cent of the Iowa crop already safe. The only frost reported overnight was in parts of lower Michigan.

WORLD'S WHEAT STOCKS

World's available supply of wheat, as compiled by the Daily Trade Bulletin, increased 5,777,000 bu in August, compared with 16,987,000 bu in July, and with 23,457,000 bu last year. The gain during the month was entirely in the United States. Details follow, last three ciphers omitted:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 400,000 to 500,000 bu wheat, largely Manitobas, were reported in all positions. There was also a fair trade in barley. Local handlers sold 3,000 bu wheat, 120,000 bu corn, 32,000 bu oats, and 6,000 bu barley to the domestic trade. Deliveries on September contracts aggregated 269,000 bu wheat and 30,000 bu oats.

Offerings of red winter wheat are decidedly small and the basis was nominally 1@2c higher. Basis on hard winter and springs was firm for choice and weak for poor qualities. No. 2 red nominally 28@30c over, No. 2 hard 3½@4½c over, and No. 1 northern 1@4c over September. Cash corn basis was ½@1c higher, with No. 2 mixed 1¾@2c over, yellow 2¾@3⅝c over, and white, 2½@3½c over September. Oats basis was ¼c higher to ¼c lower, with No. 2 white 2@2½c over and No. 3 white ½c under to 1½c over September.

Official receipts of grain at Chicago Wednesday: Wheat, 29 cars; corn, 116 cars; oats, 53 cars; rye, 2 cars; barley, 22 cars.

LARD PRICES DECLINE

Renewed pressure from holders of October lard who were liquidating, with limited buying support, carried prices down and they closed 2½@10c lower, except for December, which was unchanged, owing to fair commission house buying at the last. A drop of 10@25c in hogs, which are off from the recent top, encouraged selling of product. Exports were 671,650 lbs.

Packers' brokers were buyers of bellies on the break, while selling was scattered. The close was at net losses of 20@27½c. Ribs were dull and unchanged to 15c lower.

The run of hogs at western points was larger, with gains over the previous week and last year.

Slaughtering in the west for the summer season to date, as given by the Grain World, aggregate 16,430,000, against 17,180,000 last year. Prices follow:

DRAW PLANS FOR 5 STORY FLATS ON CHASE AVE.

BY AL CHASE.

Plans are now being drawn by Jillson & Pierce, architects, for a six story and English basement apartment building to be erected at 1412 Chase avenue by the 1412 Chase Avenue Building corporation. The incorporators are John J. Enright, K. Korte, and David Moscovitz. The 50x150 site was bought from William A. Grover.

The building will contain six four room suites, thirty two room apartments and eighteen threes. Work is expected to start within a few weeks. The Bond & Mortage company is financing the project. Harold J. Dalton was attorney.

Work has started on a seven story men's hotel at 617-19 West Madison from plans by M. O. Nathan which will have accommodations for 700 men. It will be operated by the McCoy Hotel system, which has a similiar hotel at Madison and Morgan streets, opened a year ago.

The new hotel will stand on a 40x190 lot and will have a terra cotta front of white and green. The total cost of land and building will be $435,000, according to Marks & Co., mortgage bankers, who have underwritten a $250,000 bond issue on the project. The building is to be completed by June 1st.

The Evanston Community Recreation association has leased the second floor of its club house, overlooking the community golf course to the Evanston Post No. 42, American Legion, for fifty years beginning Oct. 1, 1928, at the nominal rental of $1 annually.

The northwest corner of Wentworth and 51st, 50x124, has been sold by Harry E. Walsh to the Standard Oil company for use as a filling station, for a stated $25,000.

STORM DAMAGE STRIKES SUGAR STOCKS ON CURB

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—As the call money rate mounted to 8½ per cent today a wave of liquidation swept the curb market and carried the general list lower, although nearly a score of industrials and specialtes were pushed up to new high prices for the year or longer.

Sparks Withington was a strong feature, mounting 12½ points to a new high at 130¾, while Checker Cab and Durant Motor were other strong automotive shares, going to new peaks in small gains. Crocker-Wheeler Electric jumped 13 points to a new top at 110, and Newton Steel went up more than 8 points to 90 on raising its dividend rate.

Sugars again reflected hurricane damage, United Porto Rico falling 25 points and Central Aguirre increasing its loss by 3½ points. Fajardo, however, recovered 2 points on reports that its damage was not as great as had at first been estimated. Bullard Machine Tool fell more than 6 and Anglo-Chilean Nitrate nearly 4 points, while Columbia Graphophone and Bancitaly were in supply.

BETTER SUPPORT TO COTTON

Hedging sales in cotton failed to hold prices down, as shorts and commission houses were liberal buyers, especially around the last hour. Prices moved up and closed at the best of the day. There were net gain of 11 to 26 points on futures in Chicago, while in other markets gains were 17 to 28 points. Spots in New York gained 30 points to 17.95c; New Orleans up 15 points to 17.10c; Houston, 17.25c; Galveston, 17.40c; Liverpool closed 13 to 20 points higher, with spot sales increased to 8,000 bales.

Heavy rains fell in parts of the eastern belt, causing damage. The crop there at the end of last week was at a standstill.

The United States department of agriculture will issue its first report on grade, staple and tenderability of the annual carry-over on Sept. 21. Day's prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

That wheat prices should advance in the face of country deliveries of 9,236,000 bu in western Canada on Tuesday, or more than 17,500,000 bu in the last two days, setting a record for farmer selling, was a big surprise to the trade. But it is well to consider that the bulk of this wheat went to the pools and was not put on the market. The advance was regarded as mainly covering by shorts, and not to be considered as indicating more than an extensively oversold situation.

Wheat bulges meet hedge sales from the American and Canadian northwest, but not in volume expected by the trade, considering the immense crop and large receipts. Probably the price has something to do with stability shown by the market.

"The holding tendency of farmers and the Canadian pool is undoubtedly responsible for firm prices at this time," says L. L. Winters, "but we doubt [illegible] advances can be maintained unless some bullish incident occurs somewhere in the world."

THE COMPANY

The Reliance Manufacturing Company, Massillon, Ohio, founded in 1909 and incorporated under the laws of the State of Ohio in January, 1911, is the largest manufacturer of lock washers in the country. The original paid in capital was $10,000 and the business has been built up to its present size almost entirely out of earnings. In November, 1925, the Company acquired The Mansfield Lock Washer Company, Mansfield, Ohio, through purchase of the entire outstanding capital stock.

The Company's output consists practically entirely of lock washers which are sold under the trade names of "Reliance", "Mansfield", "Reliance Kantlink" and "Hy Crome." In addition, a small amount of lock washer steel wire is sold. The Company does about 50% of the total business in its field and has approximately 1,500 customers, including leading automobile, electrical apparatus, radio and other manufacturing companies and many of the leading railroads. About 60% of sales are to the automobile trade, the Company's location being particularly advantageous for prompt service to the Detroit and Cleveland districts. The Company also does a large business with the hardware jobbing trade in bulk and assorted packages of lock washers.

Two plants are operated at Massillion, Ohio, and one at Mansfield, Ohio.

The Corporation has no funded debt.

Mr. C. A. Hatcher, President, has summarized his letter to us regarding the Corporation as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The Nehi Corporation, organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, will acquire all the assets, good will, trade marks and business or all of the capital stock of Nehi, Inc., and Chero Cola Company, both Georgia corporations.

The chief product of the business is the nationally advertised line of "Nehi" soft drinks. Under the trade-marked name of "Nehi," twelve flavors of this drink are distributed through the Company's franchised bottlers.

The original business, founded in 1906, was incorporated in 1912 with assets consisting of a single operating bottling plant, and $25,000 in cash, and has now become the second largest manufacturer in this country of trade-marked carbonated beverages sold through bottling distributors.

With the exception of a brand that has been on the market for forty years, more bottles of "Nehi" were sold through franchised bottlers during 1927 than any other nationally advertised brand of soft drink in the United States.

Prior to 1925 the chief product of this enterprise was Chero Cola, with its principal distribution throughout the Southern States. This drink is now manufactured under the name of "Chero," to meet the demand of the cola-drinking public. As more than 85% of the soft drink consumption in the United States is of the "non-cola" type, "Nehi" was introduced for this larger volume market and the field for its constantly increasing sales is practically unlimited.

Since 1925 the management has concentrated its attention on the marketing of the "Nehi" line of soft drinks. Over $1,175,000 has been expended in advertising during this time, and sales of "Nehi" alone have increased from about 79,000,000 bottles in 1925, to over 410,000,000 bottles in 1927.

SALES AND EARNINGS: Net sales and net earnings after all prior charges including Federal income taxes of the predecessor companies for the three and one-half years ended June 30th, 1928, as certified by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, as applied to the capitalization of the new company are as follows:

Year	Net Sales	Net Earnings after Federal Taxes	Per share on First Preferred Stock	Per share on Common Stock
1926	2,160,890	363,122.06	18.15	$1.02
1927	3,038,382	541,344.56	27.06	2.28
Six Months ended June 30, 1928	1,733,148	351,082.75	17.55	1.70

The above net earnings represent an annual average of $395,348.45 available over the period for dividends on this issue of First Preferred Stock, as against maximum annual requirements of $105,000. The net earnings for the year ended December 31st, 1927 of $541,344.56 were over five times the maximum annual dividend requirements on this issue of First Preferred Stock and after all prior charges were equivalent to $2.28 per share on the common stock.

Such net earnings for the six months ended June 30th, 1928, in the amount of $351,082.75 are equivalent to over six and one-half times the maximum dividend requirements on this issue of First Preferred Stock for the period and equal to over $1.70 per share on the common stock. The pro-forma balance sheet of the new company as of June 30th, 1928, as certified by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, shows total working and current assets of $809,335.49 against current liabilities of $146,373.19, a ratio of over five and one-half to one.

MANAGEMENT: The Management of the business remains in the hands of the men who have been responsible for its success. They have further indicated their confidence by retaining a large investment in the entire issue of Convertible Preferred Stock in the amount of 14,000 shares and in common stock which are both junior to this issue of First Preferred Stock.

Mr. C. A. Hatcher continues actively as President of the Company, ably assisted by the "key" men in his production and distributing organization who have aided in bringing about the success of the enterprise.

We offer this stock, subject to prior sale, in the form of Allotment Certificates for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of legal proceedings by our Counsel, Messrs. Lowe and Dougherty, New York, N. Y. Delivery in the form of Allotment Certificates is expected to be made on or about October 2, 1928. Such Allotment Certificates will provide for payment to the holders of all dividends upon the stock called for thereby and for delivery of certificates for the number of shares of First Preferred Stock and of certificates for an equal number of shares of full voting Common Stock called for by the Allotment Certificates.

BOND TRADING IS LESS ACTIVE; MONEY TIGHTER

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Trading was less active on the bond market today and price movements were irregular, influenced, like those of stocks, by the tightening of money. Banks called upwards of $30,000,000 in loans, call money rose to 8½ per cent, and time money was firm around 7 per cent, with some loans reported at 7¼. Total sales were slightly above $9,000,000, somewhat smaller than on the earlier days of the week.

Andes Copper 7s again were the feature. The issue moved up about 3 points to a new year's high at 152¼, but lost part of its gain. The turnover approximated $1,500,000, about five times that of any other issue. Anaconda Copper 6s improved fractionally, but Anaconda Copper 7s eased off more than a point.

Liquid Carbonic 6s were prominent in the industrial group, rising about 5 points to a new high of 141½, coincident with the advance of the stock. Anglo-Chilean Nitrate 7s, Cuban Cane Sugar 8s, United Drug of Delaware 5s and a few others showed gains of around a point. Barnsdall 6s with warrants were active at levels about 3 points lower. Most utilities closed lower.

Rails were mixed. Wheeling and Lake Erie 4s extended their record gain another 1½ points and advances of a point or so were registered by Norfolk Southern 5s A, Missouri Pacific 5s, Frisco 4s, and Great Northern 5½s. Seaboard Air Line and Seaboard All-Florida issues slumped under continued selling pressure.

Price 100 and Interest

Dated September 1, 1928 and redeemable. Authorized $16,000,000 at any one time outstanding, issuable in the above or other Series. Principal and interest payable March 1 and September 1 at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., New York City or Chicago, without deduction for the normal Federal income tax not in excess of 2% per annum. Coupon bonds in denominations of $[illegible]00 and $500. The Company will agree to reimburse resident holders of these bonds, upon proper application within sixty days after payment, for all taxes (other than transfer, succession and inheritance taxes) not exceeding 5½ mills per annum on each dollar of the principal amount, which such holders may have been required to pay to any State or the District of Columbia on account of the principal of and/or interest on any such bonds.

A letter from Mr. Harry Wardman, President of the Company is summarized below:

Company: Wardman Real Estate Properties, Inc., a Maryland corporation, will own in fee simple and will operate five modern apartment houses, four apartment hotels (including the well-known Wardman Park Hotel), the Wardman Park Hotel addition now being constructed, the Carlton Hotel and one office building leased to the United States Department of Justice, all in Washington, D. C.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds from the sale of these bonds will be applied to the retirement of mortgage indebtedness upon properties to be owned by the Company and, in part, for the construction of the Wardman Park Hotel addition.

Security: These Bonds will, in the opinion of counsel, be secured by a first mortgage upon the Wardman Park Hotel, the addition thereto now under construction, the Carlton Hotel, Boulevard Apartments, Cathedral Mansions North and the Department of Justice Building (subject to its lease to the United States Department of Justice), as well as the furniture, furnishings and equipment of the Company contained therein, funds now being provided for the retirement of liens formerly outstanding; and by a direct mortgage upon the Company's six remaining properties together with furniture, furnishings and equipment.

Valuation: Based on reproduction cost new, less depreciation, independent engineers report a valuation of $28,887,146 (including land, buildings, furniture, furnishings and equipment and a valuation of $2,153,687 for the Wardman Park Hotel addition when completed, but exclusive of furnishings to be installed therein). These Bonds, together with the total underlying mortgages to be outstanding, will represent 55% of this valuation.

The First and Refunding Mortgage will, in the opinion of counsel, be a first mortgage on property valued at $[illegible]8,539,880, and a direct mortgage on the balance of the property valued at $10,347,266. Through provision for the refunding of underlying mortgages, the First and Refunding Mortgage will from time to time also become a first mortgage on the balance of the properties included in this latter valuation.

Earnings: Independently audited earnings of the Wardman Park Hotel and the Department of Justice Building for the year 1927, together with the independently estimated results from operation during a normal year of the Company's other properties, indicate total annual net income of $1,509,186 after deducting interest ($20[illegible],544) upon closed underlying mortgages but before depreciation and Federal income tax. The maximum annual interest upon these First and Refunding Mortgage bonds will require $715,000.

Sinking Fund: The Company will covenant in the Indenture to provide a sinking fund beginning November 1, 1929 and operating semi-annually thereafter through Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., for the retirement, prior to maturity, of $960,000 principal amount of bonds of the Series due 19[illegible]8 and $1,600,000 principal amount of bonds of the Series due 1948 (equivalent to 32% and 40%, respectively, of the principal amount of each of these Series).

Management: The men responsible for the past successful record of the Company, together with Mr. Emory L. Coblentz, Chairman of the Board of Directors of The Potomac Edison Company and a prominent Maryland banker, will be actively engaged in the management of this Company.

A circular fully descriptive of the issue will be sent upon request

STOCKS ARE ERRATIC; SOME UP, OTHERS DOWN IN CHICAGO'S MART

Many Chicago stocks were irregularly lower yesterday, although among the active issues the strong side seemed to predominate. Selling was most pronounced as call money rates advanced to 8 per cent, and a further advance of ½ per cent brought a turn upward for a number of stocks, despite the stiffening of money.

Oakes Products "A" and "B" each sold up 5 points, along with announcement that the stock had been listed from trading on the New York curb. Grigsby-Grunow gained 4 points and Atlas Stores finished 3½ higher.

Winton Engine jumped 2½ to 50½, a new high, on reports that earnings for August were considerably higher than those of July and that September earnings are running at a rate which exceeds all expectations of the management. Campell, Wyant & Cannon also gained 2½. Kellogg Switchboard sold up 2¼ on merger reports which could not be verified, and Mohawk Rubber and Meadows Manufacturing each gained 2 points.

Rich Products issues, Morgan Lithograph, and Benith Radio gained a point or more, while fractional advances were established by Yellow Cab, United Reproducers, Galesburg-Coulter Disc, Unit preferred, Illinois Brick, and Hart-Carter. Reports were current that contracts have been signed on behalf of Hart-Carter for the acquisition of a large concern in the agricultural implement accessory field with earnings available for federal taxes and dividends averaging more than $180,000 per year for the last three years.

Pines Winterfront sold down 5½ on profit taking and Utah Radio was down 3 points. Losses of a point or so were felt by Kalamazoo Stove, U. S. Gypsum, A. M. Castle, Godchaux Sugar, Norg-Warner, and Vorclone. Club Aluminum eased ⅛. William A. Burnett, president of Club Aluminum, said that the company's first sales subsidiary, C Health Products, has produced extremely satisfactory results with the volume of business at $80,000 a month, with margin of profit equal to that of aluminum business. Baxter Laun Art Metal Works, and Coleman L were also fractionally lower.

On small sales Wayne Pump, C Brothers, Auburn Automobile, Chic City and Connecting railway prefer and Dayton Rubber were up one to t points. Great Lakes Dredge los points and losses of from 1 to 4 p were felt by a number of issues, inc ing Acme Steel, Sears-Roebuck, Min apolis-Honeywell, and Raytheon.

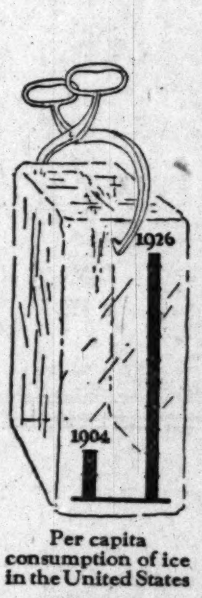
The American Packing Industry, Marvel of All the World, Depends Upon the Manufactured Ice Industry to Bring Its Meats to You Fresh and Pure

The same thing is true of milk, butter, eggs, fruits, seafoods, and many vegetables. Only ice can be used to refrigerate cars which must often be left on side tracks, while they are being loaded with such products.

Continuous expansion, over a long period of years, has marked the history of the Ice Industry. Today it stands high among American industries, with invested capital of $750,000,000, yearly sales of more than $300,000,000 and attracting to itself the best financial, engineering and merchandising talent in the country.

Consider the charts shown herewith as evidence of its past growth and probably greater growth in the future. They explain, in part, why bond issues secured by the properties and earnings of well managed Manufactured Ice Companies are regarded as safe investments by conservative investors.



Per capita consumption of ice in the United States
1904—204 Lbs.

40 STOCKS RISE, MANY FALL IN CHOPPY MARKET

The general list after opening firmly with call money rates at 7 per cent was compelled to absorb heavy selling during the greater part of the day. The money rate soared to 8½ per cent in three jumps of ½ per cent.

There was a brisk rally toward the close that wiped out a good part of the early losses, but withdrawals by the banks in the forenoon, totaling about $30,000,000, obviously put a crimp in operations for the rise. Even so, there were nearly 40 issues, in which the turnover exceeded 10,000 shares, that registered advances of from 1 to 8 points. The large losses were confined for the most part to issues in which trading was less than 3,000 shares. This fact was regarded as a sign that the trading was at least buoyant in disposition.

Some Shares Advance.

Atlantic Refining, up 8½ points; General American Tank, up 5¾; Freeport Texas, up 4½; Wallworth company, up 5⅛, and Warner Bros. A, up 6⅝, were among the group of stocks that were in brisk demand at the close. Professional "scalpers" were out in force to take advantage of wide swings in many shares, which allowed the nimble trader to shave a point or two as the list alternately rose and fell. In the case of Atlantic Refining there was a variance of 8½ points between the high and low, while in Brunswick-Balke-Collender it was five points, in General Motors 3, and United States Steel 2¼.

There practically was no news, aside from the money rates, to influence trading one way or the other. On the whole the market rendered a rather forceful demonstration of its ability to withstand a sudden boost in money rates, and while there was some consistent selling the declines were instigated by profit taking in numerous isntances.

Steady at Close.

The weight of offerings was at times sufficient to force fair sized recessions, yet in the end the list held remarkably well, with pivotal issues among the specialties receiving powerful support. Gillette Safety Razor closed with a net gain of 2¾ points, Colorado Gas and Electric 4⅛, Motor Meter A 2⅞, Kelsey Hayes 5⅛, and International Nickel 2⅞. United States Steel sold off only 1⅛ points, General Motors held even, and Montgomery Ward advanced more than a point.

Frenzied Finance Charged by Vulcan Last Co. Auditors

New York, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Audit of the accounts of the Vulcan Last company and the Vulcan Corporation of Portsmouth, O., has resulted in a total reduction of book inventory to physical amounting to $1,000,269, attorneys revealed today. Stockholders of the company, which is undergoing reorganization, will meet Friday at Portsmouth to discuss future action. J. M. Hutton of Cleveland is chairman of the stockholders' committee. The auditors stated that they believe inflation of inventory quantities of the Vulcan Last company began at least as early as September, 1925, and had been continued since by various methods. Detailed records prior to 1928 were said to be missing.

Why Careful Investors
Select Greenebaum Bonds

1. As the Oldest Real Estate Bond House—Founded 1855—this Institution has been in successful operation for nearly three-quarters of a century.

2. Valuable experience gained through 73 years of specialization in one form of investment, greatly benefits investors in Greenebaum First Mortgage Securities.

3. A reputation for fair-dealing through three generations has earned, and retained the confidence of conservative investors, everywhere.

In addition to these features, investors appreciate the non-speculative character of Greenebaum Bonds, desirably combined with soundness of security and substantial interest yield. Current offerings include many attractive 6% Issues.

Receipts at 16,000 were above the average for Wednesday during the last few weeks, and being augmented by 10,000 carried over from Tuesday the available supply exceeded immediate requirements. Early top at $13.20 was no criterion of the later trade, when best selections stopped at $13.00. General average lowered to $12.40. The smaller proportion of packing sows has been holding average prices up some. Hogs Tuesday averaged 239 lbs., against 246 lbs., the previous Tuesday.

Cattle Range Is Wide.

Range of cattle prices reached a new wide point for the season yesterday when in between classes sold at further uneven declines, while extreme top well finished yearling steers held firm at $18.50. Two loads averaged 1,069 lbs. at this figure, bulk selling at $14.50@17.10, against $15.00@17.75 a week earlier and $11.10@15.15 a year ago. Medium to good grades show losses of 50c to $1.50 since ten days ago. Butcher stock ruled weak, showing a drop of 75c to $1.00 in two weeks. Calves sold weak. Stockers and feeders met better outlet following Tuesday slight decline.

Further strength was noted in lambs yesterday, although continued large supplies blocked any reaction to higher levels. Top westerns reached $14.00 with natives to city butchers at $14.00 and bulk around $13.50. Brisk demand for feeder lambs held prices steady, although bulk of sales are not quite up to the high point of last week. Bulk of 55@75 lb. averages sold at $13.65@14.25.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Cotton goods were quieter today in the gray cloth division, but sales of sheetings for bag purposes were a little more active, finished goods were in moderate demand, chiefly on duplicate orders for fall consumption. Burlaps declined slightly at Calcutta and were reported quiet and unchanged on the spot. Raw silk again advanced in spot markets and in Yokohoma. Silk crepes of the Canton and satin faced grades were in demand for immediate cutting. American Woolen company lines of staple dress fabrics for spring will be opened on Tuesday and other corporations will begin openings thereafter. Soft finished dress fabrics and coatings are wanted for immediate delivery. Rayon producers report active sales, the leading factor's sales running ahead of shipments, and with the promise now that the year's output will be 50,000,000 pounds.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Moderately active and firmer, closing 2 to 14 points higher on buying by refiners and commission houses. Sales, 14,100 brls. Prime crude, 8.00c; prime summer yellow spot, 9.75c; Sept. closed, 9.75c; Oct., 9.73c; Dec., 9.72c; Jan., 9.79c; March, 9.97c.

Our years of experience in trainin help for Chicago's manufacturers has b ought home to us the fact that a profess on or trade can only be learnt under actual working conditions—and in order to giv Chicago the benefit of our experience w have bought out a complete manufac uring plant in the heart of the clothing d trict. Here, under the most skillful instr ctors, students are taught any or every bra ch of the Clothing or Dress Industry.

Our instructors were chosen for their prominence and ability in the ga ment trades—they come to you fresh fro the manufacturing field with a full know edge of its problems and possibilities. They were chosen because of their unders anding of human nature and its ideals. They come to you in the prime of their ca eers, full of the modern spirit of progre iveness—to help and guide the ambitio —to do things better than they have been one before and to make Chicago the style center of America.

If you have attended other schools and have been disappointed—come to us and learn the right way. We make succ ses out of failures.

FAMOUS READING ANTHRACITE

Buy now, Buy right, Buy Famous Reading Anthracite

EVEN if you've already bought hard coal for this winter, order a few tons of Famous Reading Anthracite in the pea size.

If you haven't ordered yet, ask for two-thirds of your supply in the size you usually use and one-third in pea coal.

You'll save money by using Reading Pea Coal. Burned with larger sizes, you don't have to fire so often. You can regulate your fire to the day's temperature more easily and correctly. You can hold fires even much longer than the larger sizes of Reading Anthracite do alone. You can start up your fires quickly and check them easily.

Order it today, and be ready for any weather. Your coal merchant has it or can get it.

THE NIGHTMARE

By GERALD MYGATT

SYNOPSIS.

Patricia Shane is being entertained in one of New York's night clubs by Fanning Eddgar. She is annoyed by the insulting stare of a hawk-nosed man on the opposite side of the room. In avoiding the stranger's eyes her glance rests upon a good looking young chap seated near the hawklike creature.

At the table with the Hawk are a blonde, coarse looking woman and a slight young fellow who appears to be drunk. The three are discussing Patricia. A moment or two later the head waiter calls young Eddgar away to meet a friend.

INSTALLMENT IV.

THE HAWK MAKES A MISTAKE.

Patricia looked down at her rather lovely slim white hands, wondering idly whether typing actually made them slimmer or heavier and at length deciding with comforting secret satisfaction that typing didn't make any difference at all. Typing did make the forearms better though, somehow tightening the wrist muscles and improving the taper up toward the elbow. That is, some of the girls said so.

She thought about this casually for a moment and then her thoughts drifted vacantly, as drifting thoughts will—from her hands to nothing much, from nothing much to the queer half human profile of Fanning's napkin as it lay there tossed on the tablecloth, from the napkin to nothing much once more, and from nothing much to a blur of that vague egocentric sort of dreaming in which the mind indulges when it ought to be resting and doing nothing.

Young Eddgar must have been gone a full two minutes before Patricia consented to let her gaze trail negligently toward the corner where sat the young man of the straight back, the bronzed skin and the sunny crinkling smile. Naturally, she didn't really look at him; that is, not directly. She had to look somewhere, and if it so happened that she looked near him or past him or perhaps just brushed him with her eyes—well, certainly there was nothing unmaidenly in that.

"Now, why should I be so darned self-conscious all of a sudden about looking at a boy?" Patricia asked herself this question with a tweak of annoyance, reddening a little as she did so. "I've looked at thousands of them," she informed herself stoutly. "Yes, and I've flirted, too." For a moment she made herself feel quite proud that she had flirted; she even managed to smile with a certain zest at her best recollection of the flirting process, which in Patricia's mind brought back a picture of a half dozen girls at one of the tables in the Spearhead pharmacy exchanging smiles with those rare spirits of the Norfolk County Military academy who had dared break bounds and steal in to savor the Saturday afternoon delights of the county's somewhat rural metropolis. Of course, you met them all at the Thanksgiving hop anyway, but still it was flirting to smile at them. Ask any local church woman if it wasn't! And even once or twice since she had been working in New York—well, Patricia was a girl and entirely human.

It was upsetting therefore to find herself so extremely conscious of the good looking boy in the corner, till she remembered with sudden relief that the only real reason she had noticed him at all was because of the obvious comparison between his wholesome, almost radiant masculinity and Fanning Eddgar's less convincing imitation of the same thing. But just as she had this fact catalogued and filed away she upset the whole apple cart of her own reasoning by making a little face and saying to herself, "He hasn't looked at me once—not once." And it was just about then that Patricia caught her breath—or it seemed like catching her breath—because the truth abruptly occurred to her, and the truth was that he was a peach, and she wanted just terribly to have him look at her, and she knew she would never see him again, and it was just too bad, because . . . because. . . .

She smiled a twisted smile and wished she was in a movie—not sitting in a movie theater but in the picture itself, in the story itself. "In the movies," thought Patricia bitterly, "in the movies and in stories it always comes out right. He'd be watching me all the time, and all the time he'd be thinking how beautiful I was or something, and then I'd faint or something—O, shucks! Fat chance. O, well," and she sighed a little sheepishly, "Fanning will be back."

She was vacantly studying her hands again when a shadow fell upon the table, less a shadow, perhaps, than an aura. Patricia smiled automatically and looked up to ask Fanning what had kept him so long and who was it and what had he wanted anyway. Fanning's name was actually upon her lips. She started to say, "Well, Fanning," and then she stopped very suddenly and didn't say anything.

Because the man standing over her, smiling and bowing and rubbing his hands together, one against the other, was nobody else but the hawk-nosed, black-browed man from across the room.

Patricia's eyes photographed him instantaneously and for a perceptible space of seconds her retinas and brain lobes were occupied with developing and printing the picture. A big man he was; bigger than she had dreamed; as big boned as her own father, who was an inch or so over six feet. Evening clothes glossy but mussy. Two diamonds or imitation diamonds in his shirt front; they glittered. His eyes glittered, too. Black eyes. Black eyes that seemed to bulge out, although they really didn't bulge. Maybe the lids opened wider than most people's. Heavy eyebrows, very black. Hair thick and black and dark and rather nondescript. The mouth and chin, oddly enough, didn't seem to photograph at all, though Patricia's memory print recorded a dark mustache. But the nose, the nose photographed itself indelibly. It was a long nose and narrow, with two distinct hooks in the line of the bridge. It was the second hook, down near the narrow tip, that gave the whole face its hawk-like appearance. There was something about the man that made Patricia's skin go a little creepy.

Now she was staring at him blankly.

"I beg your pardon," the man remarked in a suavely modulated voice, "but aren't you here with Mr.—er—Eddgar?"

"I think," said Patricia icily, "I think you have made a mistake." She, too, kept her voice in hand.

Said the man with a peculiar smile. "You have a charming speaking voice, Miss—er—Miss—well, what does it matter? We were speaking at our table of your appearance—I believe this is your first time here, isn't it?—and my companion, Mademoiselle De Suisse, expressed herself as being anxious to meet you. You see——"

Patricia said, "Go away, please."

The man smiled down at her. "O, why," thought the girl agonizingly, "O, why doesn't Fanning come back?" Still the man smiled, again measuring her with his erstwhile calculating, appraising leer. Without actually moving he seemed to move closer. Perhaps his eyes moved closer.

He said, "But your friend Mr. Eddgar seems to have left you alone."

"Please, you leave me alone, too," said Patricia. She was not talking the way they do in books or on the stage. She was talking, she knew, like a boob. But somehow the words wouldn't come the way she wanted them to. As a matter of fact her thoughts wouldn't come the way she wanted them to. It was as if she were paralyzed, incapable of thought, incapable of coherent speech. Oddly she remembered the night when that boy from Kentucky had taken too much to drink and then boasted of his capacity and then tightened the strings of a ukelele until the neck of the ukelele broke. Crack, it went, and broke. Now, all at once, she knew how that uke must have felt.

Patricia rubbed one of her hands across her forehead, and made the disconcerting discovery that she was standing up, leaning back against the wall, edging as far away from the leering hawk-nosed man as she possibly could. She thought: "I must sit down. I must be sensible. I must do something."

It was then that she became aware of another voice. The voice was speaking to her, asking her a question. It came from a person, a man person, who was standing against the other one's elbow.

"Is this man bothering you any?" asked the voice. It was a deep, easy, drawly voice and Patricia's knees bent weakly but comfortably and she sat down. It was good to sit down.

She said: "No, he isn't. I mean he was but he isn't any more. I mean—[illegible]——"

She heard the drawly voice harden and it spoke again, though very quietly. It said, "Trot, you," to the hawk-nosed man; just those two words and nothing else. But for some reason the hawk-nosed man disappeared. Then the owner of the drawly voice sat down in Fanning's chair across the little table from Patricia and the boy of the straight back and the bronzed skin smiled the sweetest, crinkliest smile he had smiled that evening and spoke again.

"The Lord sure sent that polecat straight from heaven," he said. Now he laughed. "Say," he added rather huskily, "all evenin' long I've been studying and studying how I was ever going to make your acquaintance. It had me stumped. I was gettin' real upset, too, because you wouldn't even look my way."

Patricia stared at him and almost gasped.

"Do you mind if I sit here till your friend comes back?" he went on. "It bores me to death and maybe it's better for you. You know, if I was to get up and walk away now——"

"O, please stay," Patricia whispered.

"My name's Kirklin," said the boy. "Jimmy Kirklin. Mother used to call me James, but nobody else ever did, except maybe dad a couple of times when he was real mad. And just nobody ever misters me except the Mex ranch hands, and I want to forget them for a while. What I'm driving' at is—[illegible]——" He broke off, flushing deeply. Then he burst out with: "Say, honest and true you don't mind my sittin' here?"

First Yankee Back as Tokio University Man

Wilfred Jones, Chicago, Is Student Good Will Envoy.

("Fine voyage," Wilfred Jones telegraphed from San Francisco to his father and mother in Chicago, after he landed from the ship that brought him from Japan. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Jones of 5704 Kimbark avenue, who have been missionaries for the Society of Friends in Central America and Cuba, were not surprised by the additional information that it will be ten days or two weeks before his arrival in Chicago, for he is coming from San Francisco by auto. After his graduation in June with a degree in liberal arts, he intends to become a civil engineer. The story of his year as a student in Japan is told in the following dispatch.)

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 19.—Wilfred Jones, a Chicago boy, has completed a year's term in Japan as the first American undergraduate student in the Imperial university here. After a brief lecture tour and a visit to parents and other relatives he will return to Earlham college, a Quaker institution at Richmond, Ind., for his senior year.

WILFRED JONES.

Most of the scholarship fund by which his year's study in Japan was made possible, was given by Earlham students. More than half a hundred students of Tokio Imperial university saw him board the Tenyo Maru in Yokohama on his way to San Francisco. He will tell other collegians about his year in Japan and about its university's methods. He regards a year's experience in the orient as valuable to an American as a similar period in Europe.

On his way across the continent Mr. Jones will stop at West Branch, Ia., the old Hoover home, near which he was born. His grandfather, William Mather, was justice of the peace of West Branch when Herbert Hoover became an orphan.

Before his departure from Tokio young Jones was received for an hour and a quarter by Viscount Ei-Ichi Shibusawa, who is known as "the grand old man of Japan," and was a guest of honor at many dinners. Mr. Jones, who was Indiana intercollegiate champion in tennis in his last year at Earlham, expressed his astonishment at the way tennis is spreading in Japan, and particularly among the women students.

Regarding the life of the Japanese college student as compared with the American Mr. Jones had some interesting comments to make as he left Japan. "They have no general outside activities as a rule," he remarked, "very little social life such as we have in the American colleges, and not much association with the girl students. Most of the students envy the co-education of the American schools, but they say it would not do in Japan.

"As to native merrymaking at the village of Oshima. There the women do all the work and the men take care of the babies and sing the folk songs. The place is so ideal for the men that they pass exclusion laws to keep it from becoming overpopulated."

G. A. R. Keeps Step in Denver Parade, While Only a Few Drop Out

Denver, Colo., Sept. 19.—(AP)—Soldiers who shouldered rifles and answered the call to arms almost seventy years ago passed in review before thousands here today in the sixty-second annual parade of the Grand Army of the Republic.

To a man the white haired warriors of '61 were in step, in most instances scorning proffered help from younger generations. Over a course of seven-eighths of a mile the army marched, its ranks thinned by the passing years. Only a few of the civil war veterans were forced to drop out of the line.

At their head rode George A. Hosely, West Somerville, Mass., chief of staff on a spirited chestnut horse. Behind the fife and drum corps of the Sons of Union Veterans, Jackson, Mich., strode the Illinois department. Every member carried a musket.

Proudly erect, the marchers obeyed the order "eyes right" as they passed the stand in which their commander in chief, Elbridge La Fayette Hawk of Sacramento, Cal., reviewed the parade. Wrinkled hands were raised to visors and post standards dipped smartly while Hawk returned the salutes.

The Long Beach, Cal., drum corps played out "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," when came the standard of the Rhode Island department behind it were only two veterans.

New Hampshire's standard too had only two veterans behind it. Vermont's had eight. Maryland—Michigan—Iowa, on they came. A blue clad soldier from Des Moines carried aloft an ear of corn. Sixty years ago their war had ended, but these men of flagging step had seen American troops march to war twice since then.

It was estimated nearly 2,000 veterans were in the parade, including many who advisedly rode in motor cars.

Thursday will be election day and the second momentous event of the annual encampment—the selection of a new commander in chief will take place. At least four veterans aspire to succeed Commander Hawk.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Mrs. T. L. Usher, 6931 Lowe avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Do you prefer the train or bus for out of town trips?

The Answers.

B. A. Massee, 209 Lake Shore drive, vice president Colgate, Palmolive, Peet company — I prefer the train. I don't like busses at all. In fact, I prefer the airplane. I have done quite a bit of traveling by airplane. No other method of transportation is comparable to it.

Miss M. G. Ostrom, 4428½ Drexel boulevard, real estate—Occasionally I go from Chicago to Milwaukee, and beyond. I prefer the electric railway between Chicago and Milwaukee. I use busses to points beyond, and they are all right for short trip. All railroads should electrify their lines as soon as possible.

Nicholas Soemmichsen, 5343 Bishop street, elevator constructor—I prefer the bus. It is less tiresome than the train. There is less dust. A train follows a straight path regardless of the scenery. The busses run over well constructed roads into the byways and beauty spots; they pass through the small but interesting villages.

Mrs. E. R. Davis, 1464 East 67th street, bookkeeper — I prefer the train for long distances. Busses serve well for short trips. Trains are faster than busses, and they have attractive club cars and time saving dining cars and sleeping coaches.

M. D. Brennan, 6324 Evans avenue, retired — I prefer the train for long trips, and the bus for short trips. I suppose busses are all right for long trips if one has the time. But it is not often that one is in the mood to take a long time.

Brunettes Are Preferred, Is Ziegfeld's Word Here

The impresario of pulchritude admitted as much yesterday as he caught a train for New York. But not every brunette — not even just any brunette. You can't be ordinary and still incorporate the Ziegfeld requisites for the perfect beauty. But if you look like this, girls, rest assured that you are Ziegfeld's ideal type:

Hair, smooth and black. Eyes, dark. Skin, gardenia fair. Figure, slender but not extraordinary so. There must be a nice suggestion of curves. Height, medium. And last but not least, a madonnalike charm of manner. That's all.

Since 1892, Ziegfeld said yesterday, he has looked over about 500,000 girls. How many of those, or how few fulfilled his ideal, he did not say.

Radio Helps Music Sales, Dealer Says at Meeting

Invention of the radio has resulted in boosting the sales of sheet music and of musical instruments, it was declared yesterday by Gurney R. Brownell, a member of the Illinois Music Merchants' association, in session at the Palmer house. Seventy-five delegates, made up of music sellers and manufacturers of instruments, are attending the convention.

THEATER

MAXWELL ANDERSON, known to Chicago as author of "Saturday's Children" and co-author with Laurence Stallings of "What Price Glory!" has written a play based on the Sacco-Vanzetti case; and indications are that the piece will soon be submitted to the public. At first called "Gods of the Night," the title has been changed to "Gods of the Lightning." Mr. Anderson has worked in this case with a collaborator, Harold Hickerson, whose name is new to me. Charles Bickford, an actor whom I have had reason to praise here because of performing by him witnessed in New-York, is to be in the principal rôle: he isn't, I believe, known in Chicago.

"Hell on Wheels" and "The Sea-Wife" are two other new plays by Mr. Anderson; and both, it is said, have been taken for production.

"Excess Baggage," which with the start of the month finished a half year run here, is to be put on October 14 by the Dudley Players in the Kedzie, where the cast will include Miss Charlotte Learn and Miss Dorothy Martin in the respective rôles they had in the Garrick—the mother and daughter billed as the Ford Sisters. . . . The Messrs. Shubert did not carry the Chicago cast of the piece beyond last Saturday night, when it was disbanded in Detroit. The reason was, doubtless, the expected effect on the box-office of the like-named movie.

Report from the Blackstone is that the number of subscribers for the eight weeks of the Theater Guild is in excess of five thousand. The number for last year in the Studebaker was about eleven hundred; and, taking everything into consideration, that was a remarkable achievement. For one thing, the Guild started last year without an approved or checked-up list of prospects. For another, it had the heavy handicap imposed in the use of its title by various societies of amateurs and by some commercial operators. That it should be facing its second Chicago venture with an increase in subscribers of virtually four hundred percent is a higher tribute to the success of the Guild in Chicago than anything that may be printed in formal laudation of the performances and of what is just as important as good performances—a sane and logical process of doing business with the public.

James Barton, there last Spring, is to return to the Palace as next week's headliner. Clayton, Jackson, and Durante are to be held over; and it is fair to assume that this will prove a good move. They were unknown when, last Sunday, they started their engagement, so that their names meant nothing at the box-office—save, perhaps, as there may be others who, as I, had seen them in a New-York night-club.

The leavening presence in town of George M. Cohan is noted; and his visit has for its uncommon object the chore of speeding on their impending journeys the respective plays of "Elmer the Great," "Whispering Friends," and "By Request."

Mr. Ziegfeld sends explanation that he has reconsidered the project of putting together a second cast for "Show-Boat," saying that the principal reason is the defection of Paul Robeson, who is in the London cast of the piece. Robeson's character is Joe; and its importance resides in that to it is assigned the song of "Old Man River," the musical hit of Jerome Kern's good score. Jules Bledsoe has the part in the New-York cast. . . . Mr. Ziegfeld's change of plan releases Raymond Hitchcock, who had been named for Captain Andy, the rôle acted in New-York by Charles Winninger.

Tunney to Wed Polly Lauder While in Italy

She Adopts Marguerite's Dress from "Faust."

[Copyright: 1928: By The News, New York.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—En route to Italy to complete final preparations for his surprise wedding there, Gene Tunney, retired world's heavyweight champion, confided to intimate friends here that he will be married to Miss Josephine (Polly) Lauder, steel heiress, on Oct. 5, in a romantic little Roman Catholic chapel in Sorrento, Italy, across the bay from Naples.

Miss Lauder, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Lauder; her sister, Mrs. Edwin Storrs Deming, and a wedding party of about twenty, including Henry C. Rowland, novelist; Mrs. Percy Rockefeller and her two daughters, and other intimates of the family, will sail from New York at midnight Friday.

The greatest secrecy has surrounded the sailing plans of the Lauder party and quiet Sorrento was selected as the place of the wedding with a view to avoiding publicity as far as possible.

Despite all the elaborate plans, however, the romantic enthusiasm of a friend close to Tunney has revealed to an interested public the place where and the date on which the son of a stevedore will wed the heiress to one of America's $50,000,000 fortunes.

It also has become known that while Polly was a student at Versailles last year she met in Paris a handsome 25 year old Philadelphia social registerite. He was much smitten and followed her home.

According to Gene, Polly, while waiting for his retirement from the prize ring before she announced her engagement, merely was polite to the Philadelphian. The young man was said to have been crushed by the news of her engagement to the champion.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—When Polly Lauder sails Friday midnight for her wedding in Italy to Mr. Tunney she will take with her a trousseau valued at $40,000. Included in it is a $10,000 mink coat, the lining of which is beautifully embroidered with 16 inch script letters forming her new monogram, "P. L. T."

For the ceremony, she will not wear the conventional white satin of young brides, nor a veil of misty tulle. Instead she has striven for an effect in her wedding costume that will make her resemble as nearly as possible the character of Marguerite in Goethe's "Faust," that romantic opera in which Marguerite is loved by Dr. Faust during his one day of returned youth, the gift of Mephistopheles.

Instead of a veil Miss Lauder will wear a jeweled cap of pearls.

Miss Lauder's sister, Mrs. Edwin Storrs Deming, who probably will be her only attendant, has selected for her gown a Chanel model of red chiffon, over which she will wear a red velvet coat. Thornton Wilder, the novelist, likely will be best man.

The wedding will be a simple ceremony, performed in an inconspicuous chapel. In deference to the papal edict on modesty in dress particular attention is being paid to the neck lines of all the gowns being made for the wedding party, so that they shall conform to the principles of modesty set by Pope Pius.

In Miss Lauder's trousseau are 48 dinner and evening dresses, four ensemble costumes, a beaver coat and the mink coat, gloves worth $600, lingerie costing $800, and shoes from Frank, the theatrical bootmaker, to match every costume.

The Tunneys will travel abroad for a year before they return to the little Greenwich, Conn., home which Gene recently bought for his bride. During that time Polly's mother and her brother, George, will make their home in Italy.

All the wedding plans have been made by Gene since he arrived in Europe. Reservations have been made for Oct. 1 for the wedding party at the Tramontano hotel in Sorrento, whose prices are on a par with those of the Ritz in Paris.

Although the wedding is now scheduled for Oct. 5, Miss Lauder is emphatic in her intention to postpone the nuptials until a later time if the weather then should be hot.

FARM and GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

Gardening enthusiasm got up so much speed in and around Chicago this summer that it has enough momentum to go on through the winter. Many persons think of gardening time as summer time, but there are about as many, if not more, men, women and children in the flower growing business in winter as in summer. Summer gardening is limited chiefly to those who have outdoor plots while in winter flowers can be grown in practically every home in and out of the city.

Hyacinths, narcissi, crocuses, snowdrops, tulips, are among the indoor flowers grown from bulbs that can be used to produce blossoms in winter. Ferns, geraniums, cycalmen, primroses, cinerarias, indoor chrysanthemums, begonias, and fuchsias are only a few of the house plants that are used on window benches in winter. English ivy, ivy geranium, wandering Jew, periwinkle [vinca major] Kenilworth ivy, German ivy are good vines for indoors. They are used in baskets and window boxes.

Roman hyacinths make fine indoor blooming plants. Little bulbous plants, such as the snowdrop, grape hyacinth, crocus and scillias usually are safe in the hands of an amateur house plant grower. Pteris fern is a good one for indoors, in fact, it is considered by some to be the best under adverse conditions. The Boston fern is a standby.

Mrs. Jos. G. Coleman, Back from California, Plans Winter Activities

BY THALIA

It's all very well to talk about the impending season, with its calendar crammed full of dates, but you don't get the feeling that things are really starting to hum until such vibrant personalities as Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, possessed of boundless enthusiasm and energy, come back to town. Mrs. Coleman is just returned from a summer at Santa Barbara, Cal., which she and Mr. Coleman found perfectly enjoyable. She's chockful of plans and pep for the various civic, charitable, and social projects with which she's identified. She thinks the new Passavant hospital, at the corner of Superior and Fairbanks court, is quite the most marvelous thing in the world, and she's tremendously thrilled with the new Casino and optimistic about its early completion.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, one of the most beloved members of society here, is also back after a long absence abroad, and she claims that Chicago looks very good to her. She goes to her country place at Oconomowoc, Wis., on Saturday to stay for two or three weeks while her apartment at 999 Lake Shore drive is being straightened, and she anticipates having a large party of her family and friends with her the week-end after this. The Lester Armours, the Philip D. Armours, some of her grandchildren, and she hopes, lots of others, are to be there. Her son and daughter-in-law, the young Pat Valentines, saw her off in London on her return sailing, and are now in Paris until Oct. 1, when they start on their tour around the world. They go first to Algiers, and they are to be in Egypt for December and India for January. They won't come to Chicago until a year has rolled around since their marriage in London last May.

The marriage of Miss Harriot Houghteling of 12 Scott street to Dr. Charles S. Curtis of St. Anthony, Newfoundland, is to take place today at Miss Houghteling's summer place at Fitzwilliam, N. H. The wedding is to be a small one, with only relatives and close friends attending, and Dr. Curtis and his bride are to depart for a wedding trip around the world. The James Lawrence Houghtelings, the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Hermon Beardsley Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tuttle, and William Houghteling of San Francisco are to be present.

Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick opened her residence and dispensed her usual hospitality yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the Chicago branch of the League of American Pen Women, and the retiring national president, Mrs. Grace Thompson Seton, who spoke and read from her own poems. The program also included "Day Dreams," a composition by Phyllis Fergus (Mrs. Thatcher Hoyt), sung by Margaret McKay Gent. Tea was served in the dining room following the program.

Miss Lillian Dudley's debut dress in which she appeared for the reception given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carleton Dudley, yesterday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock at the Ambassador East was of pale green chiffon, and her bouquet was of orchids. Mrs. Dudley wore powder blue chiffon. The assistants were Miss Ellinor Durbin, Miss Betty Frey Miss Jean Purcell, Miss Jean Stevens, and Miss Isabel Greenlee. The Dudleys gave a dinner-dance for Miss Dudley, her assistants and their escorts at the Drake following the reception. Miss Dudley is to leave on Sept. 25 for Smith college.

The Drama league has sent out cards for its first distinguished luncheon of the season to take place at the Stevens hotel on Oct. 2 at 12:30 o'clock. The distinguished guests will be members of the Theater Guild's company for "Arms and the Man," including Alfred Lunt, Miss Lynn Fontanne, Ernest Cossart, Miss Hortense Alden, Elliot Cabot, Miss Jane Wheatley, Hannam Clark, and Leonard Loan. Walter Pritchard Eaton is to act as toastmaster and will speak for the directors of the Theater guild. The distinguished guest committee is in charge of the arrangements.

It seems to me that Wilbur C. Smith, son of Mrs. Theodore White Smith of 24 Scott street is an example of more than usually considerate brotherly love. He plans to give a number of dinner and theater parties for his sister, Miss Theodosia Smith, who is one of the debutantes, and is beginning his program with an affair tomorrow evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift of 1551 Astor street and their family, who have been at Watch Hill, R. I., for the summer, are due back in town about Oct. 5.

Mrs. Giacomo Benello, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lytton in Highland Park, has as her guest, Miss Gertrude Fearing of New York City, formerly of Highland Park, daughter of Joseph L. Fearing.

The Robert Donald Forgans of Highland Park have returned from their summer place at Hyannisport on Cape Cod, Mass.

Mrs. Hal Crompton Bangs of 1336 State parkway is visiting friends in Lexington, Ky., from where she plans to go to New Haven with her son, Hal Jr., who is entering Yale university.

Mrs. Belleville Dickinson is to return in early October from Rydalmount, her summer place at St. Joseph, Mich., and will open her apartment at 1353 North State street for the winter. Her daughter, Miss Rose Dickinson will be with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Peacock-Smith of 5429 Hyde Park boulevard announce the birth of a daughter, Marion Louise, on Sept. 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hollins who have been visiting Mrs. Hollins' mother, Mrs. Lawrence Hallberg, at the Ambassador East are to leave next Tuesday for Washington, D. C., and are to sail on Sept. 27 on their return to London.

Mrs. Robert H. Morse of 418 Roscoe street has returned from a summer spent in Europe. Her daughter, Miss Barbara Morse has returned from Shoochumuk, a dude ranch near Banff, and John Morse was with his father, Col. Robert H. Morse at Minocqua, Wis.

Mrs. C. B. Willey of 1120 Lake Shore drive has returned from St. Louis, Mo., where she took her niece, Josephine Micheli, to enter the Principia school there.

Miss Lillian Dudley was presented to society at a reception from 4 to 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carleton Dudley at the Ambassador East.

NEW YORK SOCIETY.

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Bernon S. Prentice will give a coming out dance for their daughter, Miss Clare Prentice, at the Ritz on Thursday evening, Dec. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor have returned to the Plaza after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fitzsimons at Newport for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman T. Whitehead Jr., who passed the summer at Woodmere, are at the Ambassador. Mrs. Whitehead was before her marriage in June Miss Cathleen Gruner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sargeant Cram and Mrs. Edith B. Cram have come from Newport and will be at the Sherry-Netherland for the fall and winter.

Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon has returned to her apartment at the Plaza, after a summer at Newport.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

A Strange Sight.

I have the habit, in the afternoons at the office when I am alone, of cold creaming my nose and putting on a fresh layer of powder, thereby making myself feel much fresher. One afternoon, just after having applied a generous amount of cream to my nose, the telephone rang and I answered it, during which time my boss came walking in unexpectedly.

Forgetting my grease covered nose, I turned to him to answer a question and saw him look at me in a queer way at which time I finally recalled, to my horror, what I had been doing before the phone had interrupted me. Needless to say, I hurriedly wiped the cream from my nose and applied more powder, embarrassed but a little relieved that no one had accompanied my boss. I. L. S.

Bright Sayings of the Children

My small niece, Emily, was visiting an older cousin and took great interest in examining the articles on her dresser, among which was a perfume atomizer.

When she came out of the room her mother sniffed suspiciously and asked her what she had been into and she replied, "I was just using a little of that free air in there." N. B.

Odd Fellows Pick Houston.

MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—(AP)—The 1929 convention of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held in Houston, Tex., it was decided at the closing session of the present convention.

Cardinal Mundelein Will Dedicate a Church Sunday

Cardinal Mundelein, assisted by a number of Chicago clergy, will officiate next Sunday at the dedication of the new St. Symphorosa's church and school in Clearing, at West 62d street and Austin avenue. The parish of St. Symphorosa was formed a little more than a year ago, and the new Catholic church is the first ever to be built there. The Rev. J. L. Sharp is pastor.

Assisting Cardinal Mundelein will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Peter L. Bierman of Evanston, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Peter F. Shrewbridge of Auburn Park, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. J. Quille, the Rev. T. E. O'Shea, the Rev. James M. Leddy, and the Rev. Charles McDonough of Our Lady of Solace church, who will preach the dedicatory sermon.

Court Ruling Lifts Girl from Poverty to Million

Frank Martin of Boise Grand Sire of Odd Fellows

MONTREAL, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Frank Martin of Boise, Idaho, yesterday was elected grand sire of the Independent Order of Oddfellows. Mrs. Bertha Willis of Wichita, Kas., was elected president of the Association of Rebekah Assemblies. Mrs. Amelia E. Blank of San Antonio, Tex., named vice president; Mrs. Josie Morrow, Jacksonville, Fla., secretary, and Miss Minnie Bachtel of Canton, O., treasurer. The next convention will be held at Houston, Tex.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The deep V opening in the front, finished with a vestee, makes this design suitable for most figures, for it breaks the width through the bodice for the stout woman and has a tendency to lengthen the silhouette for the short woman. The plaits at the sides add a softening touch. A new combination—that of printed crêpe satin with the dull side of plain satin crêpe for trimming—is pictured. Flat silk crêpe, sheer tweed, or jersey, and the printed and plain velvets are smart materials.

The pattern, 3432, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 40 inch material, with ⅜ yard of 27 inch plain and 1¾ yards of 1¼ inch wide ribbon and 2¼ yards of binding.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Jardine have gone to New York for a few days.

Mrs. Hull, wife of Representative William E. Hull of Peoria, and little Miss Yvonne Forrest, arrived in Washington today from Peoria. Miss Forrest spent the summer with Representative and Mrs. Hull, and has joined her parents here, Mr. and Mrs Wilbur F. Forrest, the latter a niece of Mrs. Hull.

Wharton Hoch, son of Representative and Mrs. Hoch has sailed for England for a special course of study before returning to Northwestern university.

Miss Emelie Darneille Steele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Steele, and John Dudley Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Keith of Maysville, Ky., were married this evening. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the Hotel Brighton. There Mr. and Mrs. Steele have an apartment; the Rev. George Fiske Dudley, rector of St. Stephen's church officiating. A reception, with dancing followed. The bride's family have lived in Georgetown for five generations, her mother, Mrs. Steele, having been married in the same room of the family home that her great-great-grandmother, Harriet Harry, married William Williams. Mrs. Steele's great aunt was Mme. Bodisco, wife of the Russian minister to Washington many years ago.

Rostand Changing Play to Fit the Entente Cordiale

PARIS, Sept. 19.—(AP)—Maurice Rostand's new play, "Napoleon IV." has raised such a storm of international criticism that the author has begun to modify lines blaming England and Queen Victoria for the death of the only son of Napoleon III. French papers were so bitterly critical of the play that English authorities are reported to be satisfied that protests from them are not needed.

One alteration was the change of a phrase referring to the alleged death plot from "That is the English manner" to "That is the common way."

Why Worry About His Being a "Real" Boy? Sure He Will

Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

"In the light of my superior wisdom," said the mother of four to me, "I have to smile at those parents who are so afraid their boys will not be masculine enough.

"Sometimes I see a father who forces pugnacity on his boys because he fears they won't have all the—so called—manly attributes.

"Sometimes I see a mother who is a widow or who is rearing a son with the help of her mother or sister, who lives in fear that her boy will grow up to merit that opprobrious term 'sissy.'

◆

"I wish they knew how little they need worry about that. Just count over the men you know who fulfill every ideal of masculinity and who were brought up by women. They are legion.

"And to show how inherent the attributes of sex are, take my own case. My only little girl was born into a family of three boys of all ages—one near her age, the other two older.

"Her father and I have been simply fascinated to see the signs of her—well, I was going to say—invincible feminity. From the very beginning she has been entirely 'little girl.'

"Did she become a tomboy or intensely mechanical, or free and easy, because she had brothers around her? She did not.

◆

"She is interested in clothes for herself, in her looks, in keeping clean, in housewifely helping. And her whole demeanor—her carriage of herself and her mannerisms—are just as feminine as they can be.

"All this worrying for fear a boy will become effeminate and a girl rough and tomboyish in an objectionable sense are wasted. Nature takes care of that."

Given normal bodies and normal minds and sane treatment, the boy will be a real boy and the girl a real girl, regardless of whether there is a preponderance of masculine or feminine influence at work upon them.

Doris Advises Frank Discussion of Money Matters

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Recently in the news columns the numbers of people arrested for appropriating money not belonging to them seems to be increasing. For a run of two weeks there was scarcely a day without a headline proclaiming the downfall of such and such a trusted employé.

Keeping-up-with-the-Joneses has become the stock explanatory phrase. Invariably the accused is a man of standing in his community. Several particularly unfortunate falls from grace and respectability were made by men known to be devoted husbands and fathers.

One wonders, while deeply moved to sympathy over the weaknesses with which humanity has to battle, just what were the money relations between these men and their wives, and whether the wives were in full knowledge of the remunerative rewards of their husbands' positions. Were they deceived deliberately by their husbands in the latters' desire to prove themselves as able providers to a next door neighbor? And how often men are driven to defalcations because of nagging demands from wives and children?

Anyway, it is a cruel morning to awaken to when your husband's photograph and his crime are run in early editions. It's a bitter day for the poor youngsters when they have to go forth and face the neighborhood children.

I'll wager, among the disgraced there is rarely found a man whose wife is allowed the privilege of sharing the money secrets. Can you visualize a couple who talk over their income and expenditures honestly and without rancor ever having disgrace of the kind mentioned brought upon them?

It's the popular thing for friends of the man to blame the extravagant wife. Perhaps she was extravagant—but extravagant because she was not taken into honest confidence about the salary of her husband. Without a definite allowance, without a good natured reckoning to be made of her share of the spending, a woman simply has no impetus to keep her wants down to the limit of a moderate income.

The lack of honesty over money matters in domestic situations does create the most appalling disturbances. Whether the recent examples of the publicly disgraced will bestir wives and husbands to a squarer understanding of where money is coming from and going to is doubtful. But with the rapidly increasing numbers of couples who are trying-to-keep-up-with-the-Joneses it's a thought worth serious consideration.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Thoughtless.

"Dear Miss Blake: The boy I love comes to see me but he never takes me out. PETSY."

Is it fair to take up your time and make no return? He may not have much money, but there are ways of showing one's appreciation.

BY JEANETTE EATON.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Had Joseph lived in the present era he might have been jealous of his sister. For she can have a coat with as many colors as his own. Indeed, for sports clothes and sweaters, also, color combinations were never more brilliantly assembled. Some of the recent novelty goods, both imported and domestic, sponsor a blend of two shades of brown with green and navy blue. Mulberry, fuchsia, and lime represent another delicious mixture. Tweed and jersey and novelty cashmere present these fascinating tonal harmonies and nothing is more delightful for sports-coat material.

On the other hand, street wraps this fall are more apt to select broadcloth as a medium. And you'd have to be, indeed, an old fashioned girl if you continued to associate this fabric with black. Nowadays it appears in lovely shades of gray and beige, which look youthful as well as elegant. One charming model in gray broadcloth diversifies its straight line cut by a spiral trimming of blue fox which descends from the neck, diagonally crosses the front of the coat near the hem, and curves entirely round the hem-line in tha back.

Above we are showing an interesting model for formal afternoon wear. Here, also, broadcloth is chosen in a warm tint of beige, which beautifully accords with the fur trimming of mink. The latter appears as a deep shoulder cape, with standing collar and shawl effect all in one. The long piece descends to the bottom of the coat, which, by means of an inset, is flared in front. The accompanying hat is one of those close fitting shapes and is made of felt with insets of matching broadcloth.

Politicians On Air Programs Impress Elmer

Finds Oratory Instead of Usual Music.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

To ears long accustomed to listening to music, the present flood of political oratory sounds like a new and strange element in radio. Yet there is a seriousness about the political addresses that makes one feel the personal weight and responsibility of each one of us as citizens and voters. Thus, through these speeches we are lead to realize that radio is a practical utility.

We are accustomed to startling radio announcements, yet I do not recall hearing a more strange sounding one than this seemingly ordinary pronouncement introductory to the New York broadcast through W-G-N, 9:30 to 10: "This program is sponsored by the Democratic national committee in the interest of the Smith-Robinson ticket." Henry Morganthau, diplomat and philanthropist, was the speaker. Music by a studio orchestra.

Senator William E. Borah, on the Republican side of the fence, gave an address occupying a full hour, from Detroit, through WMAQ, at 9 o'clock.

* * *

Yet more about oratory: Once a week, New York program through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30, we have the privilege of listening to and marvelling at the fancyful announcing introductory to the musical numbers. That Phillips Carlin is the announcer is not important because his lines are read from manuscript and he reads them well indeed.

The music in this program is very light, but, light though it be, it takes those New Yorkers to put quality and finish in everything they do.

* * *

Had it been a longer concert I probably would have much to say favorably for the Chicago Musical Arts quartet, WLS at 9 o'clock. It is a mixed quartet; program material excellent.

Twenty-five minutes of the happy, easy to enjoy, classical type was afforded by the playing of Hayden's string quartet in G minor from KYW at 9:30.

VIOLENT CRIMES ON INCREASE IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Crime in greater New York, involving homicile, felonious assaults, and burglary, has been increasing steadily since last year, Police Commissioner Warren revealed today in releasing figures pertaining to activities of the police department.

The relation of arrests to the number of complaints in terms of percentage were: In 1928, 46.9 per cent; in 1927, 33.3 per cent, and in 1926, 41.9 per cent. Thus:

Murder or manslaughter..	85	67	72
Felonious assaults........	629	511	555
Assault and robbery.....	275	207	284
Burglary	858	826	854
Total	1,847	1,611	1,765

The commissioner's report states that five gangs of robbers were apprehended during the period just ending, thus clearing up fifty-one robberies committed with the aid of weapons. This brought additional sentences of five years each to the offenders under the Baumes law.

CHARGE EFFORT FREE CITY AID IN MORON CASE

It was charged yesterday that efforts were being made to have a criminal case dropped against Ervin Bauer, 34 years old, 2216 Addison street, an employé of the city health department, who was arrested last Friday charged with mistreating a 9 year old girl. Bernard Toussaint, 3415 North Hamilton avenue, uncle of the girl victim, said six persons telephoned him Saturday asking him to drop the charges. One of those who telephoned said he was employed in the office of the board of local improvements.

Bauer was arraigned in court Monday. Judge T. H. Miller, sitting temporarily on the Municipal bench, continued the case until Sept. 25. In the meantime, Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel suspended Bauer from the department.

Saltis Still Hiding Out in Wisconsin, Police Told

Joe Saltis, beer baron and charter member of the "I gotta drag" club, 123 now a fugitive for 123 days from Chicago police, is still hiding out in Wisconsin, according to word reaching Chicago yesterday. Saltis is scheduled to appear before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson on Sept 25 to answer an old bootlegging charge, and is being sought by Chicago police to serve a sixty days' Bridewell sentence and pay a $50 fine for gun toting.

YOU ASKED ABOUT INDIAN SUMMER? HERE'S ITS STORY

Though Indian summer is given no scintific recognition by meteorologists, there is seldom a year when that happy respite from the approach of winter is missing, C. A. Donnel, assistant chief meteorologist of the Chicago weather bureau, said yesterday. His statement was made in answer to numerous inquiries about Indian summer received at the bureau.

From his bookcase came the following description of the false summer which arrives either late in October or in November:

"In the midst of early cold days, when there has been heavy frost at night and ice has formed of mornings, and there has been a bleak and stormy weather, there comes a reprieve from winter, a brief but glorious interlude of warmth and balminess."

There is no set time for it, Mr. Donnel declared, but it usually comes after a period of killing frosts. There is little wind and the atmosphere becomes hazy from the smoke of burning leaves. The similarity of the haze to the smoke of Indian fires is one of the reasons given for the season's name. Another is that the Indians depended on it as a time for final preparations for winter.

DETROIT LABOR LEADER SOUGHT FOR EXTORTION

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 19.—[Special.]—Following the issuance of a warrant late today by Judge W. M. Skillman, several detectives were told to bring in Frank X. Martel, president of the Detroit Federation of Labor, who is charged with extortion by threats.

At the labor leader's home, Mrs. Martel said her husband was in Chicago.

The warrant is based on testimony of Manuel Jacoby, president of Jacoby's French Cleaners and Dyers, Inc., at the recent trial of his brother, Charles C. Jacoby, and nine alleged members of the so-called Purple gang.

It was testified at the trial by Jacoby that Martel's home was stench bombed in 1926 while Charles Jacoby was out of the city. Martel, Manuel said, called him to his office, told him that Charles was responsible for the bombing, and demanded $500 from him for the damage, threatening that if the money were not paid he would call a strike the next day in the Jacoby plant.

Wars Over, Irish Turning to Sports, Editor Says

T. W. "Now that war is out of fashion, your truculent Irishman is turning to sports as a safety valve," he said.

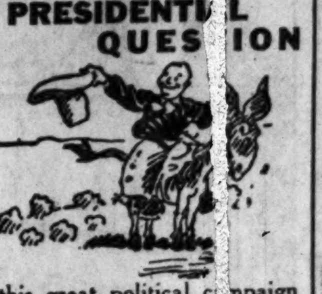
AND THIS PRESIDENTIAL QUESTION



IN this great political campaign in which a man's party affiliations are determined by the make of car he drives, there are sides and sides to be talked about. Both the Republican and Democratic nominees' speeches are to be broadcast through W-G-N. Herbert Hoover will be on the air at 7:30. Other Republican speakers make their radio appearance at 8 o'clock. At 9:30 the G. O. P. elephant is to be replaced by the famous old mule at W-G-N, and Al Smith will take the microphone at Oklahoma City, Okla., where he is in the midst of a campaign tour.

THE RADIO FLOORWALKER

SHARP eyes has the Radio Floorwalker, and he has to have. Not at all for shoplifters, but for the best [illegible] and where you may find them. He knows just the best place to find those printed velvet gowns, those snappy hats that don't muss your wind-blown bob when you put them on, and where to go while you're out to lunch. He just makes a mental note of these things as he wanders from bar to bar (of music, of course, silly!) and then throws you the hint as he announces. Listen, 7 o'clock.

You're Warned Not to Go In for Painful Facial Operations

by Antoinette Donnelly

Now come the desperate letters about freckles.

The warnings that were not heeded about face protection have small place in the remedial suggestions now. So we won't indulge in any I told you so. But these inquiries about having face peeling done so that no trace of life's dark brown polka dots will show get me a bit worried.

The temptation to experiment with any new cure, remedy, or beautifier is understandable. That sane women will start out, haggle with the grocer over weights and measurements, quality and freshness; or with the meat man over the high price of liver, and then come home loaded down with jars, potions, bottles, and promises of a new face inside of a month is a bit of a strain on credulity. But they do. We do, I should say. And, believe my true confession, when I admit a sister's simple, trusting faith in a label's promises.

The grocer will try to sell me some new brand of something. I stick to the old and tried, telling him kindly that I never heard of the product he's offering me. But not so conservative am I in the face of a beautifully gotten up container whose label insists that a few trials and my physiog will no longer give me aught but pleasure as I gaze upon it. Sisters under and atop the skin, aren't we all? BUT——

Face peeling. It's a process of burning off your outer skin with chemicals. The pink layer is exposed. It's painful and there is risk. Its painfulness can be judged by the uninitiated from the pain of a small section on a burned finger. When you have skin break on your finger you're careful to prevent infection. Well, when the outer covering of your face is peeled, the dangers from infection naturally are multiplied per comparative skin area. Is it tender? Is the skin uncovered by a hangnail tender?

◆

The women who go through with it are made of stronger martyr stuff than I. It's often necessary to remain in a dark room several days when the operation is done. Lights are unendurable and air not too comfortable! A good freckle remedy seems so much preferable, every way.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

G. K. L.: TO PRESERVE THE texture of the skin of the hands, wash with pure soap and warm water—not hot water. When drying, rub the nails toward the hand. This helps to keep the cuticle from growing over them. Send a stamped, addressed envelope for my booklet on care of the hands.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Veal Chops and Cutlets.

Probably no native born American can claim to be really expert in veal cookery, although veal loaf was once a great Yankee favorite, and the Yankee housewife knew other ways of using a knuckle of veal effectively. As to veal cookery, we must go to Austria, which has made the Wiener Schnitzel—such a simple thing—so famous, or to Germany to learn it.

As for me, I like veal best with a tomato sauce, and as this is the time of year when tomato sauces are most seasonable as to quality and price, perhaps we will serve our cutlets prepared as follows: Cut the veal into small rounds and roll it in well seasoned flour, using enough flour so that there will be two tablespoons per cup for each cup of sauce or gravy made.

Have a little hot fat in the frying pan—salt pork fat is superior—surely hot enough so that there will be a sizzling when the pieces of veal are put in it. Put the leftover flour at one side of the pan. The fire under the pan must not be so hot that the surface of the meat will be cooked a deep brown, or practically burned, during the five minutes per side that should be allowed for the cooking. At the end of the ten minutes, take up the meat, put in the tomato juice (you may use milk instead), stir till it thickens, put back the meat and let the whole cook for ten minutes.

My idea of how to cut the pieces of meat is that they should be small enough so that a good sized slice of toast would hold two of them.

If milk instead of tomato juice is used for the sauce or gravy around the chops, the meat may be almost like sweetbreads, if cooked gently, and in this case it is a good plan to sauté a few mushrooms separately and add to the meat at the last.

The Wiener Schnitzel are dipped in flour first, then in egg, and then in bread crumbs, but first they are not only cut thin but beaten thinner and seasoned with salt. These thin slices are not fried in deep fat exactly, but in enough fat to cover, which is something else again, and if not managed well is a terribly poor way of cooking anything. The pan oiled only to prevent sticking, enables one to broil on a surface, as it were.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Husband Out of Work.

"I have five children and my husband has been out of work for three months. I am badly in need of a gas stove which I cannot afford to buy and hope that you will be able to help me get one. My boy, 6 years old, need shoes and clothing for school and I have nothing to wear. I wear size 38 and shoes size 5B. If you can help me a bit I will be most grateful.

"MRS. G. H."

Unemployment has been the problem in this household and the accompanying want has been hard to bear. However, if we can supply the much needed gas stove and wearing apparel for the mother and son it will be some relief.

◆

Slip Covers to Give.

"I have a good set of slip covers which should fit the ordinary size overstuffed furniture. We are getting new ones and I'll be glad to give them to one of your readers."

Here's a nice offer, indeed, and one to cover a multitude of defects in the worn set of furniture. If you think they will fit yours, write me for them; please do not telephone.

WANTED.
MEN WHO CAN WORK THEIR BRAINS HONESTLY.

Serious minded people are aware of the many opportunities Chicago offers to those that are inclined to apply brain labor in preference to manual labor.

Chicago's foremost successful men are of mediocre calibre. They are not the "Know-it-all smart alecks."

HARRY L. BECK,
Rm. 660 1st Natl. Bank Bldg.

Announcing New Plan Salary.

Metropolitan Realty Co. will pay without restrictions a salary of $35 per week to full time sales representatives and $15 to part time salesmen.

A substantial bonus will be added for production. To qualify, it is necessary to be over 25 years of age, be able to furnish 3 references as to honesty and willingness to work as directed. We prefer people without real estate experience as we get better results with those trained in the successful Metropolitan way.

20 people will be hired each week and there will be selected from the applicants only those willing to devote 1 full week to training for the position. No salary will be paid during the 1st week of training, but begins on the 2d week for those selected.

Special evening classes will be arranged for part time workers. A real opportunity for earnest men. Apply in person at 10 a. m., 1 p. m., or 7:30 p. m., sharp, today.

SHERIDAN ROAD
Beautiful views of Lincoln Park, Belmont Yacht Harbor and the Lake. Some very choice four and five room apartments are available in this new 12 story fireproof building. They are real homes; not of the ordinary cramped apartment hotel type. The building itself has an air of conservation and respectability and it is the highest endeavor of the management to maintain this atmosphere.
There are certain what we call "Hidden Features" such as our refrigeration system, laundries, lockers, the service, etc., which help make this a delightful place to live.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

Supposing circumstances made it necessary for you to obtain a second mortgage on your home, and with the least possible delay.

Would you know where you could "get the most for your money," or would you be a prey of circumstances and possibly pay an exorbitant charge?

The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, acting as agent, has a well organized department where appraisals are made promptly, and the details involving a second mortgage transaction are handled with dispatch.

$35.00 PER $1,000 FOR 1 YEAR.
65.00 PER $1,000 FOR 2 YEARS.
90.00 PER $1,000 FOR 3 YEARS.

Come in and talk the matter over with us. You may not be in the market for a second mortgage today, but we may be able to serve you later on.
